OIL CASE TO JURY TODAY

Sinclair Trial Arguments End

Roberts, Federal Prosecutor, Brands Story of Ranch Investment "Lie"

Fall Deposition, Withheld as Evidence, Sealed by Presiding Judge

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Six hours of attack and defense of Harry F. Sinclair today brought his trial for conspiracy up to a point where only the court's charge remains to be given before the jury can retire to decide upon its verdict.

Justice Jennings Bailey, presiding, plans to read his charge when court opens tomorrow and the case should be in the hands of the jury before noon.

It was a day of divided emotion in the small, crowded courtroom and as Martin W. Littleton concluded his closing argument he made an impassioned plea that the jury find Sinclair not guilty, not only for himself, but for his family, who sat in the front row of the spectators' section.

Owen J. Roberts, special government prosecutor, opened the arguments for the government, calling the lease and subsequent receipt by Fall of $233,500 in Liberty bonds from Sinclair a "miserable" story and the history of the lease a "slimy trail." He reviewed the negotiations for the lease in detail and argued that from its inception it was tainted with corruption and secrecy.

STORY TERMED LIE

The defense assertion that the bonds were given Fall by the oil man for one-third interest in Fall's New Mexico ranch was characterized a "lie" by Roberts. He insisted that Fall kept his plans secret to "cinch" the lease for Sinclair after which it did not matter who protested.

George P. Hoover, opening for the defense, assailed Roberts as a "Philadelphia lawyer" who "abused" and "insulted" defense witnesses because they had the temerity to testify to things that did not agree with the "theory" of the prosecution. Hoover insisted that the story of the lease contradicted Roberts' assertion that it had been negotiated under a cloak of secrecy. He charged the government was seeking to repudiate its own witness, M. T. Everhart, a son-in-law of Fall.

JURORS AMUSED

Everhart as a government witness told of the receipts of $233,500 in Liberty bonds and $30,000 in cash from Sinclair but insisted the bonds were for one-third interest in the Tres Ritos Cattle and Land Company, the Fall ranch, and the cost for improvements in the property after Sinclair became part owner.

As Roberts had ended his address with a plea that the jury find Sinclair guilty, despite his being a rich man, Hoover ended his argument with a plea that Sinclair be given fair treatment even if he is a rich man. Such treatment, the counsel said, will acquit him.

Littleton's plea was the most eloquent of the day and at the outset he brought smiles to the faces

FORTY-FIVE REBELS DIE IN MEXICO

Twenty-six Shot Down in Battle While Nineteen Face Firing Squads

BY JACK STARE-HUNT

MEXICO CITY, April 20. (Exclusive)—Twenty-six rebels were killed outright and nineteen summarily executed by Federal troops following a heavy battle in the State of Jalisco, where movement forces completely routed the insurgents according to dispatches today from Guadalajara, Jalisco. Among the dead was Leader Trinidad Guillen.

The victorious regiment was in charge of Gen. Ascension Escalante, who also reported another brush with rebels near Las Habilas, where he fought for three hours before the uprisers' ranks broke and they fled toward San Miguel River. The rebels lost nine in the fight, as well as many horses and arms.

SEVENTY-THREE DIE IN FOUR FIGHTS

MEXICO CITY, April 20. (AP)—Seventy-three insurgents have been slain by Federal forces in four engagements in the State of Jalisco.

Dispatches from Guadalajara today announced the death of fifty-five and military reports told of the death of eighteen others.

STATE OFFICIAL CLEARED IN COURT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Leon French, Assistant State Attorney-General, and his wife were freed today of disturbance charges which brought their booking at police headquarters several days ago following an asserted rumpus in the rooms of a downtown hotel. The trouble arose after a dinner in honor to visiting officers of the fleet. Judge Jacks dismissed charges because the arresting officer and the hotel demurred against prosecution.

Will Rogers Remarks:

FAIRMOUNT (W. Va.) April 20.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I am here in Clum Shaver's, the head of the Democrats, home town. He tells me that the Democrats are going to be so peaceful and hungry for harmony at their convention that you won't hardly know they are Democrats. Well, if I go there as he says, I certainly will ask for my money back. They have worked for years to bring their conventions up to show and now they want to crab it. I have been investigating the condition of the coal mines all day. They are not nearly as bad as the condition of the second hand automobile dealers.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

KNIGHTS IN SHOWY PARADE

Spectacular Street Pageant and Drills Close Masonic Conclave in San Diego

BY BURTON L. SMITH
"Times" Staff Representative

SAN DIEGO, April 20. (Exclusive)—A spectacular street pageant and a contest between rival drill teams representing leading cities of the State brought to a close the seventieth annual conclave of the Knights Templar of California here today. The event was the last of a series of meetings of York Rite Masons which has been in progress for the last week and has attracted a record attendance and aroused much enthusiasm.

San Diego never before witnessed such an inspiring parade of marchers. As throngs gathered along the curbing from Twelfth to State street on Broadway, 2000 brilliantly uniformed and gaily plumed knights marched to the martial strains of a dozen bands. This army of Christian knighthood recalled the stories of the crusades and made live again the days when knighthood was in flower.

COLORS DISPLAYED

Each commandery as it passed the reviewing stand displayed the national colors and the beauseant of the order, the sober white and black of the latter presenting a striking contrast to the vivid colors of the Stars and Stripes and carrying home to the thousands who looked on and cheered the motto of the Knights of Richard's time, who proclaimed to all the world that they were "Fair and favorable to the friends of Christ but dark and terrible to his enemies."

Beautifully decorated streets provided an ideal setting for the colorful pageant which was witnessed from a reviewing stand opposite the U. S. Grant Hotel by past commanders of the order, grand lodge officers, ranking officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and prominent Knights Templar of the State and nation.

Grand Captain-General J. T. Langford led the parade, followed by mounted knights, members of California Commandery No. 1 of San Francisco. The Long Beach Municipal Band had the place of honor in the march and was followed by representatives of the sixty-seven branches of the organization in the State.

Los Angeles was well represented, having the bands and drill teams of Golden West and Los Angeles commanderies in line. Riverside brought the band of the Sherman Indian Institute and Monrovia attracted much attention by being escorted by a drum corps from the chapter of De Molay from that city.

After all the marchers had passed the stand they reformed and

BITTER DISAPPOINTMENT MARKS BREMEN LANDING

Maj. Fitzmaurice Tells Desperate Effort Made to Fix Plane for Further Flight

(Herewith is the third installment of Maj. Fitzmaurice's account of the Trans-Atlantic flight of the Bremen. His story is the first and only authentic description of the flight to be given the public. He is the only one of the three on the Bremen who is able to write English; he is the only one who has come out of the isolated landing place of the Bremen and is therefore the only one able to send any extended dispatches. The Times is the only newspaper in Southern California authorized to publish his story.)

BY MAJ. J. C. FITZMAURICE
Officer commanding the air force of the Irish Free State
Copilot of the Trans-Atlantic Airplane Bremen

MURRAY BAY (Que.) April 20. (Exclusive)—Our landing at Greenly Island was a bitter disappointment. We knew that gathered on the flying field near New York thousands of persons were awaiting us. We would disappoint them.

Furthermore, the machine that had brought us safely across this huge expanse of water was tilted on its nose and damaged. Upon getting out of the machine, our first concern was to ascertain as near as possible the full extent of the damage. We surveyed the machine thoroughly and found the propeller tips were bent. But this was all.

Our first job was to lower the tail of the machine to the ground. This was extremely difficult, for although three of the natives of the island came to our assistance, the number was far too small to be really effective. In addition necessary tackle or equipment for the work of this nature was not available.

AIRCRAFT RIGHTED

Fortunately for us a gale was blowing which tended to force the tail of the machine down to the ground. The pressure of the gale on the tail of the machine was gradually forcing the nose of the machine out of the ice and we were gravely worried that the tail would drop suddenly to the ground and result in irreparable damage to our trusty craft.

Three men lay on the nose of the machine to balance the pressure and a rope was obtained, lassoed around the tail skid, and we were delighted when we succeeded in lowering it to the ground gently.

It was then suggested that we should adjourn to the comfortable quarters of the lighthouse.

Baron von Huenefeld already had gone there because of a slight mishap. In getting out of the machine he fell into the water twice and it had been necessary for him to leave us that he might dry off before he froze.

STRAIN BREAKS AXLE

This suggestion that we go to some place of comfort was not pleasing to Koehl. He, like a good airman, wanted to stand by his damaged machine and he said so. And the upshot was that we did not go.

In the falling snow and the howling wind we carried on with the work of examining the machine more closely and endeavoring to lift the wheels out of the water with the intention of rolling it back onto solid ground. We got some planks and iron bars were used as levers for this work but, unfortunately, after having succeeded in getting the right wheel on the solid ice a loud bang occurred. We discovered that the axle had snapped in the middle. It was just too bad.

We were almost broken hearted because we felt that with the utensils available in connection with a small forge at the lighthouse we could have straightened the propeller and gone on to New York.

On the collapse of the under carriage the machine subsided into the water again. Our work of nearly two hours was all for nothing. We decided that nothing further could be done, so we obtained some rope for the purpose of securing the machine which might be still more gravely damaged by the wind during the night.

PLANE ANCHORED

A new difficulty now arose. The pickets cannot be driven into the ground for the simple reason that it is just like solid rock owing to the intense cold experienced in this district. The machine was secured in the end by tying the ropes around large boulders which were littered about the place, for it should be borne in mind that we were at the very edge of the reservoir. The water was drained out of the radiator, which would, of course, have been badly damaged by the frost had we not done so. Plenty of sacking was procured and the engine carefully wrapped up for the night.

A man was employed to guard the machine throughout the night, not that we thought anyone would steal it but to warn us should the storm increase to greater force.

Feeling assured now that our stout, little craft was as comfortable as we could make it for the night we adjourned to the lighthouse, where our hostess, Mme. Tamplier, greeted us with that charming hospitality so characteristic of the French people, particularly the French Canadians. Our sheepskin flying boots and socks which had become saturated during the work and had become frozen so that they were literally two cakes of ice were removed and we were provided with stockings and moccasins.

FIRST REAL MEAL

Our first consideration here was to write out and dispatch telegrams and cables to our people, notifying them of our safe arrival on the American continent. We had learned that there was a telegraph office at Blanc Sablon, about two miles away, but almost inaccessible because of the snow and ice. The assistant keeper of the lighthouse, however, very kindly volunteered to execute this commission for us and we were happy in the thought that the waiting world would soon have news of our safety. We realized that all were anxious because now we were overdue.

Mme. Tamplier now informed us

SEVEN DIE IN BLAST

Score Injured in Denver Plant

Employees Trapped by Fire Resulting in Airplane Painting Shop

Bodies of Others Believed Still Lying in Ruins; Damage Slight

DENVER, April 20. (AP)—At least seven persons were burned to death and nineteen were injured, several probably fatally, when three terrific explosions rocked the Alexander Industries plant at Englewood, a suburb, and set fire to the properties today.

None of the twenty-six men and women who were working in the paint shop of the plant, located a short distance in the rear of the main structure, escaped uninjured.

The company engages in a number of enterprises including the manufacture of airplanes, and the fire spread rapidly from the paint shop, where highly inflammable supplies used in the "dipping" of airplane wings were stored.

Flames enveloped the building after the first blast. Persons, their clothes in flames, staggered from the burning structure while rescuers rushed in and emerged with the seared bodies of others among the dead or critically injured.

KNOWN DEAD

The known dead are Effie Harkins and Effie Taylor, employees, Miss Gertrude C. Jarrett, Ross Owen Scott and Carl B. Morley. In quick succession the two blasts followed the first explosion, and flames shot fifty feet out of the building. Almost all of the clothing of the victims was burned off. Several are in critical condition at the Denver General Hospital. A temporary first-aid station was established and here the nude and seared bodies of victims were swathed in hastily improvised bandages.

The paint shop, a wooden structure, rapidly was consumed by the fire, which was brought under control this afternoon.

Reports that two or more women perished when they were trapped in the building could not be verified tonight, and they remained unaccounted for.

Authorities were unable to assign the official reason for the blast, but

BREMEN AID SHIP FLIES

Relief Airplane in Quebec

Repair Carrier Due to Reach Greenly Island Late This Evening

Fitzmaurice Returns With Rescuers to Complete New York Flight

(Copyright, 1928, in all countries by North American Newspaper Alliance.)

MURRAY BAY (Que.) April 20. (Exclusive)—The huge trimotored monoplane of the North American Newspaper Alliance now speeding to the rescue of the Bremen and her crew on isolated Greenly Island glided down in perfect weather to safe landing at 3:45 p.m. today at Lake St. Agnes, fourteen miles from here, completing the first stage of the swift journey from Detroit.

The plane, whose epic venture is sponsored by the Los Angeles Times and North American Newspaper Alliance, has been designated as official relief ship by the city of New York. Its mission of rescue, like the heroic "contact" flight made by "Duke" Schiller, also was under the sponsorship of the North American Newspaper Alliance and The Times, and offers a dramatic interest second only to that of the Bremen's trans-Atlantic exploit.

WORTHY RESCUERS

The Bremen, awaiting in ice and snow for the repair parts which should enable her to resume her flight to Mitchell Field, could ask no worthier saviors, for at the controls of the giant Alliance plane sit Floyd Bennett, who piloted Commander Byrd to the North Pole and back, and Bernt Balchen, one of the heroes of Byrd's New York-to-France flight in the America last year.

The plane itself is the only one capable of carrying to the Bremen the equipment she needs. It is not only making a daring flight over territory seldom covered by airplane but is acting the part of a heavy duty delivery truck as well.

PREPARATIONS BEGIN

As this dispatch is written, the work of preparing the plane for semi-Arctic flying to Greenly Island is under way. Ship-chandlers along from Detroit are busy cataloguing in terms of the weight on which the Alliance plane based at Lake St. Agnes, a task of four hours. Special high-test benzol is being loaded aboard. This evening the plane will be ready.

She will have on board complete landing-gear, including wheels, and a propeller taken from the F-13, Junkers sister ship of the Bremen. She will also take fresh clothing, cigarettes, cigars and other luxuries to Baron von Huenefeld and Capt. Koehl. The start is planned for daybreak tomorrow.

ANOTHER LANDING

An intermediate landing will be made at Seven Islands and possibly at Natashquan. The plane expects to alight at Greenly tomorrow afternoon.

The huge monoplane which the North American Newspaper Alliance arranged through its New York member, the World, to send to Greenly Island, was sighted over Lake St. Agnes, which is fourteen miles from here, by automobile and dog sled, at 3:40 p.m. Weather conditions in this region had been ideal all day, offering clear visibility.

The Alliance plane circled around for five minutes selecting her landing-place and then glided down and taxied through the soft snow. The right wheel sank into a yielding spot, indirectly causing a trivial mishap which could have been serious.

A mechanic busied himself at the mired wheel with a long piece of iron which he used as crowbar. The propellers were still spinning. The mechanic allowed the end of his lever to come within range of the propeller of the right motor.

COOLIDGE AGAIN REFUSES

Demands Instant Action to Prevent Drafting Talk and Writing In His Name at Primaries

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—President Coolidge for the fourth time has elaborated his Black Hills statement that he does not choose to be a candidate in 1928. Today he told Chairman Prescott of the Massachusetts State Republican Committee in no uncertain words that his name must not be written in the primary ballots in his home State on the 24th inst. He demanded that instant action be taken to prevent further spread of the drafting talk, especially in New York State.

It was the nearest direct statement of censure to the efforts of Charles D Hilles, vice-chairman of the Republican committee, who has led this movement in New York.

The President's letter follows:

"Report has come to me that some persons in Massachusetts are proposing to write in my name as a candidate for President at the primaries on the 24th inst. Such action would be most embarrassing to me and while appreciating the compliment that is intended I request that it not be done. My name is being used in other States in a way that is contrary to my wishes. I have heard that in New York it has gone so far as to be claimed such use is with my tacit consent.

"In my own State to give any countenance to such a movement would tend to compromise me and lend color to the misrepresentations that apparently are being made in other States. I am, therefore, send-

HOOVER HEADQUARTERS TO BE OPENED MONDAY

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—State-wide co-ordination of Hoover-for-President activities will get under way in the final pre-primary drive next Monday, when headquarters for that purpose will be opened here in the Palace Hotel. Charles L. Neumiller, Hoover delegate, will be in charge. He arrived from his home at Stockton today to complete arrangements to house the committee of which he is chairman on the second floor of the hotel.

The organization will be in full swing for the scheduled Republican rally the 28th inst., which will combine a last outline of Hoover's fitness for the next Presidency with a testimonial to the State's twenty-nine delegates to the Kansas City convention in June.

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)—A "mile-away" blood transfusion attempted in an effort to save the life of Mrs. Max Goldman has failed. Blood was taken from the donor at a hospital and carried in a special container to Mrs. Goldman's home. She died shortly after the operation was performed.

BREMEN'S CRASH ON ICE RELATED

Breaking Axle Dashes Hope of Continuing Flight

All Come Through Ordeal Physically Fit

that tea was ready and we sat down to this first meal in Canada and the first real one since the day before, when we had breakfast at 4:30 a.m. and only sandwiches in between. It would be impossible to describe how wonderful this meal tasted.

Extreme fatigue had now overtaken us, so we were shown to our bedroom. Here there were two beds. Baron Von Huenefeld and Koehl took one and I the other. We undressed, tumbled into bed and instantly were asleep.

ALL FEELING FIT

I woke up about noon the next day to be informed by the baron that Koehl, after having about three or four hours' sleep, awoke and had been working practically throughout the whole night compiling notes on scientific data, etc., which he had collected during the flight, while the matter was still fresh in his memory. Nobody but a man of tremendous will power, keenness for his work and concentration of his undertaking could have done such a thing. Koehl has all of these qualities.

As a result of our long rest we felt very fit, with the exception that our eyes were bloodshot and bunged up with pus. The strain had caused this because we had only one pair of goggles. Koehl's having been lost out of the machine and we took turns wearing these. We bathed our eyes in water and felt very well the following day. We took breakfast and then went straight to work.

The machine stood as we left her, with the exception that the water around the under carriage had become frozen during the night and under the pressure of the ice the left-hand tire had burst. Large petrol drums and planks were obtained, also a considerable supply of timber and by nightfall we had succeeded in lifting the weight of the machine off the under carriage by building up props under the wings at the roots.

SEND CALL FOR HELP

We realised that we could do no more now. We went back to the lighthouse and dispatched cables calling for assistance and notifying the Junkers Company of New York of the extent of the damage to the machine and the materials and spare parts required to get the machine in trim for the continuation of our flight into New York.

There was nothing to do now but to wait for help. On Sunday we received news from Point Amour radio station, that Duke Schiller, the famous Canadian pilot; Dr. Louis Cuisiner, technical director of the Canadian Transcontinental Airways, and Eugene Thibault, a mechanic, were on their way in a Fairchild ship for the purpose of assisting us. As this machine was not to arrive before 5 o'clock we spent the afternoon preparing messages recounting our experiences and our needs.

At 5:30 we were sitting in the lighthouse when we heard the drone of an airplane. We pulled on our things and ran out. We saw the ship circling the island. A Very light was fired from her and she circled to land on the ice and frozen bay about a mile away. We traveled over by dog sled and met those who had come to our relief.

FLY TO MURRAY BAY

That night we held a conference and learned that a number of misleading reports had come out and that as a result of the poor telegraph system and the enormous traffic on the line, due to our landing, our messages had been garbled and our needs not made clearly known. It was, therefore, decided the machine should leave for Murray Bay the following morning and that one of us should accompany Duke Schiller to Murray Bay to meet Miss Herta Junkers, who we understood would be there upon our arrival and explain to her the exact position of our requirements, in order to insure that the flight would be continued with the least possible delay.

It was decided that I should undertake this commission. At noon the following day, leaving Cuisinier and the mechanic behind, we left Greenly Island en route for Murray Bay.

Cuisinier, we learned upon getting up, had arisen at 5 o'clock in the morning, had secured additional assistance which he could more readily direct because of his knowledge of the language and the people and had producer practically every dog team and sled in the countryside for the purpose of carting material to the scene of our landing. His intention was to lower the water in the pond by drainage so that a wooden platform could be built under the machine to enable the mechanics to work on the dismantling of the damaged undercarriage and the fittings of the new one when it arrived.

FEAT OF ENGINEERING

He confidently assured me before I left that he would have this work completed within ten hours. I could not possibly see how he was going to do it, but do it he did, as I have since learned. It was a splendid feat of engineering.

Shortly after leaving Greenly Island we encountered fog and heavy snow. In addition to that, the east wind which prevailed at the time of our departure changed around to the west. This slowed us considerably and we were compelled to land at Natashquan. There we stayed the night and were very hospitably received.

The following day at noon we left again in a howling gale and heavy snow and succeeded in reaching Clarke City about 5 p.m. There again we had to land and were again received with the utmost hospitality by Mr. Collier, the manager of the pulp mills, and at noon the following day took off for Murray Bay, where I met Miss Junkers and explained our situation to her.

There was a slight clicking sound as metal met metal and the tip of the propeller was slightly bent. Had it been a wooden propeller it would have been splintered, with possible fatal results to the mechanic and the closest spectators.

BLADE STRAIGHTENED

The damaged blade was promptly straightened and is as good as ever. This was the second accident of the day to cause serious although temporary alarm. Earlier, a Fairchild cabin plane in which Bernes Vachon had piloted two photographers and a reporter to Greenly Island and return had landed here with a broken motor mount. Vachon and his mechanic set about welding the break in order to permit this plane to fly on to New York after noon. A spark flew into a gasoline barrel standing in the frame structure which serves as a hangar general flying depot at Lake St. Agnes.

There was an immediate burst of flame. Upstairs Maj. Fitzmaurice had just risen. He hurriedly descended to watch Vachon put out the blaze, which caused little damage.

Bennett and Balchen reported that their flight from Detroit, made in approximately eight and one-half hours, had been without incident, the weather all the way being satisfactory except for some "bumpiness" of the air.

Tsinan, just southwest of Yenchowfu, also was occupied after a northern army of 20,000 men under Gen. Sun Chuan-Fang, Governor of Shantung, was destroyed by Nationalist troops under Feng Yu-Hsiang, once known as the Christian general.

Gen. Sun had hoped to cut the Lunghai Railway at Kweiten, about 100 miles southwest of Yenchowfu in Honan Province. He thus expected to turn the left flank of Chiang Kai-Shek, Nationalist commander-in-chief.

TOKIO, April 20. It was emphasized that the present troop movement does not imply unfriendly intent in regard to China or interference in the military operations of either faction.

It was stated that troops will be withdrawn as soon as the danger to Japanese lives and property is past.

The Cuban and Canadian representatives on the League Council can then discuss League problems with the home government by telephone while the League may also talk to Washington on questions like disarmament in which the United States is collaborating.

UNION SLUGGERS GET JAIL TERMS

Bay City Judge Sentences Seven "Terrorists"

Eighth Shown Leniency on Account of Illness

Action Follows Outrages in Carpenters' Strike

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Accompanying the action with a severe castigation of labor-union violence, with respect both to the unions and individual members thereof, Superior Judge Schmidt today sentenced seven members of a "terror squad" among union carpenters to jail for sixty days each. An eighth was given a suspended ninety-day sentence because of representations that he is suffering from an incurable ailment and imprisonment probably will kill him.

Although the seven sentenced pleaded guilty to charges of assault, a misdemeanor, Judge Schmidt said:

"When people violate the law they must pay the penalty exactly the same as the old saying is—'if you dance you must pay the fiddler.'"

FAILS TO SEE EXCUSE

"It is seemingly unjustifiable that when those industrial disturbances arise that either a labor organization, as an organization, if that ever is a fact, or the individual members thereof as individuals, see fit to take the law into their own hands and endeavor to accomplish their own aims. If that were permitted through the courts there would be no stability to our government and our much-talked-of liberty would not be worth the paper on which the constitution originally was written.

"There may be some excuse, although I cannot see it, under the stress of industrial disturbances to commit these acts of violence.

"I sentence you to sixty days in the County Jail.

"I trust that after you have served that period of sixty days that you will never again see fit to join in any movement, whether it is in due to your union or anything else, which is a violation of the law and that you will appreciate the value of your citizenship in this country and will not be connected with any criminal offense again."

TWO MORE CASES PEND

The men convicted were eight of twelve charged originally with conspiracy to beat and injure Hardwick Culbertson, nonunion carpenter, attacked while working on a Marina district building June 8, 1926. The original charges were reduced to misdemeanors with the consent of the District Attorney's office.

Four others facing trial were given until next Friday to appear and Judge Schmidt warned defense attorney Nathan Coghlan that leniency much as the men have been received on their own recognizance at Coghlan's suggestion, the court will consider the attorney personally responsible for them.

Today's action leaves only two more cases, involving three men, to be disposed of out of ninty-eight individuals held to answer for violence during the carpenter's strike of 1926 and early 1927. Twenty of these have been convicted or have pleaded guilty to reduced charges.

Nine of the twenty are in jail at the present time, among them George Pence and Gus Madsen, convicted of manslaughter in connection with the fatal beating of MacIvan Campbell, another nonunion worker.

Weather Holds Flyer in Algiers

PARIS, April 20. (AP)—Lieut. Michael De Troyat, who failed in an attempt to make a nonstop flight to Algiers and return in the plane in which he hopes to be the first to fly from Paris to New York, is weatherbound in Algiers today. He was forced to land by a gale and it is understood that his backers are disappointed in the performance of his plane.

On the flight, he maintained an average speed of only ninety-three miles an hour, which is considered too slow for trans-Atlantic flying.

Former Pugilist Dies on Gallows

NEW ORLEANS April 20. (AP)—Matt Seminary, known in the pugilistic world five years ago as "Battling Joe" Nelson, was hanged in the Orleans parish prison here today for the murder two years ago of Lillian Hoyle, his dance-hall sweetheart. He killed Ralph Sturdy, her companion, at the same time. He leaves his widow and two children now in Hot Springs, Ark.

Seminary shot the girl and her companion as they alighted from a street car in the business district. Police charged Seminary had been jilted by Lillian.

No one has been able to capture the public imagination like Paderewski. For he injects the fire of his great personality into the wizardry of his art. Those who have heard him play never forget it. And that is why they admire so keenly the reproductions of his playing by the new Orthophonic Victrola. When you hear his marvelous instrument you feel that you are in the presence of the pianist himself. All the magic of his technique is captured to the slightest subtlety. Go to any dealer in Victor products and listen to the Paderewski Records. Ask particularly to hear him play "Moonlight Sonata"—Adagio (Beethoven) (6690) and "Etude in E Major" (Chopin) (6618).

You will want to own these marvelous records.

YES AND NO FOR CLUB REVISION

Women's Federation at Bay City Has Hot Session

No Decision Made Regarding Attitude to Take

Fireworks Promised for San Diego Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Proposed revision of existing representation quotas in the California Federation of Women's Clubs, designed originally to heal the breach which has developed in the ranks throughout the State, came in for favor and disfavor in a heated session of the San Francisco district federation today. No decision was reached as to the attitude to be taken by this district as a whole but the intimation was plain that when the State federation goes into convention at San Diego there will be verbal fireworks of various kinds and degrees of brilliance.

Four leaders of the organization held the center of the speaking stage in arguments for and against revision, following which discussion broke from the floor despite attempts to stop it. Those launching the matter were Mrs. W. W. Green, State president, Dr. Mariana Bertola, former State president and chairman of numerous previous meetings; Mrs. Hamilton Higgins, district president, and Mrs. W. L. Gains, secretary of the revision committee.

REVELATION PROMISED

"It has been said that the San Francisco district has been responsible for this rift in the federation," asserted Dr. Bertola. "When the proper time comes I am going to tell just who is to blame and it won't be San Francisco."

During thus announced her intention of storing her explosives for proper setting, Dr. Bertola related how Mrs. Green came to the defense of the revision proposal.

"The revision committee," she said, "had a State-wide view, not a district view, in planning representation changes. The revision would give to the same number of people exactly the same proportion of representation whether they belong to large or small clubs. Each part of the State will have to give something.

ARBITRATION VITAL

"We women talk about international relations. In the final analysis, peaceful international relations all go back to arbitration among nations.

"The entire world knows we have had differences in our State federation. If we, as a group of women, cannot accept this attempt at arbitration we certainly can never raise our voices again for peace among other nations. Go to the convention, listen well, think then vote according to your conscience and not because this leader or that is for or against revision."

WEATHER BUREAU TO AID FLYERS

Fresno Will be Key Station in Service to be Set Up by Guggenheim Fund

FRESNO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Fresno will be the key station in the chain of weather-reporting service for aviators which will be established between Los Angeles and San Francisco about May 1 by the Guggenheim Fund, according to an announcement here today by C. G. Swain, of Washington, research associate of the fund, who is here in connection with establishment of the weather service. Other stations will be established in the San Joaquin Valley at Grapevine station, at the north end of the Ridge route, Bakersfield, McKittrick, Visalia, Los Banos, Merced and Modesto, Rosoby announced.

The service will provide reports of weather conditions for aviators as a step toward promotion of commercial aviation primarily as an aid to safety of passenger planes, the reports will be made available to all pilots. The California service with terminals at Los Angeles and San Francisco is being established as the alternative of a similar experiment that was proposed between New York and Cleveland, which was abandoned, Rosby said, because of the prohibitive cost of communication. The service will be conducted in connection with the United States Weather Bureau's air mail service, and W. E. Bonnett, local forecaster for the government, will have charge of collection of reports from this district, Welter.

School Board Displays Tact

SAN MATEO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Open warfare which threatened to flare again over selection of a new superintendent for the San Mateo Union High School was averted when the district trustees decided to leave the matter to recommendations of the presidents of the boards of California and Stanford University.

This move came as a surprise, following charges that the retiring trustees were planning to name a successor to W. L. Glasscock, resigned, before newly elected trustees take their seats.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Settlement of a damage suit here today made it worth $12,500 to the heirs of Henry Rowe Schmitz.

The sum is contingent, of course, upon the death of Rowe from the effects of a $101,000 damage suit against the Market Street Railway, which the bronco-busting tenor claimed he received in an accident will never recover from. Rowe probably will be able to get the money within a few months after his death.

NEW CLEW FOUND TO CONTINENTAL PROFITS

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—A new clew came to light today which Chairman Nye of the Senate Teapot Dome committee expects to determine whether some of the profits of the Continental Trading Company of Canada went to Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

Senator Nye disclosed today that the trail was picked up in examination of the personal account of Stewart in the Continental and Commercial National Bank of Chicago. Nye said present indications are that Stewart shared a fourth of the Continental company's $3,080,000 profits and added that committee investigators now are seeking additional information.

Stewart had testified before the Teapot committee that he "never personally profited one dollar by this deal," but when pressed as to whether he knew anything about the purchase of the First Liberty Loan bonds representing the profits of the Continental Trading Company he refused to answer. He is now under indictment for contempt of the Senate on that action and his trial is expected to be held during the next few weeks.

Senator Nye, in disclosing the committee's discovery today, said that its search for the disposition of the Continental profits will be materially aided as it indicates that Stewart was the holder of the missing one-fourth of the profits.

His named Harry Sinclair, Harry M. Blackmer of the Midwest Refining Company, and James E. O'Neil of the Prairie Gas and Oil Company as those who shared the other three-fourths.

The more than $200,000 paid by Sinclair to Albert Fall, former Secretary of the Interior, from whom he leased Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, has been identified as Liberty bonds like those of the Continental company. The government has charged that the payment was a bribe, but that is denied by Sinclair and Fall.

The Canadian company was formed about the time of the Teapot Dome lease to Sinclair. It purchased oil and resold it at a profit of 25 cents a barrel and went out of existence a few years ago.

Evidence in the hands of the Senate committee, Senator Nye explained today, is that a deposit slip has been found in Stewart's personal account in the Chicago bank showing that on December 18, 1923, he deposited $13,902.75. On the deposit slip, Senator Nye said, was a notation that the money was the residue of "coupons First Liberty Loan, deducting two days." A similar deposit was discovered in December of 1922, Nye said.

"It is significant," the Senator declared, "that if this deposit represented the semiannual payment of interest on bonds of the First Liberty Loan issue the amount of bonds was in excess of $750,000. This represents a one-fourth share of the profits of $3,080,000, of the Continental Trading Company."

Nye said that investigators are now seeking to determine through the Federal Reserve bank whether the First Liberty bond coupons deposited by Stewart were of those known to have been in the Continental fund. While the interest payments were found only in December, and it is calculated they were semiannual payments, Nye said that the committee has not been able to get deposit slips for the other months.

CHICAGO GUNS ECHO FAR OFF

Tribal Chief in Darkest Part of Africa Knows About City's Crime

CHICAGO, April 20. (AP)—George P. Getz, sportsman, globe trotter, legal promoter of the Tunney-Dempsey match here last fall and a friend of Mayor Thompson, regrets the reputation Chicago has as a "crime-ridden city."

Recently he returned from a trip to the interior of Africa, where he said he met a tribal chief who had never heard of New York or Washington, but who knew about Chicago.

"He told me that missionaries had advised his tribesmen to avoid the sort of conduct they said is typical of Chicago," Getz said.

OIL CASE GOES TO JURY TODAY

of the jurors frequently with the witty barbs he shot at Roberts.

He insisted the Roberts question as to why the long deposition of Fall was not introduced was answered by the government's own testimony. Everhart, he said, testifying as a government witness, had told the true story of the bond deal and coming from its own witness it could not be denied by the government. This testimony he argued must be accepted by the jury as the correct story, as it was put in by the government and it knew what Everhart would say.

Atlee Pomerene, also special government prosecutor, closed for the government, going deeply into the details of the "secretly contracted" lease. He maintained there was no reason for keeping the negotiations secret and quoted testimony of Capt. J. K. Robison, retired, who handled the leave for the Navy, that there was no naval reason for keeping it secret.

The lease, Pomerene said, was a pure case of favoritism. The ranch deal, he maintained, was not a legitimate deal, as Hoover and Littleton had insisted.

Justice Bailey permitted the prosecution to call to the attention of the jury that the long deposition taken from Fall at El Paso by Sinclair's counsel was not offered in evidence. He broke the seal and permitted the accompanying affidavit to go into the record, but sealed it again. The document cannot become public until Justice Bailey orders it unsealed.

The justice denied a government request that it be permitted to refer to Littleton's opening address in the Fall-Sinclair mistrial last October in which he said it would be showed by "deduction" from evidence that Sinclair had never had any of the Continental Trading Company Liberty bonds.

PRESS ADOPTS ETHICS PENALTY

Stringent Action Agreed to by Executives

Advertising "for Influence" Given Scoring

Cleric Asserts Newspapers Lack Proportion

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—After hearing the faults of journalistic practice, as recited by representatives of the law, medicine and the ministry, the American Society of Newspaper Editors in convention here amended its constitution today to provide for stringent action against any member found guilty "of violation of the code of professional ethics" of the organization.

The vote was 18 to 15 and followed a protracted debate in which the majority present participated. The amendment was sponsored by Willis Abbott, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, and Tom Wallace of the Louisville Times, as opposed to a less forceful change to the same effect which had been recommended by the constitution committee.

SEVERE PENALTIES

The alternative penalties provided by the amendment were censure, suspension or expulsion. In arguing for it Abbott said:

"This society should not be left without any means of protection against members who may flagrantly and willfully offend against its code of ethics which it had adopted as part of its fundamental law."

The society comprises 217 newspaper editors in cities all over the country of over 50,000 population.

WALLACE'S DEMAND

Wallace called for an abandonment of generalities and for definite action "regarding the publication of forged documents which might endanger relations between two countries and the interviewing of a juror in a criminal case which resulted in a mistrial."

Consideration of the Wallace proposal was deferred. His reference was regarded as being to the Hearst publication of the so-called Mexican documents which were later declared fraudulent by a Senate committee.

Dr. Joseph Collins of New York charged that advertising is done unnecessarily by some interests, so that the backers "might have friends at court," in case of a Congressional investigation. He also assailed fabrication and syndication of news as a "blight" on journalism, declaring that the population was becoming standardized under the influence of the consequent uniformity of its reading matter.

"Why are there no great newspapers today?" Collins asked, answering himself, "because individualism has been destroyed by corporate interests."

CLERICAL VIEW

The ministerial optnion was given by Dr. Ralph W. Sockman, pastor of the Madison-avenue Methodist Church, New York, who said that newspaper editors often lack a "sense of proportion." He declared that much distortion results, giving overemphasis to crime reports and stories about Mayor Thompson of Chicago as examples.

Referring to the Chicago Mayor, he said, "I wish you had reduced him to the figure that the voters at the polls did recently before that happened."

The newspaper space given to crime was also criticised by Secretary Work of the Interior Department, who said: "While all news may be made fit to print, that of the underworld is not wholesome and has no proper place in ethical journals."

Clarence Darrow, criminal lawyer, assailed the newspapers on several points, around which he wound at the same time a condemnation of the social system in this country.

Rail Mergers Held Unlikely to Lower Fare

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Proposed consolidations of railroad lines throughout the country will not materially decrease rates, but will place them in a better position to give better service to the public, the Commonwealth Club was told today by Samuel T. Bledsoe of Chicago, chief of counsel for the Santa Fe system. He discussed briefly more than 100 measures now before Congress designed to regulate carriers, but said that with one or two exceptions the results would not reflect upon the traveling public.

Only traveling men, he averred, are behind abolition of the sleeping-car surcharge. "The railroads," he said, "desire to continue the surcharge to offset the loss in passenger traffic which has decreased in the last few years from one-third to two-thirds. If the surcharge is removed the railroads will be obliged either to further curtail the number of passenger trains or else saddle the loss on the shippers of freight. Any onerous and costly burden placed upon a railway is of necessity passed to the customer."

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Customs inspectors revealed tonight that a special force of guards will accompany the President Lincoln on its week-end voyage to Los Angeles Harbor because of information that a contraband shipment of narcotics is aboard the vessel.

The order followed futile dragging of the bay today after a commotion among Chinese hands and a splash in the water alongside led to the conclusion that some of the drugs had been slipped overboard.

ROUTE FIGHT AT MEMPHIS MEET

Demands of Rival Cities Lead to Bolt

List of Directors Named for Association

President to be Designated by Governing Body

BY A. F. PARMENTER
"Times" Staff Representative

MEMPHIS, April 20. (Exclusive)—The routine aspect of the Broadway of America Association convention, which opened here today, was shattered in the afternoon session by a bitter route fight brought before the convention as a whole after Chattanooga and Knoxville had failed to obtain routing through their cities in the committee meeting.

This morning session was given over to the business of organization, naming of committees and the drawing up of committee reports and of the constitution and by-laws.

When the route committee read its report a motion was introduced to set aside the part defining the course of the road through Nashville. This brought a score of delegates to their feet with countermotions, none of which could be heard in the turmoil and a recess was declared for ten minutes until order could be restored.

When the meeting was again called to order a brief discussion was allowed and a vote taken, which resulted in adoption of the committee recommendation despite the efforts of the protesting faction. Following their defeat, these delegates, about seventy-five, left the convention in a body, later sending back one delegate.

The committee recommendation that the executive manager of the highway association be selected by the board of directors rather than from the floor of the convention, was accepted only after opposition.

DIRECTORS NAMED

Directors for one, two and three-year terms were named. These include two from San Diego and one from En Centro on the board of directors-at-large, and one more each from Imperial and San Diego as State directors.

The list follows: Director-at-large, Col. Ed Fletcher, San Diego, three years; A. E. Kelloff, El Centro, three years; Mayor Harry C. Clark, San Diego, three years; A. H. Gardner, Tombstone, Ariz., three years; Monte Mansfield, Tucson, two years; George D. Robinson, Deming, N. M., three years; C. W. Taylor, Las Cruces, N. M., three years; R. L. Russell, Baird, Tex., three years; H. L. Birney, El Paso, three years; D. A. Sandeen, El Paso, two years; Paul T. Vickers, Midland, Tex., two years; Judge J. G. Thweat, Duvalls Bluff, Ark., three years; Judge C. McDaniel, Arkadelphia, Ark., two years; Judge Greenlee, Brinkley, Ark., two years; Thomas B. King, Memphis, three years; J. J. Walker, McMinnville, Tenn., two years.

State directors, one year: California, A. E. Hornbeck, San Diego; A. J. Mercier, Imperial.

Arizona—W. G. Beuhman, Yuma; George E. Jackson, Douglas.

New Mexico—W. E. Holt, Lordsburg; C. F. Knight, Las Cruces.

Texas—E. L. Brinkley, Sulphur Springs; O. D. Dillingham, Abilene.

Arkansas—Judge Joe Asher, Little Rock; Bob Jones, Hot Springs.

Tennessee—John Grey, Brownsville; Frank Hall, Dickson.

ORANGES TO BE GIVEN

The distribution of 10,000 California oranges among children of Memphis, which was to have been part of the California night program postponed last night because the motorcade was held up eighty miles outside Memphis by flood conditions on the highway, will take place tomorrow when Rear-Admiral McKean of the Eleventh Naval District will act as host.

The last stragglers who were caught in the mud yesterday afternoon did not reach the Hotel Peabody headquarters until this afternoon, having stopped overnight and having their ears hauled out of the mud this morning.

The most important business for tomorrow will be naming the president and other officers. It is taken for granted that H. L. Birney of El Paso will be renamed president and Col. Fletcher first vice-president. These two have been among the active leaders of the movement to establish this all-year paved highway from New York to San Diego since the inception of the idea.

Invitations from cities along the line of the Broadway to act as host to the convention next year will also be heard today. Mineral Wells, Tex., seems to be the likely choice.

VALLEY OF ROSES REPORTED DESTROYED

SOFIA (Bulgaria) April 20. (AP)—The Valley of Roses near Philippopolis, one of the beauty spots of Europe, has been turned into a sandy waste, say reports of Monday's earthquake. Subteranean waters bursting through the surface or gushing from hillsides have washed layers of sand into the valley and obliterated thousands of rose bushes.

Roses are one of the chief crops of the region and from those grown in Bulgaria has come 90 per cent of the European supply of attar of roses which forms the base of almost all modern perfumery.

counter-marched in mass formation. More than 1000 white-plumed knights and a half-hundred musicians, members of the bands which had participated in the pageant grouped ahead and behind the massed flags and beauseants. To the stirring strains of "Onward Christian Soldiers," the knightly cavalcade again marched past the reviewing officers and sent a thrill through the large crowd seldom caused by a like event. It was a forceful reminder of the march to rescue holy ground, a revival of the spirit of the crusaders.

Grand officers, including Andrew J. Copp, Los Angeles, Grand Commander; Robert B. Gaylord, Oakland, Grand Deputy Commander; James B Langford, Acampo, Grand Treasurer; Aubrey R. Parks, Long Beach, Grand Captain-General; Harry B. Burroughs, Susanville, Grand Senior Warden; Arthur S. Crites, Ventura, Grand Junior Warden; William D. Knight, San Francisco, Grand Treasurer, and Thomas A. Davies, San Francisco, Grand Recorder, were elected at last night's session and installed this afternoon at the conclusion.

Commander Copp is prominent in civic and social circles. He is a member of the Jonathan and Stanford clubs; the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce; Los Angeles Bar Association, Sons of the Revolution, Society of Colonial Wars of the State of California, State Bar of California, American Bar Association, Officers Reserve Corps, American Legion and of the Conservation Association of Southern California.

Mr. Copp was born October 15, 1880, at Millerton, N. Y. He has been a resident of Los Angeles for many years. He is a member of the following Masonic bodies: Southern California Lodge No. 278 F. & A. M., having been initiated in 1902; Signet Chapter No. 97, R. & A. M.; Los Angeles Council No. 11, Royal and Select Masters; Los Angeles Commandery No. 9 Knights Templar of which he is Past Commander; Los Angeles Scottish Rite bodies, Thirty-second Degree; Al Malaikah Temple.

Band concerts and competitive drills at Balboa Park this afternoon brought to a close the most successful conclave of the organization in California.

In the Class B drills Alhambra won first honors, scoring solidly with its splendidly executed figures. Pasadena was second and Riverside third. Out of a possible 1000, Alhambra scored 797; Pasadena, 734; Riverside, 646; Whittier, 538, and Sacramento, 517.

In the Class A contest, the Golden West Commandery of Los Angeles was adjudged winner with a score of 836 out of a possible 1000. The Golden Gate Commandery of San Francisco was second with 786. Monrovia took third with 784. Los Angeles Commandery was fourth with 750 and Long Beach was fifth with 738.

The place of the 1929 convention was not decided. The matter was referred to a committee of four which will announce its decision at a later date. San Francisco is said to be the most popular choice.

SEVEN DIE IN DENVER BLAST

Richard Trenari, 21 years of age, an employee who was in the building when the disaster occurred, said he believed it was caused by a short-circuited electric fan which dropped into an open pan of silver nitrate.

Trenari, who escaped with minor bruises, declared the entrapped victims, who did not happen to be near a door, had no avenue of escape. A large amount of highly explosive airplane paint was stored in the building.

"The flames spread rapidly and soon the whole west wing was in flames," he said. "It was a terrible inferno. Screams of trapped women and men employees inside could be heard for blocks." Trenari fears that the bodies of several women workers will be found in the ruins.

Official investigations were undertaken by county officials. The damage from the fire was small, estimated around $7000.

OREGON WINS IN TEST OF FISH WHEEL LAW

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Oregon was successful in the Supreme Court today when the court refused to take jurisdiction of the appeal of P. J. McGowan & Sons, Inc., brought to test out the constitutionality of the State law prohibiting operation of fish wheels and drag seines in the Columbia River adjacent to its shores.

BAY CITY SPAN BILL BLOCKED

Oddie Balks Effort to Obtain Senate Consideration

Attention Called to Objection by Military and Navy

Measure Stays on Calendar of Upper House

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—An attempt to obtain immediate consideration of the Johnson bill for a bridge across San Francisco Bay was blocked in the Senate today by Senator Oddie of Nevada, Republican, who called attention to the opposition of the War and Navy departments.

Senator Johnson, Republican, of California, author of the measure, informed the Senate that the Commerce Committee had unanimously approved the bill authorizing a bridge from Rincon Hill to San Antonio estuary. He expressed surprise at the objection of Senator Oddie, but the Nevadan stood firm. The bill remains on the Senate calendar.

Senator Johnson introduced the report of the committee recommending construction of the bridge.

REPORT INTRODUCED

"The geographical situation of San Francisco," the report says, "its rapidly increasing population and the equally rapidly increasing population of the territory contiguous thereto, and particularly in Alameda county, have made it obvious that there must be a more ready means of communication between San Francisco and her sister cities in Alameda and that every public consideration, convenience, comfort, safety and the economic growth demand a connecting link between the bay communities.

"San Francisco, with a population of about 750,000, is situated upon a tip of a peninsula with a small, compact area, presenting all of the complex problems of a dense, urban government and has an area of forty-two square miles, with water situated upon three sides.

"The principal traffic has developed with the region to the east. That is, across San Francisco Bay, and the means of communication is by ferries. Some 65,000 people live across the bay and have their offices and businesses in San Francisco, and these 65,000 are compelled daily to utilize the ferry system in going to and from their work."

BARGAIN EXTRAORDINARY
517 No. Hillcrest Road, Beverly Hills

THIS beautiful model house of ten rooms, sleeping porch, three baths, 2 basements, three car garage, is offered for the low price of only $33,500.00. It is unusually attractive outside, and decorated inside to a "Queen's taste."

Located in the finest neighborhood of Beverly Hills, of course "north of Santa Monica Blvd.," which is in itself synonymous with the best there is.

I have built more than two hundred homes in Los Angeles County, and there is built into this house everything I have learned about building.

A few outstanding features are:—

- The staunch construction (a lengthy subject)
- Six inch reinforced driveway (any weight truck can drive on it)
- $1500.00 worth of shrubbery, lawns and sprinklers.
- Every ceiling and wall in the house is completely sanitassed except living room ceiling which is shiplap—beautifully stencilled all over and colored.
- Remote radio control to dining and upstairs rooms.
- Two basements, four furnaces—double oversize (saves dissipation of heat by short runs.)
- Double sized water heater, 50 gallon storage capacity.
- Extra large Kelvinator Electric Refrigerator with motor in the basement
- All openings bronze weatherstripped—heavy solid brass thresholds
- Front windows plate glass
- Very artistic fireplace and Batchelder mantle with designs and Swedish metal hand made screen.
- Patio has barbecue fireplace—bird bath—and tiled teants.
- Breakfast room is octagonal with beautifully tiled floor and base.
- Laundry room has many wonderful time-saving features.
- Flood lights around house—switched from bedrooms.
- This home is much more complete than your dream home.
- The garage is for three large cars, and doors open from driveway by hydraulic water pressure.

Full price only $33,500.00 net—no trades. No agents.

To see the value built into this home will cause you the utmost astonishment.

BOULDER DAM'S CHANCES WANE

Agreement for Adjournment May 26 Held Fatal

Muscle Shoals Bill Also to Die by Neglect

House Enemy of Bill Admits Measures Smothered

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—Senate and House leaders at a conference today agreed tentatively upon Saturday, May 26, as the date for adjournment of Congress.

And in setting that date it is learned they left no place on the program of legislation to be completed for the Swing-Johnson Boulder dam bill or the Norris bill for government operation at Muscle Shoals—both measures putting the government into private business and opposed largely for that reason.

Administration leaders have been considering a May 26 adjournment for several weeks, but got together for the first time today to discuss ways and means of bringing it about. House leaders are understood to have stated the lower branch will have no difficulty winding up its work by that time. Senator Curtis of Kansas and other Senate leaders were a little in doubt as to the Senate's ability to quit May 26, but said they would do their best to clear the decks by that date.

GONE GLIMMERING

At least a week at the tail-end will be needed at both ends of the Capitol to clean up conference reports and other last-minute routine and with only thirty-one legislative days left between now and May 26 the prospects of enactment of the Swing-Johnson bill appear to have gone glimmering, regardless of whether it reaches a vote in the Senate, where it now is scheduled to come up the first of next week. This conclusion has been growing on observers for the last ten days, although it is still too early to venture a definite prediction.

Additional evidence of the plan of House leaders to prevent a vote on Boulder dam in that branch came today during a colloquy between Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee and Representative Garner of Texas. Snell took the floor to announce that his committee had granted rules for floor consideration of farm relief and merchant marine and Garner asked him, "How about Boulder dam?"

"I have nothing to say at this time on Boulder Dam," Snell said.

"How about Muscle Shoals?" Garner demanded.

The committee has taken no action on that, either," said Snell.

IDAHOAN'S PLANS

Representative Addison T. Smith of Idaho, chairman of the House Irrigation Committee and close ally of the forces seeking passage of the Swing-Johnson bill, was not so certain today that he would switch to the chairmanship of the Public Lands Committee next session, as he said yesterday he would.

"I am not sure what I will do," he told The Times representative. "I don't want to leave the Irrigation Committee until the Boulder Dam bill is passed. However, I have until December to decide."

It is known that proponents of Boulder Dam already have started to bring pressure to bear to keep him in his present post, where he has been a tower of strength for the Swing-Johnson bill and, in fact, the main factor in getting favorable committee action on the legislation in this and past sessions.

Smith has the option of going to the head of the more important Public Lands Committee to succeed Representative Sinnott of Oregon, who has been appointed to the United States Court of Claims. If he makes the change it will put Representative Leatherwood of Utah, one of the arch foes of Boulder Dam, at the head of the irrigation group and predictions are freely made that if Leatherwood gets the chairmanship the Swing-Johnson bill in its present form is dead for all time.

The Senate today adopted without debate or a roll call the resolution by Senator King of Utah designed to "smoke out" the administration on the asserted deal to trade off water out of the Colorado River in Mexico for additional water from the Rio Grande for irrigation purposes in Texas.

INFORMATION WANTED

The resolution calls upon the State and Interior Departments for copies of all instructions and correspondence with the American commission sent to the border some weeks ago to negotiate a water treaty with Mexico and also for all correspondence which has passed between Washington and Mexico on the subject.

Republican Senate leaders offered no objection to passage of the resolution, so apparently the administration has no hesitancy about supplying the information Senator King demands.

The demand of Representative Leatherwood of Utah for appearance of Dr. Elwood Mead, chief of the Reclamation Service and one of the American treaty negotiators, before the House Irrigation Committee to supply the same facts asked for in the King resolution is still hanging fire. It is presumed now that he will not be asked to testify.

ANGELIC VOICE WINS ACCLAIM

Gary Songbird's Father Adds Homely Tribute on Day of Her Triumph

GARY (Ind.), April 20. (AP) Kathryn Witwer "sang like a gol-durn angel," as her father proudly told her, before a packed auditorium last night. It was the high spot of "Kathryn Witwer Day," set aside by Mayoral proclamation to honor a daughter of Gary who has won a place in grand opera.

Miss Witwer, winner of a national contest for young voices, made three appearances last season with Mary Garden in the Chicago Civic Opera presentation of "Carmen." She has been paving her way to a musical education by acting as typist. With the $3800 taken in last night she will study abroad.

'Y.W.' LAYS OUT BIENNIAL WORK

Young Women End Sessions at Sacramento

Labor Laws Principal Item on Agenda Set

World Court and Outlawing of War Also Ideals

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (AP)—Pledging the Young Women's Christian Association to fight during the next two years for enactment of a child-labor amendment to the Federal Constitution and for an eight-hour working day for women in all lines of industry, as well as freedom from night work, with guarantees of a minimum wage, the tenth national association convention concluded its session here this afternoon. The convention had been in progress since April 13.

Adoption of a long program for the national board to follow during the next two years followed announcement of the association officers elected in last Wednesday's balloting. The announcement was made during the morning session and the officers were:

OFFICERS ELECTED

Mrs. John M. Hanna, Dallas, Tex., re-elected to succeed herself as president; Mrs. Charles W. Gilkey, Chicago, first vice-president; Mrs. Homer Miller, Walnut Creek, Cal., second vice-president; Miss Julia M. Gamble, New York, and Miss Edna Porter, Houston, Tex., secretaries.

The program laid out by the convention for the association's national board to strive for specifically provided for the following:

Education in responsibilities of citizenship.

Legislation for women in industry, including State legislation leading to an eight-hour working day, minimum wages and abolition of night work; appropriation for a women's bureau of the United States Department of Labor, and opposition to the proposed "equal-rights" amendment to the Federal Constitution.

FEDERAL LAWS ASKED

Support of child-labor amendment to the Federal Constitution; support of maternity and infancy act; appropriation for Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor, and State child labor and school laws looking toward standards advocated by the Children's Bureau.

Support of a Federal department of education.

Study of legal regulations of marriage and divorce.

Study of immigration legislation and support of measures furthering the social welfare of aliens.

Emphasizing prohibition observance and enforcement.

Support of measures for the pacific settlement of international controversies; support of treaties for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy; support of measures for the progressive limitation of armaments and support of foreign policy which shall promote good will, justice and peace, with particular reference to Latin America and China.

The national board also recommended to the local associations that in the future they strive for adherence to the World Court; a proposal of the State Department for treaties for the renunciation of war as an instrument of national policy; ratification of the poison-gas protocol; opposition to the proposed $740,000,000 Navy building program, support of the Burton resolution prohibiting shipment of arms to nations at war and revision of unequal treaties with China.

AUXILIARY ELECTIONS

This afternoon the election of Miss Mary Reynolds of Mt. Holyoke College, South Hadley, Mass., as president of the Student Assembly was announced, as was the election of Elsie West, Summit, N. J., and Lena Dawson, Worcester, Mass., as chairmen, respectively, of the Business and Professional Women's Assembly and the Industrial Assembly.

The other Professional Women's Assembly officers included Bertha Parsons, Long Beach, Cal., vice-president; Helen Tracy, Grand Rapids, Mich., secretary, and Julia Gamble, New York, treasurer. Jessie Smith, Richmond, Va., was named member at large of the industrial body.

SHORTRIDGE TO PUSH TAX FIGHT

Opposing Senators Served With Ultimatum

California Insists on Right to Present Case

Community Property States Block Efforts

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—Senator Shortridge, who is leading the fight to restore California's community property rights as far as Federal estate and income tax payments are concerned, threatened today to carry the matter to the floor of the Senate unless Senators from the seven other community-property States relax the opposition which thus far has blocked his attempts to get the necessary amendment into the revenue bill now under consideration by the Senate Finance Committee.

The opposition Senators are fearful that if the matter is broached in the form of an amendment to the revenue bill it will revive the issue of the rights of their own States, and that, under the Robbins decision of the Supreme Court, they, too, will be deprived of their community property privileges.

DEADLOCK STANDS

All the Senators from the community-property States have attended two conferences with the seven States solidly aligned against California, the only community property State without standing in the eyes of the Federal government, but without breaking the deadlock.

Senator Shortridge declared today that if he could not get favorable action from the Finance Committee he will assure California a hearing by taking the fight to the floor. And as the other community-property State Senators are even more fearful of a public presentation of the matter than they are of possible consideration in committee it is possible the Senator's threat may have beneficial results.

EXPERTS AT WORK

It is known that the Bureau of Internal Revenue has had a corps of attorneys at work for the past year studying all the laws and court decisions in each of the community-property States. Consequently, if the community-property subject is opened in Congress on the revenue bill the seven other States are alarmed lest the Treasury make a demand on their taxpayers for back taxes as far as the five-year statute of limitations will permit and also will refuse to accept community-property returns in the future.

Senator Shortridge has two amendments prepared for introduction at the proper time, one for the estate tax and the other for the income tax. Each would provide refunds for California taxpayers on taxes paid on the noncommunity-property basis in the past. In the case of the income tax this may mean between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 in refunds and in the case of the estate taxes the amount is estimated at $10,000,000.

Missioner Defies Egyptian Decree

CAIRO (Egypt) April 20. (AP)—Newspapers today said that Dr. Samuel Marinus Zwemer, American missionary and author, has been asked by the Minister of Pious Foundations to return his permit for visiting the mosques because he is alleged to have distributed tracts at Azhar University.

Dr. Zwemer, who has lived in Cairo many years, refused to return the permit and the Egyptian government asked the American Legation to intervene. The government is to be questioned in Parliament about missionary activity in Egypt.

Employment on Upward Trend

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The advent of spring has produced an upward trend to employment totals over the country generally.

The United States Employment Service in its March survey today made the declaration and added the prediction that "the volume of employment throughout the country will continue to grow."

TWOSCORE BERKELEY CO-EDS WILL MARRY

BERKELEY, April 20. (AP)—Thirty-nine women students of the University of California will marry shortly after their graduation next month, it was learned here today. The women announced their engagements themselves. More announcements are expected May 11 at the farewell senior women's banquet.

AIR PIONEERS IN ORGANIZATION

Aviation Industry Leaders Start Movement at Detroit Show

DETROIT, April 20. (AP)—An organization, the purpose of which is to perpetrate the accomplishments of pioneer airmen, has been formed by leaders of the industry attending the all-American aircraft show.

The association is to be known as the Pioneers of America's Aviation, and Glenn Curtiss and Glenn L. Martin were chosen president and vice-president, respectively.

By-laws provide that membership shall be restricted to those persons who were "making a living out of aviation in 1916 or prior years, and who still are engaged in it, either as designers, builders, pilots or mechanics."

Pugilist Hurt in Match Dies

DEFIANCE (O.) April 20. (AP)—Howard Lain, 19 years of age, boxer, died here today from injuries received in a boxing match with Frankie Jar, Fort Wayne, Ind., here Wednesday. Lain was knocked down in the fifth round. In falling his head struck the edge of the ring, causing concussion of the brain.

Angeleno Heads Lutheran Synod

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (AP) Rev. A. P. G. Anderson of Los Angeles was elected president of the California synod of the Lutheran church at its annual convention here today.

Other officers elected were: Vice-president, Rev. C. G. Anderson, Sacramento; secretary, Rev. C. B. E. Friedstrom, Palo Alto; treasurer, E. E. Peterson, Kingsburg; statistician, Rev. C. W. Samuelson, Turlock. The convention will end Sunday.

PROFESSORS FOUND NEW FACULTY CLUB

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Professors of the University of Southern California are sponsors of the Faculty Club for which articles of incorporation today were filed with Secretary of State Jordan. The purpose of the club is to promote social acquaintance of the members who will be expressly prohibited from using the organization "as a means of furthering any personal, political or other aspiration." Among the directors are Louis Wann, Justin Miller, Hugh C. Willett, Arnold H. Wagner and Elmer D. Pagan, all of Los Angeles.

"Lazarus" Held a Fourth Week

So great is the demand for seats for the production of "Lazarus Laughed" at the Pasadena Community Playhouse that the management has decided to add a fourth week.

Neither for financial reasons nor for the satisfaction of the pride the Playhouse and Gilmor Brown feel in the success of this outstanding achievement, is the extension of the play dictated, it is averred. Instead, it is characterized as a matter of duty toward the theater-going public. While every effort has been made to provide seats where and when wanted, the fact that the Playhouse seats only 620, is a limitation that cannot be overcome in any other way than by adding another week to the run.

Headliners Are Coming to Town

Starting with the engagement Sunday of Winnie Lightner, late star of "Gay Paree" and George White's "Scandals," the Orpheum Theater announces the forthcoming appearances of a group of celebrities.

Elsie Janis, week of May 20; Mme. Nazimova, week of June 3; Ted Lewis and Band, week of June 10. Eugene O'Brien and company, and James Barton are of particular note among others listed.

ALTERED POLICY HAS SUPPORT OF OFFICIAL

One of the most significant alterations of a theater's policy along the local rialto in recent months will be inaugurated at the Criterion Theater Wednesday, when the two-a-day policy upon which that house lately has been operated, will give way to a new continuous plan.

"Sunrise," the William Fox special, which stars Janet Gaynor and George O'Brien, together with Fox Movietone symphony accompaniment, is the opening attraction under the new policy.

ENTITLED TO REPRESENT

Maurice Murphy, screen juvenile, last week won the competition in the Beverly Hills High School which entitles him to represent the boys of the institution in the Shakespearean contest, to be held today in the Pasadena Community Playhouse, and in which young elocutionists from all Southern California schools will strive to win final honors in declamation.

HOPWOOD FARCE IS PURE NOW

"Ladies' Night in Turkish Bath" Funny and Cleaner; Prologue Scores

BY MARQUIS BUSBY

"Ladies' Night in a Turkish Bath," which was a red-hot stage comedy in the comparatively staid days of four or five years ago, has been whitewashed prettily for its motion-picture debut. The First National picture of the same name which opened at Loew's State yesterday does very nicely for family consumption.

It isn't naughty in the slightest degree, don't let the tobacco title fool you, but it is funny.

I have a suspicion that Avery Hopwood, who wrote the play, would have a hard time recognizing his brain child if he should happen to wander into Loew's these days. "Ladies' Night" has been treated to some liberal injections of gags. Much of the grafting onto the original plot is successful.

"Ladies' Night" tells the story of a poor family's advent from downtown to uptown New York. When they sold box lunches they were happy. In their uptown apartment, filled with elegant Grand Rapids furniture, things don't go so well. Ma starts to diet, and daughter wears daring dresses. She almost loses her steel-riveter boy friend through a pseudo flirtation with a city slicker. Things come to a lively climax when the boy friend and pa walk out after a family quarrel and visit a speak-easy. Ma and daughter go to the turkish bath to take off a few pounds. The speak-easy, next door to the bath establishment, is raided, and the two men hide from the police in the reducing emporium.

The original story was rather rambling and fragile. Thanks to good direction and story treatment the picture version is interesting. It is considerably better than any recent Jack Mulhall and Dorothy Mackaill co-starring picture. Jack plays the steel-riveter beau with gusto and Dorothy Mackaill is a pleasing gyeful as the heroine.

Much of the merriment is created by James Finlayson as Pa Sylvia Ashton as Ma, and Guinn Williams as Sweeny, Jack's pal. Sweeny is a pleasantly dumb individual with a unique taste in haircuts.

One of the highlights of the picture comes when Ma is mistaken for a runaway "coach" dancer. Ma's super-dreadnaught lines rather belie the mistaken identity idea but it is funny.

Reed Howe is the city slicker, with Ethel Wales and Harvey Clark completing the cast.

Titles are very good at times, and like the little girl and her curl, when they are bad, they're very bad indeed.

Lupino Lane is the star of an elaborate two-reel comedy, "Fandango," in which the little comedian emulates the acrobatics of Douglas Fairbanks. The leading lady is very pretty.

Paschon and Marco outdo past efforts this week in the gorgeous stage presentation, "Sally from Hollywood," featuring the pulchritudinous Sally Rand. Settings and costumes are most spectacular. Miss Rand pleases in her adagio dance with Harvey Karels, and again in the lively jazz number with the 12 Male Steppers. Her gowns are elaborate. The 12 Male Steppers are all proficient tap dancers, with Bob and Jack Crosby scoring heavily with their feature number. Treen and Barnett, a comedy duo, are old favorites.

Benny Rubin is master of ceremonies and introduces an amusing blackout skit.

Orchestra List Now Revised

Owing to lack of rehearsal time, Conductor Schneevoigt has found it necessary to make a change in the Sunday-afternoon program to be given by the Philharmonic Orchestra at the Philharmonic Auditorium tomorrow afternoon.

"Elfrith Idyll," by Reginald Pole, dedicated to the memory of Walter Henry Rothwell, will be omitted.

The program to be given is as follows:

Overture, "Leonore," No. 3, Opus 72b.....Beethoven

Concerto for piano, No. 3, in C Minor, Opus 37.....Beethoven
Allegro con brio.
Largo.
Allegro.
Edna Sheehan.

Symphonic Poem, No. 3, "Les Preludes".....Liszt

Two Movements from "Bourrique" Suite.....Fevrier
(a) Danse d'Anes.
(b) Cortege de Mariage.

OWNER ASKS JOLSON TO APPEAR AT TOWER

H. L. Gumbiner, owner of the Tower Theater, and Charles Michelstetter, general manager, announced yesterday that they were negotiating with Al Jolson for him to appear in person at the opening of "The Jazz Singer" at the Tower Theater on May 2.

Jolson will arrive in town to be present for the inauguration of the Warner Brothers' Theater in Hollywood Thursday, and it is said that he may remain for the Tower show.

PUPILS TO BE HEARD

Pupils of Adelaide Gosnell-Lee, pianist, and Ertie Savery and Cora Gosnell, assistant teachers, will be presented in recital this evening at the Culver City grammar school.

ZIEGFELD STAR APPEARS HERE

Ann Pennington, Ziegfeld star and hit of George White's "Scandals," is to make her first appearance in several years in a motion-picture theater in Los Angeles.

Harold B. Franklin announces that the diminutive dancing star, who originated the Black Bottom, has been signed by Fanchon and Marco for their "Great White Way" idea at Loew's State the week of May 4, and for the entire West Coast circuit.

COLLIER SIGNS WITH WARNERS

Young Player Probably Will Have Long-Term Contract; "Tiger Skin" is Alluring Title of Glyn Story; Archainbaud Directs "Grain of Dust"

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Although the series of pictures for which William Collier, Jr., signed up with Warner Brothers will soon be completed, the popular juvenile star will not move his belongings off the Warner lot. He was engaged yesterday by Darryl Zanuck, associate executive, for two additional pictures. Moreover, following that engagement, he will probably be signed by Warners on a long-term contract.

BUSTER COLLIER

The young scion of the famous Collier family has made a hit in the newly formed romantic comedy team of which Audrey Ferris is the other half. Buster and Audrey recently completed "No Questions Asked." They are to be teamed in future, probably in both pictures for which Collier has just been signed.

Elinor Glyn's M.-G.-M. Story

The mystery is solved, or at least we are now in a fair way of guessing its solution. I mean as to Elinor Glyn's first picture for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer under her new contract. Harking back to "Three Weeks," one can safely conjecture what the nature of "Tiger Skin," which is the title of her M.-G.-M. story, will be.

AILEEN PRINGLE

So far no leading lady has been settled on for "Tiger Skin" but it is known that Aileen Pringle, who made her first big success in "Three Weeks," will be at liberty so far as the Cody-Pringle M.-G.-M. tie-up is concerned, after their present picture is finished; and it is whispered that this fascinating leading lady will be the choice of Mrs. Glyn and of M.-G.-M. for the role.

Hope Hampton Departs

Hope Hampton managed to coax her husband, Jules Brulatour, head of the Eastman film business, to remain in the West two more days. They will leave today, however, for New York, whence they will sail almost at once for Europe, where Miss Hampton has an engagement to play in a color film to be made in Paris.

They expect to return next fall, when Miss Hampton will have a try-out for leading roles with the Civic Grand Opera Company.

Larry Grey Is Signed

Tiffany-Stahl's "answer" to companionate marriage, which, as we already know, will reach the screen as "Marriage of Tomorrow," will have Lawrence Grey in the masculine lead.

Patsy Ruth Miller is the star of the piece.

Tiffany-Stahl's Phillips Story

David Graham Phillips's story, "A Grain of Dust," is to reach the screen via the Tiffany-Stahl center of film art and culture, we are informed. Indeed it is to be one of the firm's big releases for next year.

George Archainbaud is to direct, and he is busy just now selecting the leading lady, who isn't to be pretty, or at least not very pretty, but who must have a lot of charm that will register on the screen. And he's having a tough time finding her.

Mae Busch Is Hurt

Suffering a bad fall through a trap door on the stage, when, in the last act of "From Hell Came a Lady," at the Hollywood Playhouse, Mae Busch, leading lady, failed to tumble into the arms of the property man stationed in the basement to catch her, the actress was knocked unconscious by the fall and sustained bad bruises. The accident occurred Wednesday night, but Thursday night, after a day spent in bed, Miss Busch returned to her role.

Jack Holt's Columbia

Columbia still has strings on Jack Holt, as you know. He has returned, all sunburned, from Utah, where he has been acting in "The Vanishing Pioneer," a Zane Gray story, for Paramount.

JACK HOLT

Now Columbia is getting his next story ready for him, a story which we can only guess will be a western, but the author of which we learn is Winifred Dunn, who has just been signed by Columbia to write yarns for it.

In the meantime Holt and his company left last night for Yosemite to take the few remaining shots of the Gray story.

Monte Blue to Europe

The same ship which takes Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks to Europe also will convey Monte Blue and his wife, it became known yesterday. The pair sail May 15 from New York.

The Warner star is having plenty of traveling in his young life these days. He has just returned from a long sojourn in Tahiti, whither he went as hero of M.-G.-M.'s "Southern Skies."

Ray Hatton Free Lances

Free lancing will be the pleasant occupation of Ray Hatton, following the expiration of his current contract with Paramount, it has just been learned. The famous Beery-Hatton comedy team has been split up.

Hatton has a number of private business ventures on his hands, including oil wells on the Ventura coast. After attending to these matters, he and Mrs. Hatton will take a trip to Europe.

DOUBLE BILL COMES IN

With a special section of the auditorium roped off for celebrities of the speaking stage, the Metropolitan Theater will present today a double bill consisting of Norma Shearer in "The Actress," and a public stage revue, "The Mikado of Jazz!"

"The Actress," reported to be Miss Shearer's finest recent accomplishment, is based on Pinero's "Trelawney of the Wells," and is the story of the life and loves of an actress.

"The Mikado of Jazz" is the modernized, syncopated version of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta, "The Mikado," with an augmented cast and orchestra.

WEIRD DOINGS IN OLD HOUSE FILMED

"Thirteenth Hour" Brings Lionel Barrymore and Assorted Villains to Screen

"The Thirteenth Hour," a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production directed by Chester Franklin, qualifies as the latest of the visual penny-dreadfuls to reach the local cinema houses. It is being shown at the Boulevard Theater in conjunction with a series of stage features in which the names of Lynn Cowan and his Jazz Jesters; "Buddy" Pollard; Thelma Daniels, comedienne; Jack Kates, singer and dancer; the Pearl Twins, acrobatic dancers, and a "Varsity Drag" contest, stand out prominently.

No effort, the observer concludes, has been made to clarify with a strain of reason or logic, the unbelievable episodes which race after each other 'n the film piece. Lionel Barrymore, splendid actor that he is when cast in really responsible roles, hunches his shoulders, draws back his lips in a perpetual leer and staggers under the weight of a white wig for all the world as though he were doing an imitation of his brother John doing an imitation of Mr. Hyde.

The eldest Barrymore appears as one Prof. Leroy a well-known criminologist who is none other than —you've guessed it!—the arch-conspirator in a band of notorious lawbreakers. Galloping hither and yon across the screen at frequent intervals, like a penguin or a Northwest Mounted Policeman on to get his man, is Napoleon, a dog which everybody addresses, quite touchingly, as "old pal" or "old man."

But the unsung hero of "The Thirteenth Hour" (and it may as well be explained right now, just so there won't be any come-back, that the thirteenth hour is the first hour after midnight) is the carpenter who built the sets. Swear alive! there isn't a wall or a door or a panel in old Prof. Leroy's forbidding castle of horrors that doesn't slide up, down, backward or forward! (And someday someone will make a moving picture showing the architect who built one of these places coming home after imbibing too freely, and he will get all mixed up with his old buttons and traps, and finally he will bring a sledge-hammer down on the top of his head, and that will be the end of him.)

Charles Delaney makes a personable juvenile who, with limited opportunities, reveals likable qualities which will be seen to better advantage another time, in all probability. The heroine of the stilted romance is Jacquelin Gadsden; and Polly Moran and Fred Kelsey round out the hard-working cast.

The Boulevard organist has gone to some pains to embellish the picture with suitable rumbling effects. The picture itself has its holding moments, but it is far from being the best of its kind.

"Snub" Pollard graces the screen in "The Bum's Rush," a comedy, besides doing his turn in the stage act.

Feld Computes Incoming Cash

As "From Hell Came A Lady" completes the first week of its run today, Fritz Feld, manager of productions and associate director for Joseph Schildkraut, announces that this production has broken all attendance records at the theater.

With many persons being turned away from the doors at last Saturday's opening, "From Hell Came A Lady" reportedly played again the following night to a sell-out. Monday evening was the most lucrative since the Play House opened more than a year ago, Tuesday topped the previous Tuesday record, Feld discovers. The remainder of the week has held up to the same standard.

SHAKESPEARE DISSECTED

Hobart Bosworth has been selected to lecture at the Southwest Museum tomorrow afternoon, in honor of Shakespeare's birthday. The screen star is well qualified to speak in tribute to the Bard of Avon. During his long stage career, he appeared in twenty-two of Shakespeare's twenty-nine plays, a record that very few living actors, if any, can equal.

Nobile Opposes Game Slaughter

STOLP (Germany) April 20. (AP)—Umberto Nobile has no intention of hunting game when he takes the dirigible Italia into Polar regions.

"I am opposed in principle to killing animals," he said today.

"I wouldn't have the heart to kill anything. I am also hoping for the day when life will be regarded so sacred that nobody will go to war. Let's cultivate kindness to animals and then we will refrain from taking their lives, even for the purpose of the sanctity of life we also will be imbued with the consciousness of the sanctity of life we will step be a huge step nearer to the elimination of wars."

HALL-MILLS "CONFESSION" LAID TO BOOK OF CRIME MYSTERIES

EL RENO (Okla.) April 20. (AP)—Canadian county officials today believe they have an explanation of the "confession" of Edwin F. Allen, county prisoner, to the Hall-Mills murders in New Jersey and that one of the outstanding crimes of the decade still is unsolved.

C. A. Pearce, deputy sheriff, recalled today that Allen recently had a book, "Unsolved Mysteries," in his cell. The book contains a full account of the mysterious slaying of Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a member of his choir. The officers previously had been unable to account for Allen's apparent intimate knowledge of the crime and its locale, since he was in the Oklahoma penitentiary at McAlester during the trial of Mrs. Hall in 1926 and did not have access to newspaper accounts of the case.

D. D. Jennings, assistant County Attorney, today received a telegram from Francis L. Bergen, prosecutor at Somerville, N. J., which says he does not "believe a word" of Allen's confession.

The only explanation of county officials is that Allen has a horror of returning to the Oklahoma penitentiary, in which he served a year for forgery. He is held here on a second-degree burglary charge.

Fifty German Bodies Found

PARIS, April 20. (AP)—The bodies of fifty German soldiers have been found in a large concrete dugout at Chevregny, Aisne department, says a dispatch from the correspondent of Le Journal.

A farmer, engaged in enlarging his cellar, located a subterranean passage unknown to him. He followed the tunnel for twenty yards and emerged into a large concrete dugout, where he came upon the bodies of the Germans. Some of them were seated around tables, others lying in bunks or outright on the ground, their rifles still hanging on hooks in the walls.

It is presumed that all were killed during a rest period by an asphyxiating gas shell.

CROP HELD CHATTEL

Court Rules Mortgage on Growing Oranges Prior Lien to Bank's

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (AP)—Although growing crops usually are considered part of the real-estate to which they are attached the Third District Appellate Court held today that under California laws they may also have the character of chattels.

In a case from Tulare county in which the First National Bank of Lindsay had foreclosed on the orange grove of James C. Garner, the Appellate Court altered the findings of the trial court to make a crop mortgage held by the Native Son Orchard Company a lien prior in effect to that of the bank. This rule will apply to crops growing and maturing on mortgaged premises up to the time of the expiration of the period of redemption from sale under order of foreclosure.

Teacher Pension Plan Advanced

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (AP)—An increased flat retirement salary for California public-school teachers, rather than a pension based upon a percentage of the earned salary, has been tentatively adopted by the legislative committee investigating the retirement fund, A. H. Heron, Director of Finance, and chairman, announced today.

The commission has decided tentatively, Heron reported, to work toward a salary of not less than $600 nor more than $900 and to assume that teachers withdrawing from the profession by death or otherwise, will receive refunds of their contributions.

The present retirement salary is $500 after thirty years' service, with a percentage salary if disability compels retirement earlier. However, no salary is paid if a teacher withdraws.

Oregon Hangs Two Slayers

SALEM (Or.) April 20. (AP)—James Willos and Ellsworthy Kelley paid the death penalty today at the Oregon State penitentiary for their participation in the prison break from that institution on August 12, 1925, in which two guards were killed.

Kelley was the first to mount the scaffold and the trap dropped from under him at 8:31 a.m. He was pronounced dead at 8:43. Willos dropped through the trap at 8:51 and was dead in twelve minutes.

The Candor Kid

"Meet Mister Smith!"

"Sorry," said the Soul of Candor, "but I must decline to meet you, Mr. Smith. You are doubtless a worthy person, and I have nothing whatsoever against you. But I have far too many friends as it is. My social obligations are fast driving me to distraction. If I agreed to meet you now, the agreement would be a mere form, an empty sham, a hollow mockery. I would probably never say hello to you again. Not through any dislike of you, but rather for lack of time. It is such a hurried world we live in. Extremely sorry, Mr. Smith, not to be able to meet you, and I hope—cordially—never to see you again!"

That raw meat diet is making Marty Krug's ambitious Angels sure vicious every day. They reached the stage yesterday where they were hitting a guy who wore glasses, which, I believe, is a penitentiary offense. However, being Angels, penitentiaries hold no terrors for them and they walloped out an 11-to-4 victory over Sacramento to tie the series in a funny 2-all knot.

The Senators swatted the offerings of four Sacramento hurlers for a total of twenty hits and made it a simple matter for "Speck" Reis to turn in his first win of the season. Elmer (Speck) Sheis, the associated "light-hammer," started on the mound for Sacramento and the Angels knocked him out of the box in a hurry, the second inning to be exact. "Sheriff" Shigle-man held little over an inning and Buddy Ryan sent out Wally Gerkell, a youthful southpaw, to take the rest of the humiliation that poured out of the Angel bats.

Wes Schulmerich and Walker Berger, Marty Krug's prize outfielding recruits, led the Angel attack that smothered the Sacramento pitchers under a barrage of hits and runs. Schulmerich shammed out five safeties in five times at bat for a perfect afternoon at the plate, while Berger connected with a home run, a double and a single in five trips to the rubber.

BERGER COAST BAMBINO

Berger's homer came in the first inning with two men on, was his second in as many days and his fifth of the season. Berger is now leading the league in the husky art of clouting circuit clouts, his four-ply yesterday putting him one ahead of "Babe" Tuhson and Dave Dittmar.

Dittmar played a sensational game at short for the Cherhorsemen, eleven chances perfect and making one bobble. No less than two of Dittmar's fan assists were brilliant plays. He was

This picture proves that Paul Revere and Jesse James were not the only persons to bust into print on horseback. Cobb and Speaker Play Big Part in Macks' Win

Crowd of 50,000 Fans Sees New Yorkers Beaten

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Robert Moses Grove, the Philadelphia southpaw, who gave the Yankees their only shutout in a championship game in 1927, outpitched George Pipgras and Wiley Moore before 50,000 fans here today as the Athletics nosed out the world champions, 2 to 1, in the opening game of the American League season in New York.

LEFTY GROVE

Grove gave the Yanks ony five hits, held Ruth and Gehrig to one single between them, and struck out eight, mostly on caled third strikes.

Pipgras held the Athletics hitless for five innings, but the veteran Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker then began turning the tide in Philadelphia's favor. Singles by Bishop, Cobb and Speaker gave the Mackmen one run in the seventh, but the Yankees tied the score in the seventh, when Dugan scored on a sacrifice fly by Paschal, pinch batsman for Pipgras.

With Moore in the box Cobb opened the ninth with a high fly which Combs lost in the sun for a three-base hit. Ty came home on Speaker's sacrifice fly to Combs.

Pipgras and Moore held the Athletics to five hits, but four of them were so bunched as to be effective in scoring.

The game was preceded by the usual opening-day ceremonies and both the American League and the world's championship pennants were raised under the Stars and Stripes.

Gehrig received from E. S. Barnard, president of the American League, a diploma as the most valuable player in the circuit last year. Members of the Yankees received world championship emblems, diamond rings, from Commissioner Landis. Score:

Glenn Gabler to Pitch for Angels Today

Glenn Gabler, the 18-year-old Angel right-hander, who is being hailed as the greatest young pitching prospect ever landed by a local Coast League club, will be on the mound for Los Angeles against Sacramento in today's Wrigley Field game. It will be "Long Beach Day" at the local park, and Gabler, who hails from the beach city, will attempt to show the home folks how he baffles the opposition. It will be Gabler's first start this season, but he has shown so much ability in the times he was sent in for relief duty that Marty Krug believes he'll be able to turn in a victory. Rudy Kallio, veteran curve-ball pitcher, is scheduled to pitch for Sacramento, so a mound duel is expected. The series is tied, each team having won two thus far.

CHOICE TENNIS DISH ON TAP FOR SOUTHLAND FANS

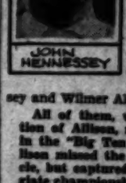
American Quartet Led by Tilden in Matches at Los Angeles Club With Picked Net Squad

BY PAUL LOWRY

The choicest tennis dish since Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson came to Southern California shores eight years ago will be served to a local public when the American Davis Cup squad meets a picked team of California stars at the L. A. Tennis Club this afternoon.

Southern California fans have seen French Davis Cup teams, Japanese Davis Cup teams, Australian Davis Cup teams, but this is the first bona fide appearance of a complete American Davis Cup team.

On it are a veteran and three youngsters. The veteran—Bill Tilden II—is the generalissimo of the outfit, and his gang of youths consist of Arnold Jones, John Hennessey and Wilmer Allison.



JOHN HENNESSEY

All of them, with the exception of Allison, ranked high up in the "Big Ten" last year. Allison missed the "Big Ten" circle, but captured the intercollegiate championship and looms as a future national king.

With the play spread over a two-day period—today and tomorrow—the schedule has been arranged so that all of the Davis Cup stars will be seen each day, although in different events. Hennessey, Jones and Allison will do the singles honors today, while Tilden, Hennessey and Allison will perform tomorrow.

Tilden will appear in two doubles matches today. In one he teams with the sempiternal Mrs. May Sutton Bundy to oppose big Cliff Herd and Helen Jacobs, the fourth ranking woman player in the country last year.

In the other match in which Big Bill will be called upon to exploit

MISSOURI MARATHON MAN WINS

John Gober Cops Lap in Pyle Race from Joplin to Miller

MILLER (Mo.) April 20. (AP)—John Gober of Moberly, Mo., who led the transcontinental runners into his home State yesterday, won the second Missouri lap today by completing the 46.7 miler from Joplin first in 6h. 55m. 42s.

His elapsed time of 452h. 43m. 44s. moves him up from thirty-seventh place. His new position will be determined tonight after all the runners come in. Yesterday Gober advanced four places in the standings by running away from all opposition.

C.C. PYLE

Peter Gavuzzi, holder of second place in elapsed time finished second today in 7h. 0m. 4s., elapsed time 303h. 2m. 44s.

Gavuzzi reported to the race officials that unsportsmanlike motorists today threatened to run him down, seriously handicapping his running.

Mike Joyce of Cleveland was third 7h. 45m. 47s.; elapsed time of 347h.

CHANNEL CITY GIRLS WIN

Santa Barbara's Gentler-Sex Poloists Trample on Uplifters Quartet in 7-to-2 Game

BY OLIVE HATCH

"Hold 'er Nellie! Hit it Kate!"

"Keep that mallot off my plate!"

What's it all about, you say? Why, it's a woman's honest-to-goodness polo game, with horses, mallets, chukkas, 'in all. Feminine polo players from Santa Barbara yesterday left the first hoof-prints to be recorded in local women's polo history when they galloped their Gudgeen mounts to a 7-2 victory over the Uplifters' women's team on the ranch club's home field.

Splendid horsemanship and clever mallet work featured the playing of the winning team. Experienced polo players in every sense of the word, the Santa Barbarans orange team sped over the field like lightning. Never missing a chance to strike at the ball, the northerners won their return challenge match against the Uplifters' with seven goals to two. The match held several weeks ago in Santa Barbara ended with a 6-to-0 score for the northerners, and

Bert Colima Stops Rival

Bert Colima defeated Lew Chester, rugged Pennsylvanian, last night by a technical knockout in the seventh round of the main event of the Hollywood Legion Stadium. Colima started out the seventh round strong, landing a barrage of straight lefts. Chester went down for the count of two on a left hook to the jaw. His handlers not wishing him to take any more punishment tossed in the towel.

The fight was Bert's all the way. Chester never had a chance. The eastern boy was simply out of his class. Colima won every round and

ST. MARY'S NINE DEFEATS TROJANS BY 5-TO-3 COUNT

Staging a rally in the seventh inning, Slip Madigan's St. Mary's nine trimmed the Southern California team, 5 to 3, before several thousand fans at Bovard Field yesterday afternoon. The score was tied, 2 to 2, when the Gaels put on their three-run splurge to win the contest. Poor base-running ruined several Trojan chances to score.

Three singles and some poor fielding by the Trojan infielders gave St. Mary's three runs in short order, Galindo's failure to catch a pop fly back of first base aiding the visitors not a little.

Hamilton for the Saints and Schulz for Southern California both pitched good ball. Schulz tried his best to win his own game when he banged out a homer in the ninth. Unfortunately none of his mates were on the bags at the time of his blow, a powerful swat to right field. The ball rolled through the gate out into the street.

The two teams play again today at 2:30 o'clock.

The score:

OCCIDENTAL NET TEAM DEFEATS POMONA SQUAD

CLAREMONT, April 20. (Exclusive)—Occidental College's powerful tennis team, captained by Ben Gorchakoff, Southland net star, successfully defended the Southern Conference racket championship here today by sweeping to an easy victory over the Pomona squad by 7 to 2 score. The Tigers won every match but two and in one of these they defaulted in order to save Osborne for the doubles.

The Pomona players accounted for only one actual victory during the afternoon when Donn Bent defeated Maeno in straight sets. The other victory credited to the Sagehen team was the Mills-Osborne match. Osborne defaulted to Mills in this affair after each player had taken one set. Capt. Gorchakoff ordered the Tiger player to give the match to Pomona so as to save his strength for the doubles.

The Tigers made a clean sweep in the doubles, although Gorchakoff and Robinson were pushed to three sets in order to defeat Arnold and Mills. Osborne and Kussman won an easy match from Zerbe and Bent in the other match.

The results:

Kussman (O.) defeated Zerbe (P.) 6-0, 6-1.
Gorchakoff (O.) defeated Arnold (P.) 6-, 6-4.
Bent (P.) defeated Maeno (O.) 8-6, 6-3.
Robinson (O.) defeated Ford (P.) 6-3, 6-.
Mills (P.) won by default from Osborne (O.)

DOUBLES

Osborne and Kussman (O.) defeated Zerbe and Bent (P.) 6-2, 6-1.
Gorchakoff and Robinson (O.) defeated Arnold and Mills (P.) 4-6, 6-2, 6-3.

WOODS'S APPROVAL NEEDED TO BRING STRANGLER LEWIS HERE

The final approval of James Woods, State Athletic Commissioner, is all that is needed now to insure the appearance of Ed "Strangler" Lewis, world mat king, at the Olympic May 2, in defense of his title against one of the group of heavyweights recently passed upon by the commissioner.

Billy Sandow, manager of Lewis, accepted one of fifteen challengers named by Promoter Lou Daro and Commissioner Woods a few days ago. Sandow wired his selection to Daro late yesterday.

Sandow's choice was entirely satisfactory to Daro, it was reported. The promoter declared he would not announce the title match until he had received Commissioner Woods's final approval. Woods is reported to be in Santa Barbara. He is expected to return to Los Angeles Monday, at which time the champion's challenger may be passed upon.

Teams Have Met Thirty-four Times During Past

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 20.—The Stanford campus is all set to receive the annual spring invasion of the University of California track team supporters, who will come down like the wolf on the fold, no doubt, but probably will not get much mutton. The Cardinal track and field team is conceded a certain victory in the meet, indeed a chance of getting more than 100 points and possibly all of the first places. There is not much the Californians can hope to do, except fight hard for Alma Mater.

EMERSON SPENCER

The meet tomorrow will be the thirty-fifth annual track clash between the two ancient rivals, and if Dink Templeton's Cardinals win, Stanford will, for the first time, lead in the total number of meets won. Since 1895, when competition commenced, California has won 16, Stanford 16, and two have resulted in ties.

About eight California-Stanford records are due to fall in the meet, namely those in the 440, the two-mile, the 120-yard high hurdles, the high jump, the pole vault, the discus throw, the broad jump, and the relay. All the marks are conceded to Stanford men, and if performances go as expected, the Cards will emerge from the meet holding fourteen out of fifteen California-Stanford marks.

Capt. Bud Spencer of Stanford will be gunning for the 440 mark, of 48 9-10s., set by Ted Miller, Stanford, in 1926. If the present stiff afternoon winds which are daily sweeping Palo Alto let up, he probably will break the record. Lank Talbot, captain of the Bears, will be pitted against Spencer and John Morrison in the single lap, and this race will be the feature of the day, because there is a great deal of Berkeley sentiment, fathered by Walter Christie, that Talbot will pick Spencer, while here, everyone thinks Morrison will beat the California entrant.

Johnny Lauritzen, Stanford sprinter, will be fighting against odds when he tries to place first in the 100 and 220. Ewing in the former and Van Gelder in the latter are favored to win. McKinnon, Stanford, is figured as a winner over Carter and Cherry in the mile.

Van Tress is slated to win the 880 over McGuire, Stanford, and those are about the only events which California possibly can win. Even then, Stanford might score an upset and end with a clean sweep of the firsts.

Following is a list of the California-Stanford dual meet track and field records:

100-yard dash—9 4-5s. Barter (C.,) 1926.
220-yard dash—20 4-5s. Kirksey (S.,) 2025. Campbell (S.,) 1925.
440-yard run—48 9-10s. Miller (S.,) 1926.
880-yard run—1m. 53 4-5s. Richardson (S.,) 1926.
One-mile run—4m. 20 1-5s. Wilson (S.,) 1914.
Two-mile run—9m. 42 1-10s. Stevens (C.,) 1923.
120-yard high hurdles—14 9-10s. Latzer (S.,) 1925.
220-yard low hurdles—23 9-10s. Valk (S.,) 1923.
16-pound shot put—48ft. 9¼in. Hartranft (S.,) 1924.
Javelin throw—200ft. 2in. Josquin (S.,) 1927.
Running high jump—6ft. 4¼in. Maher (C.,) 1918.
Pole vault—12ft. 11¼in. Hill (S.,) 1926.
Discus throw—153ft. 1¼in. Hoffman (S.,) 1927.
Running broad jump—24ft. 9¼in. Zumbro (S.,) 1927.
Four-man one-mile relay—3m. 16½ (Stanford). Morris, Richardson, Miller and Hall, 1926.

Following is a dope sheet of the meet, which gives Stanford a 100-31 victory:

	Stfd.	Cal.
100-yard dash—Ewing (C.,) Lauritzen (S.,) Kiel (C.)	3	6
220-yard dash—Van Gelder (C.,) Lauritzen (S.,) Ewing (C.)	3	6

looked as if his layoff had done him a world of good.

Joe Cordova defeated Pete M—y in the semi-wind-up. Joe, a wild rushing slugger, appears to have Myers's number, last night's victory marked his second win over the northern lad. Myers won the last engagement o na foul. Cordova being overly anxious to hit him while he was still down. Last night, however, Cordova redeemed himself with a clean-cut decision over Myers. The match was a wild affair, both boxers giving and taking plenty of tough wallops.

In the opening bout of the evening, Wellington O'Connor won by a technical knockout over Del Monte. The bout was stopped in the fourth spasm after Monte had absorbed quite a lot of punishment. The second preliminary tangle went to a draw, Elias Cantere, subbing for Americo Fontana, showing up well against Tony Portillo. The special event decision was awarded to Louis Contreras, who outpointed Sammy Rothstein.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

THE Hon. Luigi Daro, Glendale's great contribution to the art of wrestling promotion, has been accused recently of painting his hair gray. As the Hon. Daro is a staid and respectable citizen of the fastest growing city in the United States (adv.) and does not go in for nose remodeling and face lifting as do members of a rival profession, the cauliflower industry, he denies the accusation with considerable heat—such as an honored Glendale gentleman can generate.

Rather, says the Hon. Daro, his crop of gray hairs are due to an unfortunate situation in the wrestling industry which has arisen since Joe Stecher, the languid farmer of Nebraska, permitted Ed "Strangler" Lewis to separate him from the heavyweight grappling crown. Stecher grappled rather frequently for the Hon. Daro, but since Lewis became the king, it's different. Now it develops that the Strangler is perfectly willing to be put on exhibition, but he and his manager, Billy Sandow, have reserved the right to pick the opponent of the champion.

Up to this point the matter has been wholly one between Promoter Daro and Wrestler Lewis, plus Manager Sandow. But unfortunately for the Messrs. Lewis and Sandow the California Athletic Commission is represented in the Los Angeles district by a very able commissioner—Mr. James Woods—and when Mr. Woods is asked to sanction a match between Strangler Lewis and Pat McGill, he balks. Mr. Woods says that inasmuch as Lewis and McGill have already wrestled some fifty times or more and are even now engaged in a barnstorming tour he can see no reason for the same act appearing in Los Angeles, which takes its wrestling seriously—or some portions of it at any rate.

Mr. Daro also would much rather have the Strangler grapple someone else than McGill, but he is somewhat in the position of a person out on a high limb without a soft place to light. Mr. Daro is told by Mr. Sandow that the Strangler will wrestle only foes that have the Sandow okeh. If the Strangler won't wrestle anyone else Mr. Daro would much rather have him wrestle Pat McGill than go without a show.

But Mr. Daro would much rather please Mr. Woods than Mr. Sandow, no matter how much new gray hair he develops from worry over the matter. So now he is engaged in a telegraphic assault upon Mr. Sandow which is designed to bring about a match between the Strangler and some member of the toe-twisting industry less commonly known to have had his shoulders pinned a dozen times by the Strangler.

Nick Lutze has been mentioned as one of the eligibles Mr. Lewis might wrestle, and Mr. Daro is lying awake nights praying that fortune still smile on a fat man who has always been kind to his wife and children.

NET CLASSIC ON TAP HERE

his wares he pairs with Arnold Jones to meet Gerald Stratford and Ben Gerchakoff, the Occidental star who went to the finals of the intercollegiates last year.

JONES TO SHOW

The day's singles matches will see Gerchakoff drawing Arnold Jones, the former Yale star, giving this match sort of intercollegiate complexion; Hennessey meeting Gerald Stratford, Southern California champion, and Allison tackling big Cliff Herd, who plays tennis as fluently as he does the mouth organ or coaches football.

The matches today start promptly at 1 o'clock and are open to the public for nothing more or less than the price of a ticket, according to an announcement last night by W. M. Henry, president of the Los Angeles Tennis Club. The courts are located on Clinton street near Cole, not far from the Wilshire Country Club.

The complete two days' schedule follows:

TODAY

1 o'clock—Arnold Jones (Davis cup) vs. Ben Gerchakoff.
2 o'clock—Bill Tilden and Mrs. Mar Sutton Bundy vs. Cliff Herd and Helen Jacobs.
3 o'clock—John Hennessy (Davis cup) vs. Gerald Stratford.
4 o'clock—Bill Tilden and Arnold Jones (Davis cup) vs. Gerald Stratford and Ben Gerchakoff.
5 o'clock—Wilmer Allison (Davis cup) vs. Cliff Herd.

TOMORROW

1 o'clock—John Hennessy (Davis cup) vs. Cliff Herd.
2 o'clock—Wilmer Allison (Davis cup) vs. Ben Gerchakoff.
3 o'clock—Bill Tilden (Davis cup) vs. Gerald Stratford.
4 o'clock—Bill Tilden and Helen Jacobs vs. Arnold Jones and Mar Sutton Bundy.
5 o'clock—John Hennessey and Wilmer Allison (Davis cup) vs. Cliff Herd and Dale Isenhuth.

OCCIDENTAL AWARDS PUCK TEAM LETTERS

With the Southern California hockey season over, Occidental's letter men for the 1928 season were announced yesterday by Manager Alfred King. Capt. Hu Noble, and Charles Paap, forwards; Art Kroman, goalie; Arthur Pomoroy, center; George Juetti and Al King, guards, will be awarded letters at the student assembly next week. Coy's intercollegiate representatives were second in the final standings, with the S.C. troupe led by Morley Drury given first honors, and the U.C. at L.A. rated No. 3.

RAINBOW CLUB TO PLANT MORE TROUT

Pleasant weather continues to favor members of the Rainbow Angling Club in their expeditions against the willy trout. Daily crowds have been exceptionally large the last couple of weeks, declares manager Leigh Garnsey. Garnsey also announces that 2000 eight-inch trout will be planted in a private stream near Santa Paula for the Petroleum Securities Corporation. Many others are contemplating procuring grown trout for the Rainbow Club for planting in private streams.

MAGDALENO GETS RING TEST TONIGHT

Mateo Magdaleno, popular 122-pounder, gets his greatest test tonight, when he meets Billy Hart in the main event at the Main-street A.C. Mateo has been meeting some of the toughest of his weight in these parts for the past several months bu tin Hart he goes up against a boy that is both hard as nails and a great boxer.

Promoter Carlo Curtis presents twenty-eight rounds of boxing tonight at the downtown club and promises that each of the six bouts will furnish the fans with plenty of satisfaction. A number of new faces will appear in the prelims, all vouched for by the matchmaker.

Shot put—48ft. 3in. by Houser (Oxnard,) 1922.
Discus throw—147ft. ¼in. by Houser (Oxnard,) 1922.

Hollywood Aims to Check Lewis

Just as the cry went up during the closing weeks of the local puck race for the Richfield Oilers to stop Gene Carrigan, now the same cry is being sounded by members of the Hollywood Millionaires to put the brakes on Herbie Lewis, sensational center ice player of the Minneapolis Millers.

Lewis was the individual star of the Millers' 3-to-0 win over Hollywood in the opening game of the East-West series Thursday night, scoring two of his team's goals. Cooney Weiland, another lightweight, notched the other marker, and was a close second to Lewis for individual honors.

Another packed house is expected for the Winter Garden Monday night when the teams clash in the second game of their series. More than 5000 fans jammed their way into the Van Ness-avenue inclosure Thursday night to see the two championship teams in action.

There was little to choose between the clubs in the opener, the chief factors in the Hollywood defeat being the spurts by Lewis and Weiland that resulted in goals. The local team had a goodly share of the play, and might have broken into the score column several times if any other than Tiny Thompson had been guarding the Miller net. Thompson is a cool individual who makes the tough ones look easy.

BEARS AND CARDS TO TANGLE ON DIAMOND

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, April 20. (AP)—Stanford and California baseball teams will play the third game of their annual series here tomorrow. California already has cinched the series by taking the first two games.

ATHLETES MIX TODAY IN JUNIOR OLYMPICS MEETS

Outstanding junior athletes representing nine Los Angeles municipal playgrounds will compete against each other in the Junior Olympics today, when the first three of the seven district playground elimination meets to qualify boys for the city-wide playground final meet are held. The first meet is scheduled for the Harbor District at 9 a.m., while the next two meets will be held in the Bay district and North district at 1 p.m.

The Harbor District meet, in which high-point men from Anderson Memorial, Terminal Island, and Fort MacArthur playgrounds will compete, is expected to result in Anderson Memorial capturing the lion's share of the honors in the senior division. J. Thaens, M. Kadomathe and L. Eryas have all rolled up high scores in the senior division at Anderson, and unless the boys from Terminal Island and Fort MacArthur playgrounds have shown great improvement since the individual playground meets of two weeks ago, the Anderson seniors should be top-heavy favorites. In the junior section, however, any boy is liable to walk away with premier honors, with no one standing out above the field.

In the Bay District meet, which brings together Sawtelle and Venice playgrounds, J. Shay of Sawtelle looks like the boy to watch in the senior division, according to his mark of 414 in the Sawtelle final meet. H. Kruse of Venice, and several other boys, should give Shay some hot competition. In the junior division, T. Dickson of Sawtelle and B. Brighton of Venice will battle for top honors, with other boys strongly in the running.

Jerry Deal, the Arroyo Seco playground junior whose mark of 422 was within 33 points of the junior record in the Junior Olympics held by Harold Baker of Syracuse, N. Y., will attempt to break this record in the North District meet, in which Arroyo Seco, Griffith Park, Verdugo, and Yosemite playgrounds will be entered. With the added practice that he has had since he made his last mark, Deal would not surprise his friends if he shattered young Baker's mark this afternoon. In this same division, William Hirohito of Verdugo and Cliff Crandell of Yosemite will be working to push Deal to his utmost to win.

The North District senior division will bring together Robert Alaine of Yosemite and a young man named Doyle of Arroyo Seco. Alaine's previous mark of 440, made two weeks ago, makes him the favorite in this division, but Doyle, Thomas Peterson of Verdugo, and other boys all stand a good chance of winning first place in this division.

The North District meet will be held at Arroyo Seco playground, the Harbor District events at San Pedro High School, and the Bay District eliminations at Sawtelle playground. Medals for the boys who placed first and second in the individual playground finals held two weeks ago will be awarded at these district meets. At each district meet, the ten boys making the highest scores will qualify for the big city-wide playgrounds meet, scheduled for May 5, in which the Junior Olympics champions of the Los Angeles playgrounds will be chosen.

WADHAMS GOES NORTH TO SEE EMANUEL IN M'TIGUE BATTLE

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams leaves this morning on a scouting tour of the north. He will visit San Francisco and look over the curves of Mike McTigue next Monday night when the ex-champion faces the left-handed decorator, Armand Emanuel.

HAYDEN WADHAMS

If McTigue is as bold in the ring as he talks outside concerning his seasoned ability Wadhams expects to sign him to box Cowboy Jack Willis for the Olympic main event May 8. Willis has already agreed to take the match.

Wadhams yesterday signed Eddie Shea, Chicago featherweight, and Midget Mike O'Dowd for the windup on May 1. Shea will leave for the coast immediately with his manager, Joe Glaser. O'Dowd boxed in San Francisco last night.

Frank Churchill wired Wadhams yesterday he was leaving Chicago for Los Angeles and would arrive here Monday. Churchill is all "smoked up" over the chances of his Filipino flyweight, Speedy Dado, to win the Pacific Coast flyweight title from Newsboy Brown next Tuesday night.

The Brown-Dado battle is being watched all over the country due to its importance as an elimination among the 115-pounders.

The program now if Dado wins from Brown is to send him against Frankie Genaro here and then take him to New York to box Corp. Izzy Schwartz.

In three fights Dado has a chance to become recognized as the flyweight champion of the world, successor to Pancho Villa and Fidel La Barba. It is a rough road to travel, but no harder than Villa rode through to success when he boxed Frankie Mason, Johnny Buff, Genaro and Jimmy Wilde to become a world's champion.

Dado and Brown will wind up their training tomorrow. Dado boxed five rounds with Benny Marks at the Manhattan Gymnasium yesterday. It was a thrilling workout.

Both Dado and Brown announced they would be down to weight by next Tuesday without any difficulty.

Smoky Joe Woods and William Johnson, heavies, meet in the semi-wind-up.

KEARNS-VERSUS-DEMPSEY SUIT DRAGS ON---HO-HUM!

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—A parade of famous sport figures under names little known to fight fandom, a personal appearance of Jack Dempsey, and a legal tiff that almost required a ring for settlement, featured the middle rounds today of Jack Kearns's battle of the $701,063 with the former heavyweight champion in United States District Court.

Kearns came into court as plain John McKiernon. Tex Rickard was there, but only as George Lewis Rickard to interrogating attorneys. the old Manassa Mauler twice answered a call for William Harrison Dempsey. Billy Gibson, manager of Champion Gene Tunney, became a dignified "William H." on the witness stand. The court failed to ask Lew Raymond, New York matchmaker, his real name.

JUDGE ISSUES WARNING

All but Kearns were called to the witness stand to establish contracts Dempsey entered into and runs of money he earned between 1924 and 1926. Kearns charges breach of contract in that he was not paid one-third of the former title-holder's earnings during that time. Raymond testified that Dempsey still considered Kearns his manager in September of 1925, when a bout was being arranged betwe n Jack and Harry Wills at South Bend, Ind.

In the late afternoon Arthur N. Driscoll, chief attorney for Dempsey, accused Arthur N. Sa.er, head of the Kearns legal array, of conducting the plaintiff's case "sloppily." Judge John C. Knox spiked hostilities when he warned all hands that he was the referee and that "I'm running this trial."

Kearns sprang a surprise when he called Dempsey as a witness. Over the strenuous objection of his own counsel. Dempsey told of earning various sums through exhibition bouts between September 1, 1924, and July 1, 1926, for which he made no accounting to Kearns. The former champion said he received $450,000 and Gene Normile, then his business manager, $200,000 for the fight with Tunney in 1926. Earlier in the day Tex Rickard testified that he paid Dempsey $700,000 for the match.

Lew Raymond, associated with Paddy Mullins, in the management of Harry Wills, testified that Dempsey signed to fight the negro in South Bend in September of 1925. Raymond declared that in his presence Dempsey said:

"Kearns will get his end of this. I just want to keep him away from my camp. Kearns is still my manager."

Dempsey was recalled to the stand to testify that this match never took place because of failure to post the guarantee he demanded.

CONTRACTS RELATED

Rickard told of the various contracts made with Dempsey and Tunney for their first match, revealing that at least three separate sets of articles were entered into with the former champion. Kearns figured in these negotiations. Later Billy Gibson took the stand to show that the fight actually took place under a separate agreement signed September 16, 1926, in Philadelphia a few days before the bout.

In the opening statements at the morning session, Kearns's attorney declared that Dempsey was bound to his client by a three-year contract executed in 1923. He alleged that relations became strained between Kearns and Dempsey after the former champion married Estelle Taylor in 1924 and that they decided to part because their "families didn't get along."

Dempsey's answer said the contract was made merely to fulfill the requirements of the New York State Athletic Commission, and that Kearns, when settlement was made, "talked him into" accepting a $220,000 hotel in Los Angeles for an apartment-house valued at $300,000.

OBSERVATIONS

By THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER BILL HENRY

THE two-day series of matches between the American Davis Cup team and an all-California group scheduled for today and tomorrow at the Los Angeles Tennis Club ought to furnish the local tennis fans with something to talk about for several days to come. Our local heroes are just about strong enough to make things very interesting for our recently victorious internationalists, and the matches have been kept down and limited to those which will have a maximum of interest for everybody.

The individuals who will appear are worth seeing even if you didn't see them play tennis. Tilden is the greatest shotmaker of all time. Hennessey, a Middle-West Irishman, who is knocking right at the door of international fame. Arnold Jones, a former intercollegiate star and special pupil of Tilden's. Allison, an "unknown" from the wilds of Texas, who won the national intercollegiate championship last summer.

The westerners are as colorful. Stratford, the San Franciscan, has played here and won so often that he is almost a hometown boy. He's a former intercollegiate champion. Ben Gerchakoff, a local youngster of great possibilities, who was an unexpected runner-up to Allison in the intercollegiates. Cliff Herd, former national clay-court champion, and old rival of Hennessy's. Tubby Ogden, national intercollegiate doubles champion. Not a bad outfit.

And the ladies, God bless 'em. Two great women players, Helen Jacobs of Santa Barbara just out of her teens and fourth ranking player in the country. A member of the Wightman international cup team last year and this year. Right now headed for Europe. Then there's the one and only May Sutton Bundy, who won the world's championship at Wimbledon over twenty years ago as a schoolgirl, and can beat half the players in the first ten right now on a hard court.

* * *

To see such players as these in two afternoons of tennis is a real treat and from the reports of the advance sale, the public appreciates it.

Phil Floto to Show Wares in Olympic Fight

Phil Floto, new 210-pound heavyweight hope of Fred "Windy" Winsor, will get his first start in a Los Angeles ring at the Olympic next month.

PHIL FLOTO

Winsor said yesterday that Matchmaker Hayden Wadhams of the Olympic, convinced of the big fellow's class, had agreed to start him in a double main event — something of a record for a youngster who has had only five or six fights in his life.

The actual date and the opponent are undecided, but it is likely that Floto, who is named for the noted Denver sports writer, will go to the post either May 1 or May 8.

Winsor is wild about his big protege. He has shrouded boxing workouts from the public and surrounds all the young giant's actions with an air of secrecy.

Winsor claims Floto is the best-looking heavyweight prospect he has laid eyes on since Jim Jeffries, and he expects him bound right to the top once he goes into action.

SANTA BARBARA WINS POLO TILT

the score yesterday showed improvement on the local blue team.

The Uplifters' team showed fine form for the amount of practice they have had. Fine riding off on both sides was very evident from the start of the first chukker, while the execution of some of the strokes, especially the backhanding, was said to be almost as good as some of those of the "sterner sex." The ranch-club players, with Mrs. J. Flores and Mrs. M. B. Rapp scoring the two goals, found it hard to keep up with the rival team, but managed in several instances to follow up in pairs to the goal line like stick-work.

Three goals were scored for the Santa Barbara team by Mrs. Madera Steadman, who hit the ball over the line once in the first period of play and twice during the fifth chukker. Mrs. Grace Terry, captain of the northerners, was good and bad in spots, hitting two goals in the second period, and the last goal in the sixth. Miss Mary Chapin, riding ponies other than the ones she had accustomed herself to, scored the fourth goal during the third chukked and could have scored further had she known her mount.

Matches between these two teams inaugurated the first women's polo play on the west coast. It is the intention of Dr. Harry Wilson and "Snowy" Baker of the Uplifters to continue a series of seasonal plays throughout the year for the women's teams. The two women's teams are already organized, and it is the accepted belief that there will be several more teams in these parts within a short time.

Uplifters (2.)	Santa Barbara (7.)
Mrs. Rapp (1)	No. 1 Miss Chapin (3)
Mrs. Flores (1)	No. 2 Mrs. Terry (4)
Mrs. Johnson	No. 3 Miss Steadman (3)
	No. 4 Miss Ashurbam

BAKER ADMINISTERS BAD LACING TO HULL

BOSTON, April 20. (AP)—Sergt. Sammy Baker of New York, contender for the welterweight title, gave Clyde Hull of South Dakota a terrific ten-round beating here tonight. Hull was on the verge of a knockout several times in the latter rounds, but hung on gamely to the bell. Each boxer weighed 145 pounds.

ELKS MERMEN WIN CONTEST

In a fast game played at the Elks' Club pool last night, the Deauville water polo team went down in defeat before the strong Elks' Club mermen by the score of 9-4. Ed Hunt starred for the winners, making four of the nine goals. Embrey Myers also of the Elks, starred, scoring two goals.

SAN JOSE FIVE WINS

SAN JOSE, April 20. (AP)—San Jose State College basketball team today defeated the Sacramento Junior College in the first game of a two-game series by a score of 18 to 11.

Cardinals Make It Two Straight Over Pirates, Pounding Grimes to Showers in Seventh

ST. LOUIS COPS 6-TO-2 CONTEST

Lets Cubs Down With Four Bingles

Thump Phillies by 8-to-6 Score

Sox Trim Washington in 6-to-5 Tussle

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP)—The Cardinals made it two in the series with the Pittsburgh Pirates today, winning 6 to 2, after the Redbirds drove Grimes from the box in the seventh with five runs. The Buccaneers have lost all four games with St. Louis this season.

The Cards, with the score tied at one out, the Cardinals got two consecutive base hits, off Grimes before he was touched for eleven champions, but kept scattered.

Pirate first sacker, hit safely three times in consecutive times, had a perfect day at bat for the Cardinals with five hits.

Sport Cracks By Bud Landis

LEVIATHAN, April 20.—Among the many deck sports on an ocean liner is crumb-throwing.

The only equipment needed for this fascinating pastime is a handful of crackers and a whale.

Players attract their whale by singing mammal songs.

When the big boy appears they toss him crumbs. Some whales will come up an' eat off your hand.

And maybe your whale arm, if they get a chance.

At first blush the whale looks like a fountain floating around with a tail on it.

He is a playful creature, disporting himself in high glee and getting the ship all wet.

Whales have barnacles. These are deep-sea trinkets that fasten themselves on like relatives.

It's easy to tell one from the other, because a whale can have barnacles but a barnacle can't have whales.

SOLONS SLAPPED

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Washington had one big inning today, but it was not enough to defeat Boston, the Red Sox taking the series opener, 6 to 5. The Senators pounced on Danny MacFayden in the fourth inning for four runs, one of them being Goose Goslin's third homer, with Judge on the paths. The Sox put over three runs in the fifth to tie the count when Gaston weakened and handed out hits and passes. Score:

CLEVELAND, April 20. (AP)—Chicago routed Cleveland, 11 to 1, today, after losing the first two games of the opening series here. Al Thomas held the Indians scoreless until the ninth inning, when three singles and a walk averted a shutout.

The White Sox pounded Miller, Bayne and Collard for twelve hits and made most of them count for runs. Despite the setback Cleveland retained the American League leadership as both Washington and New York lost. Score:

TIGERS WIN

ST. LOUIS, April 20. (AP)—Home runs by Easterling and McManus in the second inning enabled the Detroit Tigers to win from the St. Louis Browns today, 3 to 0. Easterling's homer was his third in three days. Whitehill allowed only four hits and Ogden five. The Browns tried a new batting order. It was their fifth straight defeat after four victories at the opening of the season. Score:

Schulmerich Poles Out Five Straight Singles

coming up with everything hit his way and throwing strikes to first.

When it was announced that Plitt and Shea were the starting hurlers, the fans had the unusual privilege of seeing a couple of bespectacled slabsters pitted against each other. However, they didn't get to look upon a glass-eyed duel for long, for the Angels immediately started fogging Shea's goggles with base hits and Ryan derricked him before a man was retired in the second.

Schulmerich opened the Angel first with a hit over second but Staley forced him. Hoffman took care of Jones's drive to center, but then Shea's troubles began in earnest. Tolson and Hood both singled, Wally's hit scoring Staley. Berger lined Shea's two-and-nothing offering over the left center-field bricks and the Cherubs had four runs over the plate. Dittmar followed with a double, but Sandberg grounded out to end the inning.

Plitt started the assault on Shea all over again in the second when he punched a single to center. That was all for Shea, Singleton being shoved out on the mound by Ryan. Schulmerich and Staley both singled to fill the bases. Jones sent a line drive to center that Hoffman snagged and then tossed to French in time to double Schulmerich at second, Plitt scoring from third after the catch. Tolson backed Rohwer up against the right-field screen with a line drive that wound up the inning.

Three more Cherubs scored in the third, during which Singleton was driven to the showers. Hood and Berger started the round with doubles for one run and Canfield was called in to replace the Sheriff on the mound. Dittmar bunted Berger to third and Sandberg followed with a fly to right center that Rohwer lost in the sun. Gus rambled to second on the clout and Berger scored. Singles by Plitt and Schulmerich scored Sandberg, Staley hit into a double-play to retire the side.

The Angels chalked up two more runs in the fifth, which opened with Dittmar beating out a drive that McLaughlin knocked down. A passed ball put Dittmar on second and Sandberg's sacrifice fly sent him to third. Pitt fanned to break his hitting streak, but Schulmerich singled to score Dittmar. Staley's single and walks to Jones and Al Smith, who replaced Tolson at first for the mainder of the game, forced Schulmerich in with a run. Hood fanned for the third out.

The Sacs broke into the run column in the sixth when doubles by Monroe and Sheely and singles by Osborne and Koehler produced a pair of tallies. The other Sacramento tallies arrived in the eighth, when Monroe singled, stole second and scored on Sheely's hit, and in the ninth when Hoffman singled and made his way around the paths on a walk to McLaughlin and two infield outs.

Schulmerich scored the eleventh and final Angel run in the seventh when he singled, took second on Staley's hit, went to third on Jones's infield out and tallied on a wild pitch. Score:

Oaks Bow to Seals, 19 to 8

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (AP)—The San Francisco Seals slaughtered the Oaks today, winning, 19-8, in a lopsided game that saw the winners crack out twenty hits. Oakland used four pitchers in an effort to stem the tide of base hits but every Seal except Mitchell, who opened on the mound, picked off at least one hit. Averill and Jolley of the Seals and Bool of the Oaks each hit a home run with Averill batting in seven of his team's tallies. The score:

BRUIN MERMEN JOURNEY TO SAN DIEGO FOR MEET

Coach Fred Oster and nine members of his Bruin swimming varsity left yesterday morning for San Diego, where they are slated to clash with the San Diego Army and Navy Academy in a dual tank meet tonight.

Little is known of the strength of the southerners; but the U.C.L.A. entrants are conceded an excellent chance of coming out on top, due to their strong showing in the Pacific Coast Conference finals held recently at the Los Angeles Athletic Club.

They finished second, and were but a point from first place. The Trojans came through in the last race to cop the affair from the Bruins.

Oster is taking Don Green, Ray Kenison, Whitey Cole, Gage Hartman, Art Bauckham, Leon Stimele, Jimmy Armstrong, Doug Donath, Don Davis and Capt. Brownie Diehl.

Green and Kenison are entered in the 50-yard free style; Whitey Cole and Hartman will represent the Blue and Gold in the 100-yard free style. In the 220, Art Bauckham and Kenison will race, while Cole and Bauckham have been slated as entrants in the 440.

Stimele and Green are entered in the 100-yard back stroke. In the breast stroke the Bruins will be represented by Armstrong, Donath and Kirstein.

Capt. Diehl and Don Davis are to compete in the dives. Davis won this event in the P.C.C. championships and Diehl was runner-up. They ought to finish one, two.

Oster will rely on Donath, Green, Hartman and Kenison to win the relay.

SOCCERITES TANGLE IN TWO TILTS HERE

Grudge games are on tap for Loyola Field tomorrow afternoon, when the Hollywood All-Stars meet the Magyards and the Scots clash with the Sons of St. George in semifinal games for the Southern California Soccer Cup.

The Sons and Magyars are out for revenge for they were both eliminated from the competition for the California Cup by the same teams they meet in tomorrow's games.

ABE MITCHELL TRIUMPHS

LONDON, April 20. (AP)—Abe Mitchell won the Roehampton golf tournament, the season's first big professional test, by defeating Fred Robson at the nineteenth hole. Mitchell's play was brilliant up to the greens.

SAN PEDRO NINE COPS

San Pedro High handed the Union Ice baseball nine a 16-10 beating yesterday in a fast game played on the San Pedro diamond. The game was featured by homers by Thomas of the preps and Howe, hurler for the icemen.

The batteries: San Pedro—Bryany, Koga, Fowler and Paranto. Union Ice—Howe, Alesso and Staan.

Ducks Beaten by Missions

PORTLAND (Or.) April 20. (AP)—Disaster overtook the Portland Beavers in the twelfth inning of their game with the Missions here today, and the California team won, 9 to 5. Bud Green, young Mission first baseman, dashed all Beaver hopes, when, in the twelfth with two out and the bases full, he lifted the ball into the center-field bleachers for a home run.

Bert Cole, who pitched for the Missions two years ago, was the victim. It was the third straight win for the Missions. Score:

BUDGET OF GAS UTILITY READY

Southern Counties Company to Spend $2,562,997

Estimated Outlay Represents $431,667 Increase

Building and Improving Plans for Year Announced

Southern Counties Gas Company, serving gas to domestic, commercial and industrial consumers throughout Southern California, will spend about $2,562,997 for improvements in 1928, according to the budget prepared by the company. This estimated outlay includes proposed construction of gas holders, mains, office buildings and other improvements, and represents an increase of $431,667 over the net capital expenditures in 1927.

In Santa Barbara the budget provides for the erection of a 500,000-cubic foot high-pressure gas holder. The site and the holder will cost about $78,000. In Santa Monica the company will construct two large pipe extensions, one of two miles of sixteen-inch main at a cost of $54,000, and one of two miles of twenty-inch main costing $68,000. In addition, a $30,000 garage and warehouse will be built in the Bay District.

At San Pedro Southern Counties Gas will build a warehouse, garage and meter shop to cost approximately $35,000. Pomona will get $35,000 to complete a gas holder already under construction.

New office buildings are planned for Laguna Beach, Montebello, El Monte and Arcadia, each costing $10,000. A garage to cost $10,000 will be built at Monrovia.

To supply the requirements for gas service in the territory it serves, the Southern Counties Gas Company has appropriated increasing amounts annually for capital expenditures. In 1911 the expenditures for improvements and betterments was about $900,000, considerably less than the amount now expended each year. At the close of last year capital assets were shown on the books of the company at $20,301,611.

Southern Counties Gas operates in more than seventy cities and communities in Southern California. Its system includes 2195 miles of transmission and distributing mains and lines. Consumers number about 121,000.

New Stock and Bond Issues Offered Today

Public Utility Investing Corporation bonds and common stock of the National Automotive Fibers, Inc., are announced for distribution to Los Angeles investors today.

An issue of $2,000,000 5 per cent bonds of the Public Utility Investing Corporation due April 1, 1948, will be offered at 100 and interest to yield 5 per cent by Harris Trust and Savings Bank.

VEGETABLE FREIGHT SERVICE ANNOUNCED

ESPEE WILL RUN FAST TRAIN FROM COACHELLA AND IMPERIAL POINTS

Assuring fresh vegetables and other products for the householders of Los Angeles, special express train service was established Wednesday from the Imperial and Coachella valleys, it was announced by F. E. Scott, assistant freight traffic manager for Southern Pacific Company.

This improved freight service will be of benefit to the farmer as the new schedule will permit the picking and packing of valley products during the day and delivery to stores and housewives early the next morning.

It also was announced that the express rate has been reduced to $1 per 100 pounds from Calexico, El Centro, Brawley and other Imperial Valley points, and from Banning, Coachella, Thermal and points between the rate has been reduced to 75 cents.

BANKING GROUP TO VIEW WEBER PLANT

Members of the American Institute of Banking will make an industrial inspection tour of the factory of the Weber Showcase and Fixture Company this afternoon. Approximately seventy-five members of the institute are expected to attend. Twelve department heads of the company will escort the tour over the plant, which totals eight acres of floor space devoted to the manufacture of store and office fixtures.

MARKETS TO CLOSE

Governors of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday voted to close the exchange this morning to allow the clerical forces in the brokerage offices to clear up the accumulation of business. Similar action has been taken by New York Stock Exchange, New York Curb, San Francisco and other exchanges. Business will be resumed in all markets on Monday.

RAIL LINE DEFICIT NEARLY WIPED OUT

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Operating income of the Nevada County Narrow Gauge Railroad Company, operating from Colfax to Nevada City, was not sufficient last year to wipe out a loss of $13,452 for 1926, but the amount was reduced to $264, according to its report to the Railroad Commission.

SHARP ONION CROP DECLINE FORECAST

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (AP)—If the Federal State crop reporting service knows its onions, the 1928 crop of Bermudas and creoles in California will be 57,000 bushels less than that of 1927. Reports indicate a yield of 1,060,250 bushels. It will be different with carrots. The service forecasts a yield of 660,850 crates against 532,000 for last year. Santa Barbara county alone will supply 400,000 crates.

TWELFTH BANK MAY RAISE

Increase in Federal Rediscount Rate May Come at Next Meeting in May; Discounts Larger

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Unless a special meeting is called the advisability of raising the rediscount rate of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco will not be considered until May 3 when the next regular meeting ordinarily will take place. The general opinion seems to favor the possibilities for an increase to 4½ per cent, not only in the Twelfth District but in all the districts outside of New York. What the New York bank will do is always the real puzzle.

Like Boston and Chicago, the two districts in which the rate has been increased, the commercial demand for money is stronger in the twelfth Federal reserve area. The statement of condition for the week ended the 18th inst. shows a sizeable increase over the previous week in bills discounted, and also rather large liquidation of government securities.

BORROWING HIGHER

In the increase of $15,611,000 in bills discounted is evidence of increased borrowing, but the sale of securities in the open market indicates that the San Francisco bank still is not satisfied. The sale of $4,130,000 in government securities during the week is evidence that the bank has taken the initiative and is determined to learn just how much the withdrawal of funds from the open market will lead to additional borrowing from the bank. The purpose of open-market operations has been explained in this manner by the Federal Reserve Board:

"The extent to which member banks borrow in order to replace funds withdrawn by the reserve banks through the sale of securities is a measure of the demand for reserve-bank credit. The sale of securities by a reserve bank may thus serve as a test of the degree of adjustment between the demand for reserve-bank credit and the outstanding volume of such credit."

MAY ORDER INCREASE

If it is the purpose of the reserve banks to take up the slack in the money market in order to discourage speculation in the stock market, the failure of the open-market operation to stimulate borrowing will probably result in the increase of the rediscount rate at San Francisco, which has stood at 4 per cent since February 4, last. And it is also possible that the order to increase may come from the Federal Reserve Board regardless of the results of the test.

Compared with the weekly statement for the entire Federal Reserve System, the San Francisco statement shows a more pronounced change in position from the previous week than the average for the system. Bills discounted in the twelve banks increased $626,000, while the San Francisco increase was $15,611,000. Bills bought in the open market by the system decreased $10,899,000, against an increase of $1,894,000 for the San Francisco bank, which indicates that the twelfth reserve bank bought slightly more than the average.

With its sale of $4,130,000 in government securities, the twelfth bank was on about a par with the open-market operations of the other banks in the system. The total decrease in government-security holdings during the week was $37,490,000.

FINANCING PLANNED

Metropolitan Chain Stores Will Call Preferred Issue

Metropolitan Chain Stores, Inc., will call for redemption its outstanding $798,900 par value first and second preferred stocks at 115, it was announced yesterday. This represents the unconverted portion of an original issue totaling $1,758,000.

In the immediate future it is expected the bankers for Metropolitan, George H. Burr & Co., and George H. Burr, Conrad & Broom, Inc., will offer to the public a new issue of $3,500,000 new 7 per cent cumulative convertible preferred stock. Holders of present outstanding stock will be accorded the privilege of exchanging their holdings for the new preferred if they so elect. The new preferred is to be convertible on the basis of one share for 1½ shares of common during the next three years and for 1 1-4 shares of common for the following three years.

UTILITY PROFITS UP

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—California Telephone and Light Company reports material financial progress during 1927 to the Railroad Commission. Operating income for 1927 was $114,753, while in 1926 it was $76,955.

MIXED TONE IN REPORTS ON BUSINESS

Little Change Noted in Conditions During Week by Dun's Agency

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Dun's tomorrow will say:

The chief characteristics of the business situation have not changed appreciably, but a rather better sentiment in some quarters has resulted from moderately augmented activity. Expected spring gains have not been wholly realized, with weather vagaries and other drawbacks militating against a full growth of retail distribution, and statistical measurements continue to present sharp contrasts. The various conflicting data cause a natural confusion of judgment in appraising existing conditions, yet an undercurrent of improvement is visible beneath the surface irregularities. It appears to some extent, in firmer commodity prices, and the unusual buoyancy of hide markets is the outstanding phase in this connection.

Labor troubles at New England mills, arising from wage reductions, have further lowered working forces there, but the trend of employment has been upward in most other sections as outdoor activities have broadened. Operations in the great steel industry, moreover, do not disclose the decline which occurred last April, but hold at a notably high level under pressure for material from building construction interests, automobile manufacturers, farm-implement makers and other consumers.

Weekly bank clearings, $12,425,645,000, an increase of 42 per cent over last year.

COAST BONDS

METAL MARKETS

CLEVELAND, April 20. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Increased specifications are being received by steel wire and nail producers. Nail quotations are being cut 1.00 to 2.00 a ton to jobbers in some districts but 2.05 per 100-pound keg appears firm on new business at Cleveland.

Strip steel prices are weak. Cast pipe demand is spotty although the market shows a strengthening tendency.

Copper is firmer at 14.17½@ to 14.35c, delivered. Connecticut; zinc is strongest at 5.47½@ to 5.60c, St. Louis; lead is firm at 6.00c, St. Louis; tin is quiet at 31.12½@ to 32.35c, New York.

METAL PRICES

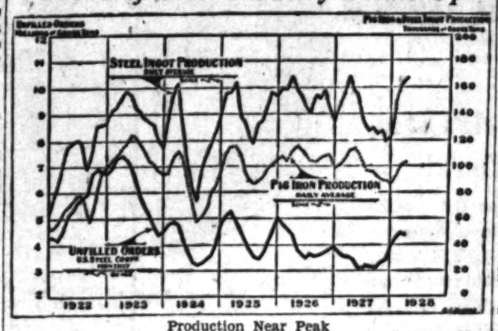
NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Copper, steady; electrolytic spot and future, 14½. Iron, quiet and unchanged. Tin, steady; spot, $32.00; future, $31.75.

Lead, steady; spot, New York, 6.10; East St. Louis, 6.00.

Zinc, firmer; East St. Louis, spot and future, 5.77@5.90.

Antimony, 10.00@10.12.

Trend of Steel Industry Points Up



Production Near Peak

Although the volume of unfilled orders on the books of the Steel Corporation declined somewhat last month, the above chart shows an improvement both in pig iron and steel ingot production. Through a rather spectacular increase in the last few months the volume of steel ingot production has been raised again to about its peak level of early 1927.

THRIFT IDEA GROWING IN CALIFORNIA

Total Building and Loan Assets Show $23,499,781 Gain Since January 1

Total assets of 218 building and loan associations in California increased $23,499,781, or 8 per cent, during the three months' period ended March 31, according to a statement issued yesterday by the California Building-Loan League from Commissioner G. S. Walker's call report. Los Angeles tops the list of cities in aggregate assets with a total of $82,040,393, nearly three times as much as San Jose, its nearest competitor.

This represents the greatest increase by $6,000,000 over any quarterly period. Mr. Walker forecasts that the total building and loan assets of California will be in excess of $1,000,000,000 by January 1, 1935.

Combined resources of the associations reporting on March 31, last, totaled $315,776,213, as compared with $292,276,432 on December 31, last, and $276,285,997 on September 30, 1927. These figures do not include the business of two foreign associations doing business in the State, amounting to $14,098,516.

Total assets of the ten leading building and loan cities of the State as of the call date are as follows:

Los Angeles	$82,040,393
San Francisco	32,585,102
Long Beach	22,483,179
San Diego	19,229,627
Stockton	18,697,335

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Sentiment Predominant During Yesterday's Session; Republic Favorite in Oil Group

Bullish sentiment prevailed in most issues during yesterday's trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange. Oils received the most attention while bank stocks in good demand. Industrials were inclined to react slightly.

Pacific Petroleum again took the lead in the oil group, opening up 50 cents, up 2, but closing at 48 Union Oil regained losses from the previous day, closing up 1 point. Union Oil Associated, U. S. Ry 13-4. Union Oil Associated was also closed 3-4 to 55. Richfield was in good demand at 43½ while Honolulu-Associated was up to 10. Honolulu warrants closed at 1.60, a gain of 5-4.

Bullish sentiment was evident in the bank shares. Citizens shares were slightly stronger with Bank of Italy going to 205, an advance of 1½ points.

TREND ON STOCK MARKET UNEVEN

GAINS SCORED

American Railway Express rallied 5 points and moderate net gains were registered by Butterick, Detroit Edison, Interborough, Rapid Transit, Martin Parry, Standard Milling and Willys Overland.

Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Reports of heavy rain in the Kansas area brought a sharp break in wheat futures, declines running around 3 cents a bushel. Mixed news regarding cotton had only moderate effect on the price, with the close of 9 points under yesterday's final figures. Other commodity prices also were heavy, coffee ruling slightly lower and corn and oats falling off about a cent a bushel each.

Japanese yen were quoted 10 points higher around 47.80 cents, while Portuguese Escudos jumped 15 points to 4.35 cents. Other foreign exchanges were easier, demand sterling ruling slightly lower around $4.86 1-4.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—Demand was rather narrow and trading on yesterday's small supply was slow and draggy with several cars of cows still unsold. Prices generally were close to steady on sales made.

A car of good 1203-pound Central California grass steers topped at 11.25, while a car of 1031-pound grassers realized 10.85. Odd head of other steers, mostly common kinds, sold from 8.00@9.75.

A sizable lot of good 1142-pound cows scored 9.00, with a small lot of 908-pound weight at 8.75. Odd head and small lots of heifers sold up to 9.50. A sizable lot of 1051-pound grass cows made 8.50, while a load of 970-pound grassers cashed for 8.50. Other she stock sales were mostly odd head and small lots, largely dairy types, from 6.75@8.50. Cutters and low cutters were in small supply from 3.50@6.25. A few medium and good bulls sold from 6.50@7.50.

CALVES—Offerings were limited to small lots that cleared slowly at steady-to-weak prices. A sizable lot of good 169-pound vealers cashed for 13.50, while odd head and small lots of plain and heavy calves and undesirable vealers turned from 8.00 @11.00.

HOGS—The small receipts were cleaned up at unevenly 25@50c higher prices when compared with Thursday's early market, or 15@25c higher than Thursday's close. Yesterday's top of 10.30 was paid at the close for a car of 194-pound Nebraska, while the early top was 10.25, paid for two cars of 184 and 181-pound averages. A small lot of 194-pound trucked-in butchers turned for 10.00, while a car of mixed 127-pound weights held over from Thursday made 9.10. A few trucked-in packing sows made 7.50.

SHEEP—Slow. Good and choice milk lambs were quoted from 14.75@16.25, with common and medium kinds from 11.50@ 14.75. Medium to choice shorn ewes were quoted from 5.00@7.00, with cull and common kinds from 3.00@5.00.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD C. KEGLEY

Production in the deep zone at Signal Hill reached a total of 98,- 000 barrels during the present week as a result of the completion of eight good wells, according to a survey of the field. It is calculated that there are seventy-four wells producing from the deep sand at Signal Hill, the average output per well being nearly 1¼ barrels a day.

Operations in the deep sand at Signal Hill are showing approximately the same high rate of production that characterized the early wells. Initial production rates of 4000 barrels a day are still being recorded, although the average is about 2000 barrels a day. The rate of decline also is comparatively low, as indicated by the average production rate per well in the entire deep zone.

It is estimated that the total production at Signal Hill, including both the upper and deep zones of the oil field, and the output at Dominguez, is about 165,000 barrels from 80 wells. The contribution of Los Cerritos is almost negligible, the total for that once-famous field being only between 3000 and 4000 barrels per day.

Gas Well in

Standard Oil Company placed on test No. 1 well on production in the deep sand at Signal Hill gas, with an initial output of 100 barrels a day, according to officials of the company. The well was completed at a depth of 6400 feet, and besides the oil, is flowing 1,000,000 cubic feet of gas per day, with this showing a steady tendency to increase. The oil is 36 gravity.

Mr. Maddry's Bernstein well is due to go on production some time today, the well is down 6100 feet, and is now being bailing for a formation test yesterday.

Deep Test

J. L. Packard, well-known Independent operator, is planning to start a deep test on his Wagner lease in the northeastern end of the Rose field, according to authentic reports. The Wagner lease has several producing wells, the deepest of which is 4000 feet from shallow zones. It is understood that the new well will be to go to 5000 feet or more to test the deeper sands, which have not been explored in any part of the field.

Deep Well

The Continental Oil Company is said to be about to bring in a deep well in the Atwood district of the Richfield district, according to field reports. The Midway Oil Company drilling the Fyne property, leased by the Continental from the Pacific Petroleum Company is also nearing the pay sand. The well is a direct offset to the Continental operation.

Another well near Dabney, Imperial is having some mechanical difficulty which is retarding progress at about 4700 feet. No new developments have been found in the Coyote well, it is said.

Gusher Well in

The Sonoma Oil Company, which has several wells from the Richfield Petroleum Company in the Signal Hill field several miles to the east, has just brought in California Eastern No. 27 with an initial output of 1000 bbls. a day, according to field reports. The well cut its producing sand at a considerably shallower depth than most of the recent Signal wells, bottom of the pay being 800 feet.

Richfield Well

The Richfield Petroleum Producing Company has brought in a good well in the Signal Hill district, according to reports from the field. The well was completed at a depth of 6400 feet. The oil is said to flow 1100 barrels a day through a 2½ inch tubing, and is also reported to have a heavy gas pressure.

Deep Test

The Standard Western Production Company is drilling about 3000 feet in a deep test on the Fruitvale lease, one mile east of Bakersfield, according to field reports. The Standard Petroleum Company is drilling to the sand at a depth of about 3100 feet.

Gusher Well

The Standard Petroleum Company has completed its No. 1 well on the Alamitos lease, with an initial production of about 1100 barrels a day, according to reports from the field. The well was completed at a depth of 6220 feet.

Gusher Well

The Standard Company's Alamitos No. 1 well, which was brought in during the week at a production of 1100 barrels per hour, according to reports. Yesterday the well was reported to be flowing at the rate of 1000 barrels a day, with a considerably higher pressure. The deep-zone wells are now showing 34 gravity oil.

Gusher Well

The Ajax Oil Company is reported to have been getting encouraging showings of gas, oil and water at Ocean View, in one of the deep tests being drilled by the company in that district. It is believed that the well is now drilling below 2200 feet, and it is understood that the pay will be encountered at around 2500 feet.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Remarkable activity of the adjustment 5s of the reorganized St. Paul Railroad dominated all other interest in today's rather irregular bond market. Nearly $6,000,000 of the issue changed hands, raising total sales to a new high record for the year, above $19,500,000. The price was carried up 3 points to 79 3-4, a new record, but late profit-taking clipped away about a point of the gain. Buying of the St. Paul securities probably was stimulated by reports that some of the high-interest bonds of the old road are to be called.

Liquidation of United States government issues, inspired by recent sales of these securities by Federal Reserve banks, caused general recessions in that group. The Liberty Bonds were hardest hit, the 3½s and Third and Fourth 4 1-4s dropping back to new lows for the year.

New York traction liens and some other public utilities made good progress in the face of easing prices elsewhere, Interborough Rapid Transit 5s (stamped) and Nassau Electric 4s establishing new maximums for the year. Park Lexington 6½s, which become active only occasionally, had a rise of more than a point in new high ground.

Convertible issues generally were under heavy pressure, particularly those in the copper group. Anaconda 7s were down 7 points in early trading, but subsequently made up about half their loss.

Interest in the newly listed United Kingdom 4s was considerably less than in the first two days of trading in the issue, and the price receded slightly. Other foreign securities followed a mixed trend.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To expedite transactions the above is omitted when the same as the day, and both low and close when same as high.

Peach Survey Plans Outlined

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20. (Exclusive)—Definite plans to survey the 1928 canning-peach crop throughout the State to obviate repetition of the price differences which arose last year and threatened complete ruin to a crop production beyond demand, were determined upon today at a meeting of a special committee intrusted with the task.

The first step, it was announced, will be to obtain a complete list of all canning-peach growers in California. With that accomplished, a questionnaire will be sent each asking for all the pertinent facts regarding the crop. All the information gathered will be used to supplement or complement the work of the California co-operative crop reporting service.

Another committee, working in harmony with the survey body, is considering methods of working out a standardized agreement between canners and growers to prevent future price wars.

CRAMPTON IN PLEA TO SAVE TREES

Michigan Representative Urges Halt on Cutting in California National Parks

WASHINGTON, April 20. (Exclusive)—Representative Crampton of Michigan, chairman of the House subcommittee which handles appropriations for national parks, today appealed to Secretary of Agriculture Jardine, Secretary of the Interior Work and Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the Forest Service, for action stopping the cutting of privately owned timber within the boundaries of Yosemite and Lassen national parks, California.

If the cutting continues at the present rate it will result in "scandal" discreditable to both the park and forestry services, Crampton declared. He said he later will carry the matter direct to President Coolidge.

The Michigan Representative's letter to Greeley teems with criticism of the forestry and park services and suggests that privately-owned timber within the national parks may be saved through exchanges for timber in adjacent national forests. In his letters to Secretaries Jardine and Work he asks that the two Cabinet officers confer soon on the matter and work out speedily some plan for solving the situation.

Fresno Flyer Ready to Hop

MEXICALI (Mex.) April 20. (AP)—The Pan-American touring plane of Jiminy Angel was pronounced ready for an early morning take-off on the next leg of his proposed South American flight after making a test in the air late today. Angel said he planned to hop off at daylight for the 800-mile trip to Guaymas, Mex., the second leg of the flight which started at Fresno, Cal.

The aviator has been delayed here four days by illness from chills and fever, delay in obtaining Mexican customs permit, and minor repairing of his biplane and motor.

CAR SHORTAGE RULING GIVEN

Santa Fe Scores in Litigation Instigated by Grower

Nonsuit Granted in Two of Four Causes of Action

Decision of High Court Held Applicable in Case

FRESNO, April 20. (AP)—Holding that the decision of the United States Supreme Court, handed down the 9th inst. in the case of the Midland Valley Railroad Company against Thomas Barkley, is applicable to the distribution of refrigerator cars for grape shipments, United States Judge McCormack trying the suit of W. H. McNamara against the Santa Fe Railway for damages growing out of the car shortage of 1922, granted a motion of the defense for a judgment of nonsuit in two of the four causes of action.

The causes of action affected by the judgment are those covering inadequate car supply and failure of the carrier to furnish refrigerator cars during a car shortage. Judge McCormack stated that the Supreme Court decision would apply to these cases, the decision holding that the supply of cars and their proper distribution is an administrative matter which Congress has delegated to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Judge McCormack refused a motion of Robert Brennan, attorney for the Santa Fe, for a judgment of nonsuit in the causes of action relating to asserted discrimination against the plaintiff in the distribution of cars by the carrier.

There are some score of damage suits, amounting to several million dollars, now pending before the Federal courts in Fresno, Los Angeles and San Francisco which will, attorneys say, be affected by the ruling.

McNamara is asking for $117,225 from the railroad for inability to obtain cars for the shipment of his grapes during the car shortage of 1922.

ACTION ON FLOOD BILL DEFERRED

Major Legislation Held Over in House to Allow Time for Compromise

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Without a vote and with but little debate the House today temporarily deferred consideration of the Senate flood-control bill after Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the Republican floor leader, had explained that this was desired to enable a study of the measure.

This unusual procedure — the shunting aside of a major piece of legislation—was resorted to so that time could be had to adjust differences between advocates of the bill as it passed the Senate and President Coolidge.

Tilson did not tell the House when consideration of the flood bill is to be resumed, but it is thought likely that the postponement will continue until compromise conversations have been completed.

Publisher Finds Italy Amazing

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—George Cameron, publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle, and Mrs. Cameron returned from Europe on the liner Berengaria today. The publisher declared he returned to America to attend a meeting of members of the Associated Press.

What amazed him more than anything else abroad, he said, was the new life of Italy and its splendid railroad service, good roads and industry.

"Californians, next to New Yorkers," Cameron said, "are perhaps the greatest travelers in Europe today. There is a general idea that California is isolated because of great plains and the Rocky Mountains, but we have ceased to be isolated with the advent of the airplane and wireless."

New Bar Sought on Vaccination

SACRAMENTO, April 20. (Exclusive)—The fight to prevent compulsory vaccination in California is to be renewed by the Public School Protective League, which today notified Secretary of State Jordan of its intention to initiate a prohibitory measure for the general election ballot.

The league, through Attorneys Ellis and Vickers of Los Angeles, requested Jordan to submit to Atty.-Gen. Webb, for a title—a bill that would make it impossible for the State Board of Health to compel vaccination. Jordan said that to qualify the initiative measure 91,539 signatures must be filed by August 7, next.

VISALIA WILL CALL ELECTION ON AIRPORT

VISALIA, April 20. (Exclusive)—Visalia City Trustees have ordered preparation of an ordinance calling for a bond election to provide an issue of about $100,000 for development of the Visalia airport. This action followed presentation of a petition in the form of resolutions from almost every civic and service organization and lodge in the city. Purchase of extra land, making 120 acres in all, four runways, hangars for twenty-five ships, radio beacons, as well as Neon and beacon lights and an administrative building costing $25,000, are included in the plan.

TIME DIVISION NOT DESIRABLE

Experts Report to Radio Commission

Film Club Hour at KHJ Studio Changed

Husbands and Wives in KFRC Competition

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The division of time between radio stations on the same channel is neither economic nor productive of good service to the listener, it is charged in a report filed with the Radio Commission by its engineering advisers.

The commission was told that "The expedient of time division does not in general lead to superior service to the listener. It is inherently uneconomic. Where several stations in an area are now dividing time, the duplication of plant and overhead necessarily results in poorer service than would result were these stations to be consolidated into a single station using all the time.

"For Class C or national stations, particularly, time division should not be allowed. An exclusive Class C channel is capable of delivering such excellent service over large areas that case should be taken not to restrict the possible service from these channels by an uneconomic arrangement such as time division.

LAW SPECIFIES EQUALITY

"For the Class B, regional, and Class A, local, channels there will doubtless be local conditions demanding, and perhaps justifying, time division in spite of its inherently uneconomic nature.

"However, the application of time division has been made difficult under the terms of the new law. Since the law requires equality in the number of hours and licenses among the zones and, according to population among the States within each zone, if time is divided on a given channel among several stations in any one State, this division must be duplicated on some channel in every other zone proportionately in every State.

"The same difficulty will exist in any attempt to divide time between stations located in different zones, as might be sought, that is, to take advantage of the time difference between the east and west coasts. Time division between stations in widely separated localities is subject to the further objection of seriously complicating the maintenance of the proper frequency separation between stations in each of the localities to minimize interchannel interference," so reads the technical report to the Radio Commissioners.

HARMONICAS ON PROGRAM

The usual weekly broadcast of the Los Angeles Playground and Recreation Department this afternoon on the educational hour will bring a group of young harmonica players before the studio microphone of KHJ.

The Saturday night film club hour has been changed to a half-hour period commencing at 7:30.

The studio symphonic band with Ina Mitchell Butler, soprano, will be on the 8 p.m. bill, while the studio concert orchestra will be on the air at 9 p.m., followed by the two-hour program of dance music and the Merrymakers' Frolic hour at midnight.

VOLGA BOYS ON PARK BOARD PROGRAM

HOLLYWOOD, April 20. — The City Park Board program over KNX from 3 to 4 p.m. Sunday will feature the Volga Boys, eight men from Russia, in a repertoire of their native songs. The group, Victor and Brunswick artists, will make their initial radio debut on the Pacific Coast at that time, according to the station management.

NEW TYPE OF RADIO CONTEST

SAN FRANCISCO, April 20.—(Exclusive)—Hog calling and other vocal summoning competitions have run the gamut from the sublime to the ridiculous, but here's a new one. Two weeks from Monday night on the Blue Monday jamboree at KFRC there will be a "husband-calling" and a "wife-calling" contest. Contestants will demonstrate their best technique in calling their matrimonial partners to breakfast, lunch or dinner. They must, however, demonstrate how they call them, but not what they call them.

CUPID KEEPS ONE MAN BUSY

San Diegan Files Intention to Wed on Monday, Rescinds It on Wednesday and Friday Again Arranges for Marriage, but With New Bride-to-Be

Yesterday Abraham Haydis made it plain that his little black book contains something more than a list of prospects for grape juice.

When he is not arranging to get married, Haydis is engaged in the business of purveying grape juice to the thirsty of San Diego. This week, though, San Diegans unsupplied with that beverage have been out of luck.

Haydis spent Monday in Los Angeles, attending to the detail o' noticing his intention to wed Lena Sahin, 44 years of age, 1140 East Adams street.

Wednesday he was back in the marriage-license office.

"Lady, what kind of a price do you make me for calling off this wedding?" he inquired of Rosamund Rice, deputy marriage-license clerk.

Miss Rice reassured him with a smile.

"That doesn't cost a cent," she replied.

"Good. You get all my business. That's the kind of folks I like to deal with," Haydis declared.

Yesterday he was back with more "business."

"Meet Anna Cohen, 40, of 2426 Brooklyn avenue," he asked Miss Rice. "Fix us up with one of your licenses."

"That other matter is all off," he explained to Miss Rice confidentially. "She didn't want to live in San Diego, and, of course, I have to. My public demands it. Well, we compromised. She lives here and I live there and we don't get married. This time it's different. This lady, now, she likes to live in San Diego."

"Well, you know you can't get married for three days," Miss Rice cautioned the bridegroom-elect.

"Oh that's all right," Haydis assured her.

L. E. BEHYMER

L. E. Behymer, widely known producer and impresario, recently appointed director of amusements for the Pacific Southwest Exposition in Long Beach this summer, already has set to work arranging elaborate programs of pageantry, allegorical spectacles, extravaganzas, ballets and operatic epics.

The big attractions will take place on a stage 170 feet wide and eighty-five feet deep permitting the assemblage of several hundred performers at one time. The seating capacity of this open-air playhouse is to exceed 15,000. A curtain effect will be obtained by the use of live steam shot from jets around the front of the platform. Flood lights directed on this vapor will effectively obscure vision of the shifting of scenes, an operator being able to raise or lower the steam screen at will by manipulation of valves.

In some of the productions Director Behymer plans to have nationals from virtually every country on the globe participating. Evolutionary spectators will depict the history of the Pacific Southwest, and vaudeville acts, drama, art, comedy and music will be interspersed.

Humane Board Scores Dilatory Service Call

Complaint of hours of delay before the humane-treatment-of-animals department was notified of the burning of sixty-five horses in the blaze Thursday morning which destroyed the stables of the Du Brock Riding Academy at 12572 Ventura Boulevard was aired at the regular meeting of the humane board yesterday in the City Hall.

Members of the board adopted the suggestion of Mrs. Warren McIntyre, president, that the secretary, Mrs. E. M. Waddell, be instructed to send a notice to the fire and police departments asking prompt co-operation in similar instances in the future.

Mrs. McIntyre stated that while the time of the start of the fire was given as 2 o'clock in the morning it was 10 o'clock before the department was notified.

Councilmanic Minds Upset on High Hats

High silk hats or no high silk hats; and if high silk hats, where are we going to get 'em?

These problems are worrying the members of the City Council as the word has been sent around the City Hall that the "administration" would be pleased if the Councilmen and other city officials would wear silk hats and formal dress, consisting of cut-away black morning coats and striped trousers, next Thursday when the new City Hall is dedicated.

When President Bonelli gently passed the high-hat suggestion to the members of the Council yesterday, there was an explosion of protest from Councilmen Alber, Colden, Foster, Ingram and others, so President Bonelli did not press the subject.

Parades Close Kindness Week

A parade of pet animals of all kinds is scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30 on the Pecan-street playgrounds in celebration of Kindness-to-Animals Week, which terminates this evening, so far as the celebration is concerned.

Pet shows also will be held at the Barnsdall and Harvard-street playgrounds today at 2 p.m.

PAVING REQUEST GRANTED

The City Council yesterday granted an 80 per cent property owners' petition for the paving of Hollywood Way extension from San Fernando Road to Remsen avenue.

CHILD DIES AFTER AUTO COLLISION

Jugular Vein Severed; Seven Brother Officers of Father Offer Blood

Dorothy Gilmore, 5 years of age, 2955 Rimpau Boulevard, died yesterday afternoon at the Children's Hospital as a result of injuries suffered Thursday in an automobile accident at Sunset Boulevard and Vermont avenue.

The car which was driven by her mother was struck by an automobile driven by Jim Mulolo, 906 East Seventy-sixth place.

Dr. E. B. Wolfan, 6348 Lexington avenue, witnessed the accident. Running to the damaged car he found the child's jugular vein had been severed by broken glass. By means of pressure on the severed ends he prevented the child from bleeding to death and took her to the hospital, a short distance away.

When word reached the Wilshire Police Station where Dorothy's father is Patrolman Ralph C. Gilmore, that a blood transfusion was necessary, seven brother officers offered to give blood to save the life of the child.

Tests revealed that none of the blood offered could be accepted and the mother's blood was used in the transfusion.

The officers who offered their blood are Lieut. H. I. Nicholson and Patrolman W. C. Sullivan, John K. O'Connor, W. E. Long, R. P. Kinder, John Alton, J. W. Sims.

Coroner Nance has ordered an inquest which will be conducted Monday at 9:30 a.m.

LOCAL PLAN FOR HEALTH APPROVED

English Expert Upholds Center Method as Real Solution of Problem

Predicting that the Health Center plan as being developed by the County Health Department will solve the problem of medical care for persons slightly above the poverty line and not provided for through the Indigent Act, Sir Arthur Newsholme, former first Minister of Public Health of Great Britain, commended the local public health work as carried on under the leadership of Dr. J. Pomeroy, county health officer, as the most advanced of the present day before the County Medical Society in Patriotic Hall last evening.

"The problem of medical care for the people just above the pauper line has long been a subject of social inquiry," said Sir Newsholme. "The Health Center plan as developed in Los Angeles county practically offers the solution.

"The work of the medical man in the future will be less curative and alleviative. To keep a man well, through teaching him how to live and remedying defects early, will be the function of the physician of the future," Sir Newsholme predicts.

Other speakers were Dr. Charles Bennett, Dr. Gavin Telfer, Dr. C. M. Suttner, Dr. Anna Rude, Dr. Shumaker, Dr. J. L. Pomeroy and Dr. David Roth.

"HOOT" GIBSON HURT IN HORSE STAMPEDE

"Hoot" Gibson, motion-picture actor, suffered a sprained ankle and several lacerations when approximately 100 horses stampeded in filming scenes at Lone Pine yesterday morning. While the actor was performing before the camera in a large stockade, the sight of flames coming from a barn that had been set on fire especially for the scene, frightened several of the animals that were being used in the picture and the result was a stampede. Gibson was treated at the Universal City Hospital last night. He will be able to return to work within a few days, it was said.

DAM-DRAINING PLAN PROPOSED

Mulholland Reservoir May be Revamped

Engineers to Scan General Water System

Council Acts on Request of Water Board

Mulholland dam in the hills above Hollywood and overlooking the heart of that section may be eliminated as a storage reservoir in the water system of Los Angeles.

Yesterday the Board of Water and Power Commissioners appointed three nationally known experts to make a complete survey of the Los Angeles water distribution and storage system and announced that if, the committee of experts finds it is feasible and practical to drain Mulholland reservoir, it will be done immediately after the engineers make their report. Other reservoirs may also be drained, it was intimated.

FIRST TASK

The committee is to start functioning May 10, and according to present plans, survey of the big Hollywood dam will be the first task in their assignment.

The committee is also to ascertain if improvements can be made in the water system as a whole.

R. E. McDonnell, water-distribution expert of Kansas City; Louis C. Hill, consulting engineer, and Dr. Robert T. Hill, noted geologist, both of Los Angeles, comprise the committee.

SECOND COMMITTEE

In addition to the Water Survey Committee the Council yesterday also appointed a committee of engineers to make the investigation so that the public will be reassured and also that the exact fa[illegible] may be set forth. The committee of engineers approved by the Council yesterday consists of A. J. Wiley of Boise, Idaho; F. C. Herman of San Francisco and C. H. Paul of Dayton, O.

Mr. Wiley was chairman of the board of engineers appointed by Gov. Young to investigate the causes of the St. Francis Dam collapse, the board finding the disaster due to the weaknesse. of the foundation of the dam. Mr. Hermann is a consulting engineer who has been chief engineer of the Spring Valley Water Company, which supplies San Francisco with water, and Mr. Paul is an engineering member of the Ohio State Conservation Commission.

GROUP PLAN FIGHT ON WATER RATE RISE

Protests against the proposed rise in water rates as a means of helping to pay damages caused by the break of the St. Francis Dam, were voiced in the Hotel Figueroa yesterday at a meeting attended by representatives of the Co-operative Apartment and Hotel Association, the Master Barbers' Association, the Laundrymen's Association, Greeters of America, Los Angeles Restaurant Men's Association, Municipal League and other organizations.

President J. Bruce Goddard of the Apartment and Hotel Association, said it would be unjust to saddle the burden of the flood debt upon operators of hotels and industrial plants while leaving the owners of the buildings, as well as residential water users, free of taxation.

Councilman Hall told the audience the proposed increase is the only reasonable method by which the damage claims can be met, explaining that an increase in general taxation would be difficult and, even if successful, would hold back payment for two or three years.

Councilman Foster suggested some other means of defraying the cost of damages should be devised.

CHATSWORTH GROUP OPPOSES INCREASE

The Chatsworth Chamber of Commerce yesterday protested to the City Council against increase of water rates to raise funds to meet the damage claims resulting from the collapse of St. Francis Dam, and asked that some method be devised to place this expense on the taxpayers of the city and not on the water users only.

The Council's Water and Power committee will hold a public hearing on the proposed water-rate increase in the Council chamber at the City Hall at 1:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon.

Great Lamp Ready for Service

Ethlyn Lang and Mildred Montoure show how Lindbergh beacon on new City Hall tower is operated.

BEACON TO SHINE THURSDAY

Lindbergh Airway Guide Atop of City Hall Tower Will be Turned on by Coolidge

People in Los Angeles and vicinity are going to have an opportunity next Thursday to see what a light of 3,000,000 candlepower looks like lensed down into one brilliant beam. The Lindbergh Beacon on top of the new City Hall tower will be flashed on by President Coolidge at Washington on that night.

The touching of the button by President Coolidge, which will put the light into active service, will be one of the big moments in the three-day fiesta that will mark the dedication of the new structure.

The light is in the nature of a monument to Col. Lindbergh, presented to him by the people of Los Angeles. The idea of the Lindbergh light atop the hall tower originated with George R. Watson, staff photographer of The Times.

LIGHT INSTALLED

The Chamber of Commerce commissioned the General Electric Company to produce the beacon. The company officials had to work fast to get the light here and installed temporarily in time for Lindbergh's official visit last winter. But the feat was accomplished by one of the eastern officials diverting one of the beacons already designated for government service.

The beacon is lighted by a 200-watt filament lamp, burning before a twenty-four-inch mirror, the beams pouring through a twenty-four-inch lens. The reflecting mirror is so designed as to throw a concentrated beam of light that can be seen a distance of sixty miles in fair weather. The beacon will revolve six times in a minute.

The tremendous concentrating power of the reflecting mirror is noted from the fact that when the workmen were installing and adjusting the beacon on the tower the sunlight, caught by the mirror and reflected, fell upon the workmen and burned the hair off their arms in an instant. They were forced to turn the mirror to the north, away from the sun.

Another interesting feature of the beacon is that there are two lamps to it. They both rest on the same

Church Group Urged to Pray to End Dispute

"Go back to your church and pray for peace among yourselves," Superior Judge Hanby exhorted warring factions of the Southside Spiritualist Church yesterday when they appeared before him for judgment in their dispute.

The courtroom was filled with members and former members of the congregation. The issue was possession of church property and counsel said feeling between the factions was high.

Judge Hanby looked the litigants over.

"Here you are, a flock of Christians, bitter one with another, your hearts filled, not with the brotherly love preached by our Saviour, but with anger and jealousy," he remarked. "Do you believe in prayer?"

All over the courtroom heads were nodded.

"Then go back to your church and get together," Judge Hanby continued. "If you do not agree at first, get down on your knees and pray. I believe in prayer and you profess to. If your leaders cannot agree, choose new ones, for they are false leaders. But by all means, pray for peace, each and every one of you."

The lawyers murmured.

"But there are law points, Your Honor," one of them ventured.

"Settle them!" Judge Hanby ordered. "You profess to be learned in the law, too. I do not think a little prayer would hurt counsel. Come back on May 7. If you have not arrived at a solution by that time, I suppose the court will have to act."

The plaintiffs contend the defendants have illegally withdrawn from the State organization and are advocating antagonistic doctrines.

HOTEL MEN TO SEE JAPAN

Many from Southland Will Leave Tomorrow on First Lap of Trip to be Guests in Orient

Several hotel men and their wives of Southern California will leave for San Francisco tomorrow to join the invitational excursion of California hotel men to Japan as the guests of the Japan Hotel Association, sailing on the S.S. Taiyo Maru next Wednesday. From the time the party reaches Yokohama on May 11 until it sails for America in June entire expenses of transportation and hotel accommodations will be paid by the Japan Hotel Association.

The itinerary includes visits to Tokio; Kamakura, the seaside resort where the gigantic statue of Buddha is located; Nikko, famous for its Japanese shrines; Miyamoshita, a mountain resort; Kyoto, the ancient capital of Japan; Nara, Osaka, Kobe; across the straits to Korea from Shimonoseki to Pusan; then Seoul, Muckden, Dairen and Port Arthur, returning to Yokohama homeward bound.

Among the guests for whom reservations have been made are the following: Mr. and Mrs. A. Frank of the Ambassador; Mr. and Mrs. Walter McCarty, Beverly-Wilshire; Arthur Dodworth, assistant manager of the Biltmore; Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Johnson of Glenn Springs Hotel, Corona; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hervey of the Samarkand, Santa Barbara; Mrs. Morrison Hopkins, managing owner of the Casa de Manana, La Jolla; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Drury, Hotel Whitcomb, San Francisco; Dr. and Mrs. George W. Tape, representing the Palace Hotel, San Francisco; Eric Hauser, president; Ralph E. Adams, assistant manager and Anthony Euwer, publicity director of the Multnomah, Portland, Or., and Mr. and Mrs. Caudill of the Stowell and Samarkand hotels, Los Angeles.

Plan for First Street Widening Again Affirmed

The City Council yesterday reaffirmed its orders for the preparation of plans and proceedings for the widening of First street from Los Angeles to Hill streets to a width of 110 feet, the land for the widening to be taken entirely from the north side of First street.

City Engineer Shaw had suggested that the width of First street from Main street to Spring street might be 100 feet, but the suggestion was disapproved by the Council.

RISE IN HARBOR CHARGE FOUGHT

Steamship Association Files Lengthy Protest

Opposition to More Burden Sent Commission

Dangers of Discouraging Commerce Stressed

Strenuous objections to any means the Harbor Commission may be considering to increase its revenue by either raising wharfage and other present rates or levying additional charges for the use of municipal facilities at the local port were voiced by the Los Angeles Steamship Association yesterday.

The association's opposition to any further burden being placed on steamship owners and operators was set forth clearly and forcefully in answer to questionnaires sent out by the Harbor Commission's special committee now studying harbor rate matters with a view of recommending what adjustments, if any, should be made.

That there is no necessity for additional harbor revenue, now, future necessity for added revenue will be automatically taken care of in the normal growth of the port in increased tonnage, present charges are all that should be assessed and all of the methods suggested by the commission for increasing its funds either are impractical or would place an unbearable burden upon the steamship companies, is the association's contention.

ARGUMENTS PRODUCED

The association's answer points out that since 1923 the harbor department revenues have been increased 64 per cent and the increase for the first half of the present fiscal year is $300,000 more than the figures for the corresponding period last year. This would indicate, the association contends, that there can be neither a great need for more revenue or any necessity of assessing steamship companies a proposed rental charge for sheds.

Because the harbor is a young and growing port and there are many advantages, such as its being located twenty-five miles from the city proper, requiring a duplication of offices and other extraneous expenses, costing the steamship operators thousands of dollars monthly, the existing rates are all that should be charged, the association declares.

Establishment of franchise control of cargo handling and allied services in connection with a franchise fee, as has been suggested by the Harbor Commission, is objected to by the association on the ground that such an additional tax would revert to the steamship companies and must be assumed and paid by them.

The commission's proposed charge against trucks using the wharves is protested against because such an assessment, in the final analysis, must be borne by the consignees of freight and would result in additional costs to them.

TAKES CARE OF COMPLAINTS

In connection with the suggested control of wharfside and lowline tracks at transit sheds, which deals with the feasibility of throwing open municipal docks assigned to individual steamship companies to outside firms of carloaders and unloaders, the association points out that General Manager Cole reported last June that such a practice would be harmful in the extreme without corresponding benefits to anybody save a few concerns which might do some of the extra loading.

It also points out that the association is taking care of all complaints arising from the present system of cargo handling and with scores of the largest shippers and consignees in on record against any disturbance of the present satisfactory method.

Public control of towboat rates for services within harbor waters, as contemplated by the commission, like the suggested control of cargo handling, is classed by the association as unprecedented anywhere in the world, unnecessary because the present system is entirely satisfactory and objectionable because any increase in rates must be met by the steamship lines.

SIGNED BY PRESIDENT

Although it staunchly protests against any increased or new rates on the ground they would discourage commerce and upset the present world's highest efficiency in cargo handling, the association closes its reply by suggesting that if the commission finally decides it must have more revenue any increase should be procured through a small raise in wharfage rates.

This method would have less ill effects than any other and would have the greatest benefits because it would spread the additional costs to shippers in a thin film over Arizona, Ntah, Nevada and all of Southern California and as far north as Fresno and San Luis Obispo, it is stated.

F. A. Hooper, president of the association, signed the answer.

Optometrists Plan for Meet

The double-header convention of the California Association of Optometrists, holding sessions both in Los Angeles and San Francisco, will maintain local headquarters at the Alexandria, it was decided at an executive session last night. Dates for the convention as announced by Dr. H. S. Marshuitz, vice-president, are June 6, 7 and 8.

Officers of the organization in attendance last night were Drs. W. M. Ketchum, president; H. L. Fuog and E. A. Hutchinson of Los Angeles; R. T. Gardner of San Diego, W. P. Duhamel of San Francisco, and L. H. McGrane of Long Beach.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THE hanging of the gangster Birger is a good start.

There is plenty more material.

GAME OR SHOW-OFF

There is no reason to be surprised that Birger went to the gallows "with a jest on his lips," as the reporters said.

There have been very few professional crooks who didn't manage to show off at their own execution. When the gang that killed Rosenthal was executed in New York there was one scared crook who collapsed and was carried blubbering to the chair; but most of them went with a swagger.

BASHFUL AND SHRINKING

There is at least nothing in companionate marriage that induces blushing bashfulness—if we are to judge from the scarlet-hued advertisements of the vaudeville engagement of Miss Haldeman-Julius and her youthful near-husband.

THE DEADLY BLOND

Gentlemen may prefer blonds but it isn't as safe.

If we are to judge from the sensational accounts of a duel between flappers at Pomona; the blonds walloped the brunettes in two rounds.

I toiled through all the newspaper accounts without being able to find out what the fight was about. But, after all, a fight as good as that doesn't have to be about anything.

THE REAL FIGHTER

Now that a newspaper reporter has been shown for the first time on the stage as he really lives and breathes his blase, skeptical life, perhaps the young author of "The Racket" will show us a real prize fighter some time.

Every time I see a prize fighter on the stage he has his derby hat cocked down over his eye, and has one shoulder hitched up and talks out of the side of his mouth. All the fighters I have ever known have been exceedingly dressy and well-behaved young men.

Jack Dempsey, for instance, is one of the most charming and tactful hosts I have ever known. He talks well about every subject —except fighting—which he never mentions.

SHINING PRECEDENT

Hoover will not be the first engineer to be President of the United States.

Most of them have been either soldiers or lawyers, but Washington was before everything else an engineer. That was the work of his heart. It was only incidentally that he was a commander of armies. And he was not such a knock-out of a general, at that. But he was a tip-top engineer.

RISQUE PLAYS

If they pass a new law whereby to deal with risque plays in Los Angeles it is to be hoped that they simplify the procedure. As it stands, the actors and producers are both in danger of dying of old age before the courts get around to the decision.

THE STOCK FRENZY

A frenzy in the Chicago wheat pit has followed the wild plunge of stocks in the New York market.

These bull-and-bear rushes must do a great deal of harm to the nation at large. Both the winners and losers become gun-shy of legitimate investments. The losers haven't any money left to invest, and the winners are no longer satisfied with anything less than "billings."

FLYER HELD AS 'BADGE' BANDIT

Suspected Youth Shot by Arresting Officers

Pilot Asserts He Mistook Police for Robbers

Decoy Couple Aid in Plan to End Terrorizing

George Cerveny, 18-year-old air pilot, yesterday was shot in the thigh by police officers who afterward booked him as the suspected "badge" bandit who has been terrorizing petting parties parked in automobiles near the air landing fields.

The youth, who lives at 1337 West Fifty-ninth street, was shot by Policemen Anderson and Smallwood after he is said to have attempted to molest another police officer and a woman who had parked their machine as a "decoy" for the asserted bandit.

STORIES DIFFER

Cerveny told a story different from that of police. He said he was sitting in his machine when one of the police officers pulled a gun on him and told him to get out of the car. This, Cerveny said, he did.

"I thought the policeman was a hold-up man so I started to run for help," Cerveny said at the Georgia-street Hospital. "The policeman shot me. I had not done a thing. There were two small boys lying in the grass near the other machine and they started to run also. The boys were trying to spy on the man and woman in the car."

POLICE VERSION

According to police, Cerveny and another youth were in the grass and crawling toward the parked machine in which the third officer and the woman were sitting. One of the young men had a revolver in his hand. He escaped and it was necessary to shoot him in the leg, the police reported.

Cerveny said that he is an aviation pilot employed by the Aero Corporation and merely was sitting in his machine eating when the officers appeared.

Note on Street Tells Writer's Plans for Death

A note indicating the writer had taken his own life was found on the sidewalk near Park avenue and Glendale Boulevard yesterday afternoon by Edmund J. Dunn, 1770 Grafton street.

The initials "P.M.M." were signed to the note, which was written on the back of an application for certificate of discharge from the Navy in lieu of an original discharge that had been issued to Paul M. Miller and which had been lost.

The note indicating that Miller had taken his life, reads:

"Will the one who finds this please notify Mrs. Paul Miller, 502 Michigan avenue, Joplin, Mo., that her husband is no longer in existence? Tonight will mark his exit from this world as it will be easier to take myself out than to exist under the conditions which I have created for myself."

The note was turned over to police, who are making an investigation.

The young orators saw in the Constitution a living instrument that operates as effectively today as it did when first drafted, and as necessary to preserve the rights of the individual citizen as it was at the close of the Revolutionary War.

The criminal violation of the laws of the land was regarded by the speakers as not as serious a menace as is the growing national indifference to law violation in general.

The framers of the Constitution, the speakers declared, provided the perfect medium of government, the glory of maintaining it belongs to the present and future generations.

Court Orders 'Arson Murder' Charge Abated

George H. Perlin, convicted in November, 1926, of the "arson murder" of Walter Skala, 19 years of age, yesterday was cleared of the charge when Judge Craig ordered a dismissal on the ground the charge could not successfully be prosecuted again in face of a Supreme Court decision reversing the conviction.

According to testimony introduced at his trial, Perlin plotted to set fire to a store he operated in Graham. He employed Skala, according to witnesses, to ignite a fuse leading to a tubful of gasoline, and Skala was fatally burned in the ensuing explosion.

Perlin was charged with murder, arson and burning insured property, and the jury found him guilty on all three counts, in spite of the fact that the trial judge had instructed the jurors to acquit Perlin of the murder charge.

The District Attorney's office appealed from an order granting Perlin a new trial on the murder charge, but the Supreme Court held the conviction was contrary to the law and evidence in the case. In view of this ruling Judge Craig dismissed the murder charge, although Perlin still is under sentence to Folsom penitentiary on the charges of arson and burning insured property.

Typist Contest Here Will be in Trojan Gym

The southern section of the California State Typewriting Contest will be held in the gymnasium of the University of Southern California it was announced yesterday by A. E. Pioneer Family from Antipodes Amazed at Immensity of American Roads, Cities and Crowds

Representing the fruition of the patience of three generations, a pioneer family of New Zealand arrived here yesterday on a round-the-world tour.

E. B. Norwood, former Lord Mayor of Wellington, capital of New Zealand, who was official host of the American Navy when it visited Wellington for fourteen days in 1926, registered at the Alexandria, accompanied by his wife, two daughters, Eileen and Edna, and his son, Walter.

In 1842 George Tattle was born in New Zealand, one of the first white men of that nativity. He grew up there, married and reared a family of twelve children. Mrs. Norwood was one of the daughters. She married Mr. Norwood when he went to New Zealand, a young man from Australia. Their three children were born in Wellington.

NEW ZEALAND PIONEERS

"We are truly pioneer and are proud of our little country, the population of which is almost exactly that of Los Angeles," said Mr. Norwood yesterday. "I have been here twice before, but this is the first time my family has visited a continent and naturally it is a great event in their lives. To them the immensity of everything in America is startling, the tall buildings, the long, straight miles or ribbon roads; the vastness of landscape, the congestion of traffic and corner massing of humanity in the shopping district is quite beyond their expectations.

"Our farming is intensive. Growth has been steady and natural far from the whirl of overnight developments. In education our schools aim to graduate every boy as a gentleman and every girl as a lady. There are $225,000,000 in savings accounts in the banks of New Zealand, not including deposits in agricultural, manufacturing or commercial lines.

WELCOME PRAISED

"As hosts Americans extend a cordiality and efficiency of service that are not equaled in the world. It is nice to feel that everyone we have met in San Francisco and Los Angeles wants us to settle. That must be the secret of your growth backed by a uniform spirit of optimism and co-operation. We hope to come again."

Mr. Norwood, whose firm, the Dominion Motors, Ltd., is the largest automobile dealer in New eZaland, said about business:

"We are importing 2000 cars annually from America and one purpose of my trip is to ascertain if these shipments cannot come via the Pacific Coast instead of out of New York via the Panama Canal. We hope to see Los Angeles made a port of entry for New Zealand business and it cannot come too soon for our mutual benefits."

Van Kuran Now in Advertising

K. E. Van Kuran, former district manager for the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company in Los Angeles, has become allied with the advertising firm of Heintz, Robertson & Co., it was announced yesterday. He is now vice-president of the concern.

K. E. VAN KURAN

"The potentialities of the great western market," he declared in assuming the duties of his new office, "particularly those of the metropolitan area of Los Angeles are tremendous. Eastern industry recognizes this fact, and is bending every effort to entrench itself in an impregnable position. To my mind, it is absolutely inevitable that Los Angeles shall become one of the great industrial centers of the world, and I feel that there is a fine opportunity here for one whose experience enables him to contribute to the success of many businesses."

Hopkins Draws Term in Prison as Embezzler

Harry C. Hopkins, who was convicted of thirteen counts of grand theft in connection with the asserted embezzlement of more than $50,000 from several school-teachers and widows, yesterday was sentenced by Judge Fricke to serve not less than five years in San Quentin.

Judge Fricke pronounced sentence on all thirteen counts, the terms to run concurrently but with the minimum fixed at five years.

Hopkins is asserted to have defrauded his clients out of their investments in his proposed scheme to earn large profits in the bond and mortgage business.

Broker Taken on Fugitive Charge

Leo D. Jacoby, 54 years of age, said to be a stock broker and oil promoter, was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Bligh and McCarron in an office at Sixth and Olive streets on a fugitive warrant from Washington, D. C.

According to the police, Jacoby is wanted in connection with the asserted embezzlement of $16,000 in stocks. No details of the asserted crime were obtained by police from Federal authorities.

ELKS GIVE BALL TONIGHT

Honoring the newly installed officers of Elks' Lodge No. 99, and commemorating the second anniversary of the opening of the temple opposite Westlake Park, Los Angeles Lodge this evening will hold a formal ball and reception. The affair will open at 9 o'clock with Exalted Ruler Doyle and Mrs. Doyle, and other officers and their wives, receiving the guests.

THEATER SUSPECT ON TRIAL

Charged with the robbery January 22, last, of a West Coast theater in Pomona, Porter Clark, James C. Carwile and Ostie N. Bennett went on trial yesterday before Judge Beecher of Superior Court. The trio is asserted to have held up Harry W. Loud, Jr., an official of the theater, and to have escaped with $1335.

STATES RALLY TUESDAY NIGHT

Former residents and tourists from Iowa, Arizona, Washington, Oregon, Michigan, Missouri, Kentucky, Nebraska, Indiana, Ohio, Colorado, Illinois, Alabama, Tennessee, New York, Alaska, Utah and Canada will hold their fourth reunion and dance Tuesday night at the California Auditorium, 1127 South Hope street, according to announcement of A. H. Redmond, chairman.

Panel in Concrete-Mixer Case Out Twelve Hours

Thousand Spectators Hear Hyde Park Trial

After deliberating for twelve hours, a jury which for five days he heard testimony in the case of Oswald Brothers, charged with maintaining a nuisance in connection with the operation of a concrete-mixing plant in the Hyde Park district, brought in a verdict of guilty on both counts last night.

As during the days of the trial, the courtroom of Municipal Judge Sheldon was packed yesterday and last night as the jury deliberated. It being estimated that more than 1000 residents of the district affected have attended the hearing since the opening.

MANY TO TESTIFY

Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins made the closing argument in the morning after eighteen witnesses had been called at the trial and six more in rebuttal. The closing argument was made by Deputy City Prosecutor Rosenblum. Defense Attorney Blair put eleven witnesses on the stand.

The prosecution had subpoenaed thirty-six other witnesses, but Judge Sheldon ruled their testimony was not essential to the trial and refused to permit them to go on the stand. The closing arguments came after the jury of twelve women, with Judge Sheldon presiding, had set for both sides and court attaches, made a tour of inspection of the plant, located at 360 West Fifty-eighth street.

Residents of the area, of which the prosecution estimates there are more than 10,000, protested against the noise and asserted insanitary conditions created by the operation of the plant run by George H. and John F. Oswald. Attorney Blair contended that there could be no nuisance caused by the concrete plant, since it is in Zone D, an industrial district, as prescribed by ordinance.

GRIEVANCES CITED

Deputy City Prosecutors Rosenblum and Higgins based their arguments against the plant on the following grounds: Operation of the clam-shovel unloading rack up to 11 p.m., causing disturbance; shunting and switching of freight cars; hammering on trucks with sledge hammers between 6 a.m. and 7 a.m. to remove dried cement; mixing of rock and cement in mixer plant; concrete slopping into street as it is being hauled to other parts of the city, and endangering of health and property by dust from the plant.

The district most seriously affected by the asserted nuisance, according to Prosecutor Rosenblum, comprises more than five acres and is bordered by Eighth and Eleventh avenues, and Sixty-seventh street and Hyde Park avenue. The Hyde Park school buildings are within this section, it is said.

base, which is pivoted, the working lamp being at the focal point. Should this lamp burn out during the night the base carrying the two lamps automatically will trip the new lamp into focus and light it. This feature is necessary particularly where the beacons, which are standard government lights used on the national airways, are placed in out-of-the-way places and are visited only once a month by caretakers. On such lamps when the first lamp burns out and the new one swings into place, there is a red light on top of the beacon which also is lighted, informing the passing aviator that the first lamp is burned out and that the emergency lamp is burning.

The local offices of the General Electric Company are proud of the new beacon, as evidenced the other day when two of the young women at the office, Mildred Montoure and Ethlyn Lang, demonstrated its mechanism to visitors.

have been detailed to assist in policing the Santa Paula district while reconstruction work is proceeding in the area devastated by the collapse of St. Francis Dam. The request for the officers was made by the Chief of Police of Santa Paula and granted by the Los Angeles police commission, which yesterday asked the City Council for $600 to pay the additional expense for three months while the officers are on duty.

EXCURSION ANNOUNCED

Members of the Chamber of Commerce and their friends will be given a special excursion rate by the Pacific Electric to Mt. Lowe tomorrow and next Sunday. Announcement of the reduction, which is approximately half the regular price, was made yesterday by A. G. Arnoll, chamber secretary. Tickets for the trip may be obtained through T. G. Williams at the chamber. The party on both trips will be limited to 500.

ENGAGED FOR LUNCHEON

Sally Rand and Benny Rubin will appear at the joint luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce and the Optimist Club next Wednesday in the Biltmore. Announcement that the meeting will be open to members of both organizations and their friends was made by A. G. Arnoll, secretary-manager of the chamber.

FIRESTONE ENGINEER RETURNS

C. A. Myers, director of engineering for the Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, will return to Los Angeles today following a three-weeks' business trip to Akron. Mr. Myers went east to confer with officials of the company and to formulate plans for the opening of the local factory in June.

WIFE TAKES PART BLAME IN ASSAULT

Mrs. Agnes Scott Asks Husband's Dismissal on Deadly Weapon Charge

Accepting half the blame for her husband's asserted attack upon her Mrs Agnes Scott, 1501 Kingsman Road, yesterday requested Municipal Judge Stafford to dismiss an assault with a deadly weapon charge against Lester A. Scott, 61 years of age, retired wholesale grocer.

"Perhaps I was pretty much to blame after all," said Mrs. Scott. "Probably I riled him so he lost his temper and ran for the revolver."

Mrs. Scott told the court that Scott has agreed to keep his distance from home hereafter, as they have separated for good. Scott himself asked to be permitted to post $2500 as bond to keep the peace. Judge Stafford accepted the offer and dismissed the criminal charge. His original bail of $1500 was exonerated.

Reforestation Work Ends at Forest Lawn

In connection with American Forest Week, which begins Monday, Forest Lawn Memorial Park has just announced the completion of its reforestation program, which was purposely designed to conclude with this national observance, set aside by President Coolidge.

In the entire park, covering about 200 acres, both developed and undeveloped property has been planted with thousands of young trees of all varieties which do not lose their leaves in winter.

Among the trees selected are Italian cypress, seventeen varieties of eucalyptus, jacaranda, cryptomeria, pepper, camphor, magnolia, grevillea, redwood, carob, orange and avocado. Special symbolic trees, including the acacia and cedar of Lebanon, were used in the Masonic section, where their meaning is significant to members of the order.

Rare Art Shown as Court Exhibit

Rare books, portieres, a gold and silver Japanese shrine and other art objects were exhibited yesterday in Judge Hardy's court, where Kealoha Kawanauakoa, a native Samoan, went on trial on two counts charging theft of the articles from the home of James Young, motion-picture director and former husband of Clara Kimball Young.

The State charges Kawanauakoa, who is asserted to have been convicted of two felonies several years ago, stole the articles from Young while he was a servant in the director's household. The collection of objects, which became an official court exhibit, was valued at more than $1600 by several experts called to pass on the value.

COUNTY SCHOOL MERGER SOUGHT

Taxpayers' Association Plan May Have Trial

State Board of Education to Administer Districts

Law to Be Drafted for Next Legislature's Action

The educational commission of the California Taxpayers' Association in session yesterday considered ways of improving the present system of education.

Representatives of the California Parent-Teacher Federation, the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, the California Teachers' Association, the Association of Public School Superintendents of California and the State Department of Education met with the commission.

LAW TO BE DRAWN

Tom Gilmore, J. H. O'Connor, deputy County Counsel of Los Angeles, and J. H. Powell, former deputy Attorney-General of California, have been instructed to draw up a county law for the county unit system of school administration.

According to H. Bradford Trenham, secretary of the educational commission, the county unit would deal with school boundaries coterminous with those of the county, except in the case of cities which have school charters. Trenham says that the elected board of education would have full power to do all things necessary for the effective administration of the schools combined with the law and regulations of the State Board of Education.

Elwood P. Cubberley, Ph. D., dean of the school of education, Stanford University, for many years a proponent of the county unit of school administration, pointed out some of its advantages in the general discussion.

ADVANTAGES TOLD

"In place of hundreds of boards of school trustees the county unit plan proposes to substitute one county board of education, elected by the people of the county, which is exactly analogous to a city board of education in formation, duties and powers, the county board of education of all schools of the county outside of cities having a city superintendent," said Dr. Cubberley.

"The result, inevitably, is better administered schools, more economical administration of fiscal affairs and greater unity of educational effort than is possible under a scattered control. The plan is being applied to education what has been applied to almost every other phase of county business. It is the schools regain under a fully decentralized and uneconomical form of control.

"One of the best results that come from county unit educational control is the gradual consolidation of scattered rural schools into larger educational units where a better type of teaching is made possible and such schools children can be more graded and taught.

EXPENSE ELIMINATED

"The savings that naturally accrue from the use of larger-scale operation and management will more than pay for better educational facilities needed in the rural districts of California.

"The bonding for school purposes will cease, as the county unit can handle the matter of taxation. If, however, recourse is resorted to, the credit of the county school district enables the people to vote 4% per cent bonds, instead of the small district 6 per cent, thus the expense for bond interest is materially less-

"The successful operation of six articles of the system in several states, including Utah, Nevada and Arizona.

DETECTIVES SEARCH FOR FINANCIER

Warrant Placed in Hands of Officers in Asserted Embezzlement

Warrant for the arrest of Owen Wyatt, 35 years of age, president of the Provident Discounting Company with offices in the C. C. Chapman Building, was given yesterday to Detective Lieutenants McGee and White. The financier is charged with three counts of embezzlement. The warrant was issued by Municipal Judge Russell.

Wyatt had not been arrested last night but his attorney, Henry Bodkin, was reported to have told the District Attorney's office that he will arrange to surrender his client at such a time as the District Attorney may wish.

The three complaining witnesses against Wyatt are Marvin H Willard, Edith Rear and Emil S. Barbuel. The complaints assert they gave Wyatt trust deeds on which the financier is asserted to have loaned 50 per cent of the face value. The loans were made for a two-year period, it is said, and when that time had expired Wyatt is asserted to have refused to return the trust deeds on which the loans were made, although the loans had been repaid.

Seats in Demand for June Meet

Since opening of the ticket sale by mail last Thursday, many applications for seats at the athletic carnival and outdoor festival at the Coliseum on Saturday, June 16, have been received at headquarters of the Southern California Olympic Games Committee, 1116 West Washington street, it was stated there yesterday. Tickets will be issued in the order of application.

Large numbers of visitors are expected from Arizona and New Mexico, which States will send their outstanding track-and-field athletes to compete with those of Southern California at the southwestern finals at the Coliseum festival. Fully 80,000 tickets are expected to be sold and a fund raised of $100,000 or more to send the American champions to this summer's Olympic Games at Amsterdam.

Chicago Man's Burial Monday

Funeral services for Harry S. Hirsh, 61 years of age, of 1958 North Gramercy Place, will be conducted at the Strother undertaking parlors Monday at 2:30 p.m. with the Elks' lodge officiating. Interment will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Hirsh, who came to Los Angeles six months ago after retiring from active business in Chicago, died Thursday of paralysis. For many years he was head of the Hirsh-Wickwire Company of Chicago, a clothing concern. He leaves his widow, a son, Dwight C. Hirsh of Los Angeles, and a sister, Mrs. Fred Meyer of Chicago.

UNIVERSITY GIRLS PLAN FOR FROLIC

Everything from Snake Charmers to Skeletons on Fun Schedule

A circus with regulation atmosphere will be pitched on the University of California at Los Angeles campus Wednesday from 4 to 8 p.m. sponsored by the University Y.W.C.A. Only women are invited.

Snake charmers, obese freaks, living skeletons, palmists, psychoanalysts, numerologists, fortune tellers and silhouette artists will be attractions of the fifteen sideshows. A puppet show will be given in the main tent.

At 6:30 p.m. acts will be staged in the tent, including a trained horse, hula dancer, tumblers and a Hallelujah negro chorus. Barney's Bruin-ette Six, of U.C.L.A. women will furnish the brass-band music and will offer novelty acts.

Marion Walker has complete charge of the affair, assisted by Grace Reid, director of the tent performance, Lucy Guild, supervisor of the side shows, Evelyn Woodroof, training the barkers, and Jeanne Houston, in charge of the "eats."

Court Refuses Alimony Plea for Wardrobe

Just because a man has always kept his wife well-dressed during their marriage is no reason why he should continue to do so pending a divorce, in the opinion of Judge Bowron. And so Clarence F. Burton, film heavy, was let off with an alimony order for $150 a month despite the protest of Gladys Burton that she could not array herself "in the manner to which she was accustomed" on so small an allowance.

"That's just the trouble," Burton explained. "The manner in which she has been accustomed to dress has absorbed all my earnings and placed me in debt $3500."

In her complaint Mrs. Burton says Burton hurt her feelings by complaining of her cooking. In a cross-complaint he charges her with tippling.

Kirsch Given Prison Term

Albert Kirsch, former president of the Amalgamated Metals Corporation, who was convicted of two counts of grand theft of $85,000 by juggling the accounts of the company, yesterday was sentenced by Judge Burnell to serve from two to twenty years in San Quentin.

Kirsch was sentenced after the court had denied his motion for a new trial. He was arrested and returned to Los Angeles for trial after investigators had followed a trail that led through Canada, Mexico and various parts of the United States.

CASE DISMISSAL ATTACKED

Corporation Commissioner Demands Inquiry in Vandenbergh Indictment Procedure

A demand on the part of Assistant Corporation Commissioner Welch as to his reasons for dismissing an indictment against Jack F. Vandenbergh, well-known in promotion circles, was unanswered yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Brayton.

Mr. Brayton, now detailed to the Long Beach office, said yesterday he had just received Mr. Welch's letter, and because of its "critical tone," preferred to analyze it before replying or giving the reasons for the dismissal.

He indicated, however, that in his judgment the evidence was insufficient for a conviction.

CHARGES MADE

Vandenbergh, also known as Jack Van, according to the evidence in the files of Corporation Commissioner Friedlander, obtained stocks to the value of $8000 from C. F. Ewing of Long Beach on the representation that he would deliver other stocks to Ewing. He is accused of having converted the stocks, never making delivery of any sort to Ewing.

Vanderbergh was indicted October 3, last. He pleaded not guilty and trial was set for October 25. He was released on a bond of $2500.

Then began a series of continuances, from day to day, from week to week, from month to month. The District Attorney agreed to these. Once Vandenbergh failed to show up for trial and his bond was forfeited but later he came in, saying he was sick, and that order was vacated.

The affair was concluded by Brayton's motion for dismissal last Wednesday.

ACTION PROTESTED

The result was brought to the attention of the Corporation Department by Manager Ridenour of the Long Beach Better Business Bureau, who protested the action.

The indictment charged grand theft and violation of the Corporate Securities Act.

Vandenbergh recently lost a $200,000 suit against C. C. Julian, claimed as commission for assistance rendered Julian in obtaining control of the Monte Cristo mine in Arizona from Ezra Thayer. The case was tried in San Francisco.

STANITCH GETS NEW RESPITE

Hearing on Extradition Continued Pending Trial of Habeas Corpus Plea

For the second time within a week the hearing of Elid Stanitch on a fugitive warrant looking toward his extradition to Chicago for embezzlement was continued yesterday by Municipal Judge Stafford.

At request of Dep. Dist.-Atty. Cushman the case was set over until Monday at 2 p.m. The defendant, also known as S. S. Millard, film promoter, was returned to the County Jail after Prosecutor Cushman apprised the court that Attorney G. D. Collins, counsel for Stanitch, has a writ of habeas corpus pending in the Federal Court. Stanitch agreed to the date of continuance.

The defendant came into prominence recently when he entertained Queen Marie of Rumania shortly following his release from San Quentin on a charge of incumbering mortgaged property. The Chicago complaint accuses him of failing to deliver to the United States Health Film Company three films for which he was advanced $25,000. Detective Calkins has been in Los Angeles two weeks waiting for his prisoner.

Stanitch has been in the County Jail since his arrest, unable to raise the $25,000 bail set by Judge Stafford.

ACROBAT'S DEATH HELD DUE TO RUM

Coroner's Jury Says Fall From Fifth Floor Caused by Intoxication

Wayne Bradford, acrobat, met his death due to "an accidental fall from a fifth-floor window while intoxicated," a coroner's jury decided yesterday following an inquest. Bradford died last Tuesday following a plunge from the window of his room in the Yorkshire Hotel on Broadway near Seventh street.

Mavis Maye, actress, who said she was the actor's fiancee, identified the body. She said she was in Salt Lake City and hastened to Los Angeles on being informed of the tragedy.

Yvonne Dubois, a dancer, testified Bradford had been drinking heavily for several days prior to his death. Kenneth Dalley, a theatrical booking agent, told the jury he had talked with Bradford an hour before the acrobat met his death and at that time Bradford was under the influence of liquor.

Following the inquest, Bradford's body was given to the undertaking firm of Pierce Brothers for shipment to the man's father, W. H. Bradford, a police officer in Fort Worth, Tex.

Three Years Liberty Ends for Fugitive

At liberty almost three years following his escape from a deputy sheriff at Pasadena on January 12, 1926, Vincent O. Mulvey, 36 years of age, former Pasadena garage owner, was held for trial yesterday by Municipal Judge Russell on a charge of escape, punishable by one to ten years in San Quentin.

Convicted by a jury in Superior Judge Hahn's court of receiving stolen property, Mulvey was sentenced to serve one to five years in the state Penitentiary on December 11, 1925, but was given an opportunity to close his business affairs before leaving for San Quentin.

Mulvey was intrusted in the care of Deputy Sheriff Tom Daniels and taken to his leased garage at 140 West Union street, Pasadena, to turn his place over to others. But by a prearranged water fight between employees at the garage, Mulvey effected his getaway and was not heard of until March 29, last, when Chicago police arrested him on information furnished by Deputy Sheriff Daniels.

Oil Official Held to Trial in Fraud Suit

By juggling accounts of the Calnan Petroleum Company, of which he is said to have been an official, J. H. Somers, 50 years of age, 359 South Bonnie Brae avenue, succeeded in defrauding others of thousands of dollars, according to testimony presented at his preliminary hearing yesterday before Municipal Judge Baird.

And it was this testimony offered by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Holland that resulted in the magistrate ordering Somers held for trial to the Superior Court on four counts of grand theft. Seven other counts were dismissed for lack of evidence.

R. F. Del Valle, president of the Water and Power Commission, and U. F. Del Valle accused Somers of failing to apply $10,000 given him for company bills. J. R. Berry, John Gray, E. J. Bailey and the Calnan Petroleum Company claim to have lost $14,250 by Somers's operations.

Bail was fixed at $2500.

CANADIAN SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA TO PLAY

The recently organized Canadian Society Symphony Orchestra under Prof. C. J. Schubert will make its debut at a concert given under the auspices of the Canadian Society of Southern California at 1137 South Hope street, tomorrow evening. Signor Ludovico Tomarchio and Senorita Norma Carmona, grand-opera tenor and soprano, will be the soloists. The orchestra was organized by Mme. Morgan-Machon, assisted by Col. A. G. Fonseca, former Winnipeggers, and its personnel is composed of amateur musicians from Canada, the British Isles and America, now permanent residents of Los Angeles. The Canadian Society will hold a reunion and reception starting at 6 p.m.

MOVE AGAINST 'CAPTIVE' FAILS

Play's Producers Score at City Council Meeting

Bonelli Blocks Attempt to Railroad Legislation

Matter Put Over for Further Consideration Friday

Battle over "The Captive," French drama, continued yesterday and last night with the producers of the show winning another round at the expense of the opposition.

The victory for Ed Rowland and A. Leslie Pearce, the producers, came yesterday morning on the floor of the City Council chambers, when those opposing the play were prevented from forcing through a new amendment that would have at once and permanently prohibited the reopening of the production.

Before the Councilmanic session opened it was freely predicted that "The Captive" was as good as dead in Los Angeles, and considerable satisfaction was expressed by those, who for one reason or another, wanted to close the show.

However, William G. Bonelli, President of the City Council, threw the monkey-wrench in the proposed plan.

BONELLI'S ACTION

Bonelli, after putting himself on record as a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and on the faculty of Occidental College, set forth at length his reasons for opposing any attempts to "railroad" special legislation through the Council, and ended up by voting "no" when the amendment came up. As suspension of the rules and passage of the proposed legislation required unanimous vote, Bonelli's action automatically put the matter over for further consideration until next Friday. Also, in the meantime, the Public Welfare Committee of the Council will take the matter up and a public hearing on "The Captive" will be held by that body next Wednesday.

The chairman of the Public Welfare Committee is Councilman Jacobson, and the other members of the committee are Councilmen Hall and Hughes. A lively session is expected at the hearing.

SPECIAL LEGISLATION

"If the purpose of this law is directed against 'The Captive,' it may be special legislation and will not stand the test of the courts," said President Bonelli as he addressed the Council. "The case of 'The Captive' still is in the courts. A jury heard evidence for two weeks and we have not even heard any of the other side here at all, but are asked to join in the hurrah on the first hurrah presented to us."

"We don't want any Mayor Thompson campaign to take books out of the library in this city ("The Captive" is circulated by the Los Angeles Public Library.) In general, I am opposed to tinkering with the civil liberties of people, and people resent this constant flow of laws telling them what they may see, read, hear, etc. This law may constitute censorship. Let us see what we are doing first."

City Prosecutor Lickley, who first attacked "The Captive" and who sponsored the new amendment when he failed to obtain a conviction of Rowland and Pearce after a two weeks' trial in Municipal Court, told the Council that the proposed new law is not censorship, but merely is designed to clarify the existing laws. Councilman Hughes, however, asked "Why not have a board of censors for shows which would issue a permit before a play could open?"

NEW FIGHT CONTINUED

While the Councilmen temporarily thwarted the opposition to the play, the producers of "The Captive" continued another fight in the hope of reopening their show. Thousands of telephone calls asking when the show would open have necessitated extra girls at the switchboard at the Mayan Theater, it is said. In an effort to clarify the situation Rowland and Pearce together with representatives of the Actors' Equity Association, held a conference with the City Prosecutor late yesterday afternoon to inquire as to the authenticity of reports that he plans to arrest the actors again if the show is opened, in spite of the fact that the producers were found not guilty when tried. No official statements were forthcoming from any of those attending the conference, but it is understood that perhaps some solution to the situation might be reached as a result.

RELIEF CORPS TO ENTERTAIN

A special musical program will be given for members of Admiral Robley D. Evans, Woman's Relief Corps No. 120, at the organization's meeting Tuesday. The program will begin at 1 p.m. and will be featured by "Uncle Remus" of radio fame.

FOUR DRIVERS SENTENCED

Terms of Thirty to Ninety Days Imposed on Charges of Recklessness and Intoxication

Sentences ranging from thirty to ninety days were imposed yesterday by Municipal Judge Reed in the City Traffic Court on four motorists charged with reckless driving. All four defendants had been drinking at the time of their arrest, according to testimony adduced by Deputy City Prosecutor Smith.

Ninety-day sentences were received by J. O. Coffman, 614 Figueroa street, and T. D. Wetherald, 114 Hershey street, Wilmar. County Motorcycle Officer Dachsteiner reported he arrested Coffman on the Ridge Route after trailing him for twelve miles. The officer said Coffman was swerving from one side of the road to the other and had two points of liquor in his automobile at the time of his arrest. Dr. W. W. Ashley of the Wildwood Sanatorium, Newhall, examined the defendant and found him to be under the influence of intoxicants. Wetherald was driving recklessly on Valley Boulevard and had been drinking, evidence proved. He also did not have an operator's license.

Dan H. Lewis, 21-year-old oil worker of 83 East Market street, Long Beach, was sentenced to sixty days in the County Jail after it was shown he ran into the machine driven by William F. Sutherland, 2014 West Seventh street, on the 11th inst., at Washington and Norton streets.

Raymond Caywood of 2920 Elm street, 21, a painter, received the lightest sentence of the four—thirty days. Caywood was charged with colliding with another automobile at Seventh and River streets on March 30, last, while under the influence of liquor.

DRAINAGE CHANGE SOUGHT

The City Council was yesterday asked by George M. Lewis and other property owners to abandon proceedings for the construction of section No. 6 of the Slauson-avenue storm drain-system and substitute a modified plan using the existing drainage ditch extending northwesterly from Santa Barbara avenue to Angeles Mesa Drive.

Sweden is suffering greatly from the effects of lockouts and sympathetic lockouts in sawmills and pulp mills and strikes in mines.

Stirlingshire, Scotland, has just stopped all raffles and other games of chance being conducted in the public schools.

Welsh rarebit is improved a thousand times by the use of sherry, as you well know if you were wont to make it in the old days "B.P." (before prohibition.) Yet why lament that you can't serve such dishes any more because a lack of sherry makes them tasteless? Indeed, you can have sherry—it's sold under the name of Guasti Cooking Sherry, and it's made by the Italian Vineyard Company, whose name is symbolic of the best.

Guasti (pronounced Gwah-stee) Cooking Sherry is perfectly splendid, for instance, for chops, for scalloped or creamed meats, crab, lobsters and oysters. All you do is omit the salt you would ordinarily use because Guasti Cooking Sherry is slightly salted—enough put in to meet with government requirements.

Now, in order to avoid any mistake, why not send for a free copy of their recipe book known as "Treasured Flavors?" It has been compiled from favored recipes of famous chefs all over the world, and once you own this book you will find the making of the most delectable viands the greatest joy in the world—nor will it be difficult, because of the simplicity of each recipe.

In case you do not know how to make a good welsh rarebit, copy this one from "Treasured Flavors" until you get your book:

One tablespoonful butter, ¼ pound (approximately 2 cupfuls) of soft mild cheese cut in small pieces, 1-4 teaspoonful mustard, few grains cayenne, dash of paprika, 1-3 cupful Guasti Cooking Sherry, 1 egg. Put butter in chafing dish or top of double boiler and when melted add cheese and seasoning. As cheese melts add sherry gradually, stirring constantly. When cheese is entirely melted stir in slightly beaten egg and serve at once on toast. This is enough for four servings.

When canning tomatoes, put a teaspoonful of salt in each can as you seal it; this will insure their keeping.

Are you constantly changing laundresses? Are you forever at a loss as to where to find a washwoman who will wash your clothes clean and not have to be waited upon the whole time. It's asking the impossible in this day and age, so why worry over it. Get instead an electric washing machine and ironer and settle the matter in the most satisfactory way in the world—by an electrical laundress—The first cost of such articles is practically the only one, due to the low electrical rates now obtainable in Los Angeles. We have the Bureau of Power and Light to thank for that—as a matter of fact we have much to express our gratitude to them for. Is not their electrical cooking school classes which are held every Monday and Thursday free? And what worth-while things we have learned each time we have attended. Then they will gladly demonstrate all the electrical appliances used and shown. Remember it's the basement of the Bureau of Power and Light, Second and Broadway, where the classes are held and where you see all your household drudgery turned into mere child's play.

Try toasting bran bread for breakfast. For luncheon, spread bran bread with jam, jelly or honey. Peanut butter is also excellent on bran bread. Or, mix equal parts of honey and peanut butter and use it as a sandwich filling.

What splendid news for my readers today! News about the finest gelatine dessert you ever tasted put up under the name of "Jell-X-Cell." Of course you have heard about it—but have you tasted it? Jell-X-Cell is made of the very finest of calve's stock. Gelatine combined with the best fruit juices and extracts money can buy. It makes the most tempting of desserts and is beneficial as well—being palatable and delicious as can be—and what do you think—it only takes thirty minutes to prepare! Now to make your dessert problem "nonexistent." you have but to send in for their splendid new cook book which is free to all my readers. Try and mail in your application for one today for the sooner you learn the interesting recipes it contains the easier it will be for you to serve tempting new sweets. 656 South Rio street, Los Angeles, is the address you write to.

Didn't I tell you that you would enjoy parking your car in Hill's Garage at 413 S. Spring st.? Why, isn't it a pleasure to find your car after an afternoon spent in shopping or attending the theater, immaculate and absolutely free from dust and the harmful effects of the sun's hot rays? Then if you were low in gasoline or your tires needed attention or anything was the matter with your motor, it was all taken care of while you were absent, and when you returned it was to find your car ready to start off as soon as you reached the garage—having an attendant take your car and bring it to you is a service women are particularly pleased with. Oh, there is no garage the equal of Hill's, as you will agree once you use it. Don't go around umpteen squares in search of a parking-place, but make at once for Hill's. It costs but 25 cents for the first hour and but 5 cents for each additional hour. That is most reasonable, don't you think?

It would be a great shame to overlook such an opportunity as that which the Mathews Paint Co. of 1245 S. Hill st. offers—that of getting free lessons in applied arts. You learn to do so many interesting things at these classes—for instance, Italian decorating; plastic wood ornaments and clay work—also you are shown how to use the oil paints on lamp shades and exactly how to apply transfer pictures, satisfying them so that they are too alluring for words!

It is hard to belief that all this knowledge is given gratis—your only expense being for the material you use. Really, you are overlooking a great opportunity if you fail to join these classes.

Do let me urge you to go in the very first of the coming week. One thing is true, you will never cease to be glad you spent your leisure time so profitably.

When in Hollywood go into the Mathews New Store at Selma and Vine and in Pasadena they have a beautiful shop at 740 E. Green.

To prevent mauve colored prints and muslins from fading or running in washing, put a little soda in the water. Soda has just the opposite effect on mauves that it has on other colors.

To identify silver or dishes which have been loaned at a picnic or other public gathering, place a small piece of surgeon's plaster on bottom of each dish and on under side of handles of spoons and forks; on this plaster mark your initials (in indelible ink if possible.) The plaster will not come off in ordinary washing, but can be removed by putting in a warm place till the adhesive gum melts.

Have you had your down coverlet recovered yet? Don't wait until the feathers begin to come out but send it in now to the Western Feather and Down Works, 1205 W. Washington st. (WEstmore 9634.) Their prices are not only exceedingly fair but their workmanship is the best to be found in Los Angeles.

To remove chocolate or cocoa stains from table linen, soak over night in cold water; then turn boiling water through them and wash. Borax, with cold water and soap solution, will also remove chocolate and cocoa stains; rinse well in boiling water.

My readers will all be interested in hearing the worth while facts I have to relate about Gelfand's Butt-R-Naise which is causing so much favorable comment everywhere.

You see it contains as many vitamines which combined with real, pure creamery butter, vegetable oils, egg yolks and lemon juice make it ideal for a spread for the children's lunch—perfect for fruit salads, meats and crackers.

What is more children as well as grown-ups adore the taste of it and the more they eat it the better they like it for its palatableness is one of its greatest features, though when you take into consideration its great food value you have a product which every housewife owes it to her family to serve.

Now do get a jar today, try it on salad for today's luncheon and see if you don't agree with me that Gelfand's Butt-R-Naise is the best spread you ever tried!

Katrina now owns a Holmes Vegetable Bin. She bought one of the tangerine-colored kind and it would do your heart good to hear her enthuse over its usefulness! "Besides all the coolers made," she said, "keeps my vegetables and fruits perfectly—and is so easily kept clean because of the removable dirt tray at the bottom, catches all refuse."

Have you been in to see and buy one yet? If you haven't do go in soon. All better department stores have them or you may go direct to the Holmes Manufacturing Company, 143 Pacific Electric Building.

Ask anyone you know who uses Maxwell House Coffee if they don't think it coffee which is pure excellent. You see, there is something so delicate in the flavor; something so enticing in the aroma that you find it impossible to resist the second cup and even the third if there is enough left.

To remove red wine stains from cotton or linen, sprinkle salt on them and then pour boiling water through them.

"Never tasted any better ice cream my dear, did you make it yourself?"—was the laudatory compliment the husband of a little friend of mine paid Hughes Ice Cream . . . and he expressed what many others think — namely that Hughes is the best ice cream and that it is home made. You use the thick, rich cream and fresh-fruit flavors are responsible for that inimitable. You must try some if you haven't eaten any. It's certainly delicious!

It is worth while news don't you think . . . that the Peerless Platers, 220 1-2 S. Spring st. (upstairs) replate brass as well as silver? Their work speaks for itself so simply cannot be done better, while their prices are exceptionally small. Their phone number, by the way, is VAndike 8417.

When washing silver use a wooden tub or bowl, if possible, to avoid scratching or other damage.

There is no doubt about it—Busy Bread sold by Young's Market Company is certainly taking off the bothersome pounds of everyone who is troubled that way—It is truly a winner this Busy Bread for it is easy to eat, in fact, most likable and yet you eat it with the comforting knowledge that you may at the same time indulge your appetite to the fullest because Busy Bread is going to reduce the excess weight and keep you slender—to know more about this bread let me suggest that you write into or phone Young's (DUnkirk 2201) for the free booklet which will explain more fully how it all is done—write or phone today.

To mend broken glassware, cover the broken edges with this: Add one part solution of bichromate of potash to five parts of gelatine. Press edges together and stand article in direct sunlight for a few hours. If neatly done the break will not show and will withstand hot water.

To prevent berries, etc., from sinking to bottom of cake, sift all dry ingredients together (flour, sugar, etc.,) and rub the butter into them instead of creaming as usual; next add the milk, then stir berries in lightly and they will not sink.

THE NIGHT GROWTH

The sun is thought to be the great builder, but the scientist says that nature does her best work at night. Three-fourths of the growth of the average tree is said to be after nightfall. Doubtless it is the same with humans. We grow while relaxed in sleep.

THE BIG PUSH

There are more Illinoisans in Los Angeles than there are Jerseyites in Gotham. There are over 93,000 former residents of Illinois now in the City of the Angels. Maybe the Chicago folk are getting away while their pelts are unpunctured.

PESTS IN THE MIST

Now the referee explains that a pessimist is a sorehead who declares that it cannot be done. An optimist is cheerily certain that it can be done. An optipest spends his time telling how it can be done. The peptomist is the ready guy who takes off his coat and does it. That is why the last shall be first and the first last.

A HARD DIET

Balmung, the famous sword-swallower, is reported to be ill from indigestion, and has had to retire from his professional duties for a while. He went into a hardware store the other day and ate so many knives and forks that he had to be sent to a hospital, where he is now recovering, though slowly. This going on a cutlery spree is almost as bad as filling up with wood alcohol highballs.

BULL RING REFORMS

At last the proposed reforms in Spanish bull-ring methods have gone into effect. The horses, those poor scarecrows formerly sacrificed in the game, are now protected from the horns of the bulls by pads and also by a change in the rules which prevents their entry into the ring until the bull's attention has been centered on the play of capes. Ibanez's "Blood and Sand" would not have contained so many harrowing pages had it been based on up-to-date bull-fighting in Spain.

THE GREAT FLIGHT

France will properly pour a lot of glory upon her peerless aviators, Dieudonne Costes and Joseph Lebrix, who have journeyed nearly 35,000 miles in girdling the globe. After making the Azores leap across the Atlantic they have visited all the continents and most of the countries on the world's map and it was all by wing save for the Pacific jump to Japan. They return to Paris with their plane intact. All things considered it is perhaps the outstanding air performance of the year.

A TIRED SEA LION

A New Yorker lately swam for fifty-six hours, tiring out a pet sea lion in the process. Sea lions are supposed to be as husky swimmers as anything in the water, but the human swimmer's opponent in the contest after ten hours of hard milling, rolled over and went to sleep. After his nap he swam on again, but after forty-two hours he became exhausted and had to be taken from the water. What he lacked apparently was the spirit to win, or perhaps he just didn't take any stock in such a fool contest.

OUR MANCHURIAN TRADE

American trade with Manchuria is growing apace. From a report issued by the South Manchurian Railway Company it appears that while our business with the rest of China has suffered a decline, doubtless due to the unsettled state of affairs there, the value of American exports to Kwantung, the leased Manchurian territory controlled by Japan, has greatly increased, almost doubling during the last year. Due to American sales campaigns in Manchuria there was a favorable trade balance of about $3,000,000. This figure probably does not represent the total balance, as a large volume of American freight reaches Manchuria through Japan, while American exports are usually made direct.

As American machinery, electric equipment and other supplies are finding greater favor with the residents of Manchuria from year to year it will not be long before the bulk of the foreign trade with that country will be controlled by the United States.

ENFORCEMENT? OBSERVANCE!

The statement of a Coast Guard commander that rum-runners are landing their cargoes the length of the Pacific Coast and that there is a dearth of cutters to prevent them doing so brings forcefully to attention again the real crux of the prohibition problem, which is that there is less need of enforcement of the prohibition law than there is of its observance. Capt. Deottе's plan of having enough cutters to put one in the wake of every rum-carrying vessel turns prohibition enforcement into a contest of purses; if the rum-runners are willing to spend more money for vessels than the government they will win.

Apparently the captain visions this race in the light of a sporting event in which the public is supposed to sit on the sidelines and applaud the winner. There is one statement in Capt. Deottе's interview of more than ordinary significance, however; the remark that the rum-runners "do not even go near Canada, where the liquor laws are stringent." The liquor laws of Canada do not begin to be as stringent as those of the United States, but they are both enforced and observed better than ours—particularly the latter.

The best way to accomplish effective prohibition is for citizens who do their duty in other respects, who conform to other laws, who pay their taxes and support loyally the constituted government, to obey this one also and stop patronizing liquor venders. One of the current "jokes" recites that in Los Angeles recently a judge has had his own bootlegger before him for sentence—and regardless of whether the sentence was tempered by that fact or not, the situation is not one that breeds respect for law.

The difficulty is that one form of crime cannot be tolerated and other forms reprobated; a hole in the law big enough to let bootleggers through also gives egress to burglars and robbers, thieves and extortioners and panders. Chicago has recently had illuminating, and apparently chastening, experience of this fact. As the Commonweal, a journal by no means favorable to prohibition, said recently of the Chicago situation, it proves that there is no middle ground between rigid enforcement and opening the door wide to all kinds of viciousness.

Citizens and householders should understand thoroughly that the illicit liquor traffic and high burglary insurance rates are Siamese twins. To protect your jewels and your oriental rugs, to keep your car from being stolen, quit drinking!

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, Deputy Attorney-General in charge of Federal prohibition prosecution, declares that the problem is by no means unsolvable and that Herbert Hoover can and will solve it. "Hoover," said Mrs. Willebrandt, "has spent most of his life doing successfully what the timid and the unimaginative said could not be done. In the same constructive way he will tackle the responsibilities which the Eighteenth Amendment have brought to the Federal government. He will work them out without demagoguery, evasions or political babter."

An element in Mr. Hoover's successful enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment, it is safe to say, will be a method of arousing the public conscience to wholehearted acceptance and observance of the law. The liquor business is not a philanthropic enterprise; it thrives on its profits and it will disappear when the profits do. There will be no supply when there is no demand, no bootleggers when there are no customers for them.

The ordinary citizen can measurably decrease crime of all descriptions by putting a check on his own appetites for the general good of all.

POSTAL REVISION

The bill that directs certain changes in postal rates appears certain of final approval. The Postoffice Department estimates a reduction of $13,585,000 through the provisions of the measure, but commends it in general. The reduction is foreseen as a result of reduced rates on certain classes of mail, but it is not unlikely that increased volume resulting from more favorable rates will offset the expected decrease in receipts in some measure. The volume of second-class mail decreased 21,000,000 pounds in the period between 1920 and 1925. Mail experts believe that there would have been an increase of 400,000,000 pounds if the 1920 rate had remained in force.

The postal bill, as passed by the House, does not move rates back to the 1920 level, but recognizes some of the demands made by publishers. Second-class rates have been so high that many publishers have resorted to a free use of motor transportation. The measure before Congress reduces rates on second, third and fourth-class mail and may result in new business for the postoffice transportation system.

The bill provides for 2-cent business reply cards and envelopes, a new departure, reduces rates on parcel post by zones, and establishes a bulk pound rate on 200 or more pieces. The Postoffice Department is not self-supporting and perhaps never will be. It is likely to show a small deficit only, however, if there are postal rates in effect that encourage heavy mailing in all classes, providing ample gross income for the maintenance of transportation facilities and contracts that must be continued whether the traffic is light or heavy.

THE GLIDERS ARE COMING

Motorless planes have been popular in Germany for several years. Remarkable records have been made. The record distance attained by a glider is 300 miles; the endurance record is fourteen hours. The American Motorless Aviation Club seeks to introduce this scientific sport into the United States and to this end has invited experienced Germans with their best motorless planes to come to the United States.

Gliders take off from a hillside, shot into the air by momentum imparted from a rubberized rope used like the schoolboy's bean-shooter. The practised glider pilot maneuvers the small plane miraculously, performing after the manner of an eagle coasting down one wind and up another. And the best of them keep it up for 300 miles and stay up in the air fourteen hours.

Restrictions on aviation in Germany imposed by the Versailles treaty are said to have fostered the development of gliding by the German pilots. A sense of flying is developed by the gliders—an understanding of the air like that acquired by birds. When experienced glider pilots are promoted to high-powered planes, they have an advantage over student aviators who have never experienced gliding. German sponsors of gliding declare that initial training in glider planes eliminates fully 90 per cent of the risks taken by aviators.

One thing is certain, American youth, if given the opportunity, will take to the glider plane like ducklings to water. Once the American youth gets started you will see him sliding down the air and up the wind as fearlessly as he now dives off the springboard or coasts down snow-bound hills in the wintry East.

SPOTLESS TOWN

Pittsburgh is not the smokiest city in the world at all; its reputation has been a vast mistake, says the Business Bulletin of Cleveland, Ohio. Twenty-three cities were inspected and St. Louis has been awarded first place in dirt, Cincinnati second and Pittsburgh third. Detroit and Chicago trail along after. (Morals are not considered.)

Boston is the cleanest town on the list and San Francisco is regarded as her nearest rival without spot or blemish. New York is about fifty-fifty in clean shirts.

You would imagine Los Angeles would find place in this exhibit. Clean collars and cuffs can be worn as long here as anywhere. However, her name does not appear. If Miss Los Angeles is so pure and utterly innocent of grime that she is not even to be classed with the others, we are comforted. To be Spotless Town is our pride.

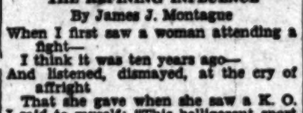
WOMEN FOR HOOVER

All over the land women's clubs are indorsing the candidacy of Herbert Hoover. One reason for this is that of all the men whose names have been mentioned as Presidential timber Hoover is the best known to the women and is highest honored because of the part he played in feeding a hungry world during the great war.

Housewives who heeded the call to "Hooverize" in those parlous times feel a sort of fellowship with the man with whom they co-operated in food economies. Some of these women made great sacrifices, and these have tended to increase the bond between them and their great economic leader during the war.

Women know and appreciate the high character of the man and respect him for his acts of renunciation in accepting official places that have paid him so much less in a pecuniary way than he would have received had he remained in private life and pursued his profitable work of engineering. Women know what sacrifice means, and they are not slow to commend and reward it.

Women appreciate the fact that a man of such high business efficiency and great executive ability as Herbert Hoover would not fail the nation in an hour of need. They know he would meet every emergency squarely, by the application of his well-known power of achievement, and that in him they would have a President of whom they always would be proud.



THE REFINING INFLUENCE

By James J. Montague

When I first saw a woman attending a fight—
I think it was ten years ago—
And listened, dismayed, at the cry of affright
That she gave when she saw a K. O.
I said to myself: "This belligerent sport
In which men are reduced to mere wrecks
May appeal to the male of the callouser sort,
But it's not for the tenderer sex."

Yet women more frequently came to attend
These savage and dangerous bouts.
They rose in their seats and applauded no end
At the punches and wallops and clouts,
And I said to myself, with a moan of alarm,
"Is woman now growing to be
Bereft of her gentle and feminine charm
And becoming a fight hound like me?"

Her voice shrilling out through the din:
"That jab was a corker, that dazed him for fair!
Now one good swift punch to the chin."
I pictured a rude and an amazon race
Which could never find interest again
Save in blows to the short ribs and clouts to the jaw
And the long and concluding "nineteen."

But a number of fights I have recently viewed
And I've noticed again and again
That the pugs are not nearly so ugly and rude
As they were when they fought for mere men.
They do not seem angry nor even sincere,
And so I can only suppose
That the presence of women in tier upon tier
Has softened their hearts—and their blows!

The LEE SIDE O' LA

By Lee Shippey

SO MANY important things are happening all the time in this territory that a good many of us have not yet realized what an important event is going to take place in Long Beach, beginning July 27, in the Pacific Southwest Exposition. It won't be a world's fair, exactly, but a score or more of countries will be represented. It won't be so big and spread out that you will sag with weariness every time you stroll through it, but will occupy all of a sixty-acre tract, stretching right out into the ocean. It will be to other international expositions what the Huntington Library is to other famous collections of art and books—not so hugs, but all outstanding, distinctive, memorable.

A Man With an Idea

A couple of years ago J. David Marson, then executive vice-president of the Long Beach Chamber of Commerce, suggested that an exposition commemorating the landing of the padres in California would be a good thing, and would interest all the countries of Central and South America, and bring them into closer relations with the peoples of the seven States of the United States Southwest. When he got to planning his idea he saw that not only Latin America, but all the world now is and wants to be in touch with the American Southwest. Japan and Hawaii and the Fiji Islands wanted to come in, and so did Spain, Belgium, Germany, Sweden. And so it has grown and still is growing.

The Wonder of It

And the real marvel of the whole thing is that this great exposition will be given in a city which wasn't even an incorporated town within the memory of middle-age men. It was not till 1882 that artesian water was struck in Long Beach, and not till 1888 that it was incorporated as a city of the sixth class—and then it appeared to be entirely too presumptuous, for it had to allow its incorporation to lapse in 1896, not being reincorporated till 1897. The latest estimate, based on figures given by the public service corporations, gives Long Beach population of 168,000. In 1900 its population was 2252.

In none of the foreign countries which will exhibit there have such changes ever been dreamed. Only two cities in Belgium, Antwerp and Brussels, are so large. Not more than three in Spain are larger, and in France Long Beach would rank far ahead of such ancient seaports as Le Havre, St. Nazaire, Brest and Cherbourg.

Unmercenaries

The other day a bent old chap—not so old in years as in appearance—came into our office to look for a man who had been here thirty years or so ago. He didn't find him, and began talking to us. He was a reporter of the kind now passing—and though we are glad most reporters are more provident now, we cannot but sigh for their passing. For they were the unmercenaries, eager as fire horses to respond to the call of duty, no matter where it took them or into what hardship or danger. In forty years of newspaper service he had written many a piece which helped launch a great enterprise, or brought recognition to some struggling young man or young woman, or aided some worthy charity, or aroused sentiment for better schools, or brought justice to some unfortunate who otherwise might have met injustice. In other words, for forty years he had done real good in the world. But he had been a rolling stone, never stopping long in one place. And he came in to see if he could find some old friend who would lend him enough to buy food until expected assistance came. Improvident—foolish. But unmercenary. And mercenaries never could have done as much, never could have given themselves as he did. They would have been too saving!

Clark Foresaw Future

But he told us a story we never shall forget. "I was a reporter here," he said, "when artesian water was discovered in Long Beach. The late Senator Clark was here, too, and was so impressed that a lot of us hired rigs and drove to Long Beach, an all-day job, and Clark made a speech, predicting that as a result of that water some day there would be a big city there. Then there were only a few scattered houses, hardly enough to make a first-class village.

Clark and the Newsie

"We drove back late that night," he continued, "and were all together in the hotel next morning, when a newsboy came up. Clark bought a paper, offering a dime, but the boy said he had no change. 'I'll hold your papers,' said the multimillionaire, 'while you go get change.' And he did. We thought it cheap, we others, so when the boy came back I took a paper and handed him a dime. 'Just keep the change,' I said. Clark turned on me a red glare. 'Young man,' he said, 'you think you are making me appear penurious. But I did that boy a favor, you are doing him injury. Once he gets the idea of something for nothing he won't be worth a damn!'"

Unfair to Water Users

LOS ANGELES, April 17.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Why should the water users be held responsible for damage done by the breaking of St. Francis Dam? Are they the sole beneficiaries of dams built for the city of Los Angeles? How about the millions of dollars' worth of vacant property owned by people who have no water accounts, but whose property is valuable and has been made so because of all the city utilities? Not only are water users benefited by the city water supply, but can you name any property owner who is not benefited thereby? How about the thousands of property owners whose property values run into millions but who do not buy water? Why should they not help pay the debt?

The city as a whole is more dependent upon its water supply than any of its utilities and every citizen is affected by its scarcity or its plentifulness. Then why should only the people who buy water be held responsible for the entire amount? If that had been our only source of supply, would not the entire population be on an equal footing to regain another supply? A reasonable increase in water rates for a reasonable length of time is expected, but it is not fair to put the entire burden on water users only.

The Ebell

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] At a recent meeting of the Bible department of the Ebell of Los Angeles, at which 200 or more members were present, a motion was made and unanimously carried (with real enthusiasm,) instructing the secretary to express their appreciation of the splendid cartoon which you published a few weeks ago entitled "The Rock of Ages;" also of your fearless defence of the Bible at all times in The Times and your many wonderful editorials.

On behalf of the Bible department of Ebell of Los Angeles.

Paradise Lost

LOS ANGELES, April 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The description of the first air delivery of The Times written by Fred Hogue in Sunday's Times is a credit to a newspaper. Its beauty in expressing the actual sensation experienced before dawn as this plane news carrier flew over the most advertised State in the world asleep in its scenic wonders was inspiring. Then the picture of an awakening world eager for the news of the night, being greeted by copies of The Times Airplane Edition, together with the vivid sketch of the ship's pilots as he saw them, elevates this newspaper article into the highest order of journalism.

A tribute of welcome to Mr. Ochs in a Sunday Times a month ago was written by another journalist worthy of appreciation.

Congratulating you upon your selection of artists who assist in making The Times a paper to be proud of. BETH BARKER.

P. S. This outburst of ardent admiration from a widow of 35 was delayed, so, the Tuesday morning Times has arrived, revealing a "foto" of one Fred Hogue!!

Well, Mr. Editor. You have killed, petrified and frozen my romantic vision of a handsome young journalist sailing through the skies all aglow with throbbing pulsations of life, love and adventure.

Alas! Fatal mistake, Editor! That "foto" !! !! !!

A WILTED WIDOW SCRIBE.

So Also Think Motorists

LOS ANGELES, April 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] As this is Kindness to Animal Week you would be doing some animals a great kindness if you would publish an editorial requesting all milk customers to write milk companies in Los Angeles delivering milk by horses and request them to deliver by motor only and eliminate horse delivery entirely.

I have noticed at least two milk companies that deliver by horses and sometimes the horses look so exhausted. They have long hours of work and many hilly streets to drag their load up.

FOREGO THE LIVER

Medical science recently discovered that liver contains elements of great value in the treatment of pernicious anemia. Over night liver became famous. Thousands who formerly shunned it and thought it best adapted to feeding cats immediately sought it. They did not wait for diagnoses as sufferers from pernicious anemia. Enough for them to know that liver was good for something. But science has not yet discovered that liver is of especial value to persons not suffering from pernicious anemia. Meanwhile, the raid on liver has sent the price soaring to figures difficult for sufferers from pernicious anemia who have both poor blood and poor purses. Why not forego liver unless one needs it? It is easy for most persons to do without it. Why not?

SEEING MEXICO

BY WILLIAM L. VAIL

If the measure of a country's civilization is good roads, Mexico has several thousand kilometers more civilization than she had this time last year. With the Yaqui troubles on, and opposition patriots fighting out in the hills, and back bills to pay, and the bankers in New York to propitiate, and the Presidential elections starting him in the face, President Calles has found time to build a lot of new highways and they are proving good investments.

There have recently been completed the Mexico City-Puebla road, one of the finest scenic drives in America; the Mexico City-Pachuca road, one of the finest scenic lines in America; the Mexico City-Acapulco Highway, which can be made in ten hours, a trip formerly requiring the best part of ten days, also one of the finest scenic drives in America, and the Monterray-Laredo road which enables tourists to run down from the border, get their medicine and return the same day, if business is urgent. This roadway is likewise one of the finest scenic drives in America.

All of this work is under the direction of the National Highway Commission, and most of it has been supervised by American engineers familiar with road building. Byrnes Brothers of Chicago had contracts for a large portion of the work and are still finishing the Acapulco Highway. Expense of this work is taken care of from a special gasoline tax—a Federal tax—which nets from 600,000 to 900,000 pesos monthly. Many smaller stretches in different parts of the republic are being built by State assistance and private subscription. Large mine corporations, for example, find it profitable to build portions of roads which connect them with the outside world, the government giving them a rebate in taxes. In this manner an immense amount of road building can be carried on without becoming burdensome.

Road building in Mexico is not nearly so expensive as in some countries of the world. Most of the ways lay in the temperate zones, along the high mesas, free from frost and heavy rains, with an abundance of material near at hand. The Spaniards were great road men. Within ten years after the Conquest Mexico was net-worked from ocean to ocean with stone-paved highways that have stood the gaff all these centuries. The early Spaniard never did anything by halves. His construction defied weather and revolutions and the criminal hand of man. All the new arteries now being laid follow substantially the Spanish trails and for hundreds of miles make use of the old foundations laid with so much care and skill.

The Mexico-Laredo Highway is planned to connect with the Meridian Highway, at the border, and on to Canada. From Mexico south it will run to the Guatemala line, and it will be possible within two years to motor from Toronto to Tegucigalpa, capital of Honduras, over one of the finest scenic highways in America.

CHANGED WORDS

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

Whereas formerly words went out of fashion, like hoop-skirts, trains, bustles and basques, and became obsolete, they now put on short skirts, a gay sash or a perky hat and strut about as saucy as flappers. And those which once jumped out and hit us in the face like a mailed fist now wear a velvet glove and wave a friendly greeting.

Think of the many expressions like "The Old Ladies' Home," "The Poor House," "The Orphan Asylum," "Boys' Reform School," "Crippled Children's Hospital," all duly softened now into "Home for the Aged," "The County Farm," "Children's Sunshine Home," "Boys' Industrial School" or "School for Vocational Guidance" and "The Children's Orthopedic Hospital."

Once we gave alms, then we turned it into charity, now we have the Community Chest.

Think of what the word "sport" meant in your youth. A male sport was a swaggering fellow with a loud checked suit and a hat cocked on one side. He was a gambler, a professional horse-racer, offensive, loud-mouthed. And a female "sport," well if you were a lady you did not even walk on the same side of the street if you could help it.

And see what "sport" stands for today. You wear sport clothes to the most exclusive luncheons. Summer and winter sports occupy half the pages of the newspapers and almost all of the magazines. A sportswoman is an expert horsewoman, a tennis player, an ice-skater, a champion swimmer, and, oftener than not, a member of society's most exclusive set. She must have an excellent physique, a well-trained mind, ethical ideals, and she is always the most popular member of any group.

And take the word "clever." When you were a child the old ladies who gave you cookies and who carried red apples around in their pockets to hand out to hungry little boys were called "clever," the word being synonymous with generous.

Imagine calling that sort of a simple soul "clever" now!

LIFE IS LIKE THAT

Little Mary, who had fallen ill, begged for a kitten.

It was found that an operation was necessary for the child's cure, and that she must go to the hospital. Her mother promised that if she were very brave she should have the very finest kitten to be found.

As Mary was recovering from the influence of the anesthetic the nurse heard her muttering:

"It's a rotten way to get a kitten."—London Tit-Bits.

TRAVELER FINDS HOOVER STRONG

Seattle Mayor-Elect Learns Secretary Popular

Frank Edwards Takes Tour to Fit Self for Office

Ex-Angeleno Wins Place and Wealth in North

"It looks to me as though Hoover has the edge," said Frank Edwards, Mayor-elect of Seattle, who reached Los Angeles yesterday on a tour of about twenty of the larger cities of the country prior to taking office as Mayor on June 4. "I think Hoover will even get the Michigan delegation and since Willis's death he has a decided margin in Ohio."

FRANK EDWARDS.

Mr. Edwards explained that his interest in politics is only casual, since he himself was chosen as Mayor of Seattle in a nonpartisan election. Practically unknown politically in that city six months ago, he built up an organization within that time that carried him to victory by the largest majority and the largest total vote ever given a candidate in Seattle, in one of the most bitter electoral fights that city ever has known.

He is a former Angeleno and was for years a resident of Riverside. He is a close personal friend of Frank Miller, manager of the Mission Inn there, with whom he spent the day yesterday, afterward motoring here. He has been a resident of Seattle for twenty-eight years, during most of the time being employed as an accountant and auditor. Six years ago he bought a Seattle theater, of which he was acting as auditor, and ran it and his original capital of $100 into a chain of eleven theaters which he recently disposed of for approximately $350,000.

Mr. Edwards expressed himself as delighted to get back to the West after his trip. "It felt like coming home," he said.

With his secretary, Frank Ryan, he expects to remain in Los Angeles until Tuesday evening, when he will leave for San Francisco, en route to Seattle. He will spend most of his time here studying civic problems and industrial expansion, as he has done in other cities on his trip, which is being taken at his own expense.

HOOVER POPULAR IN EAST, SAYS VISITOR

The popularity of Herbert Hoover as a Presidential candidate is very obvious throughout the East as well as in the West, according to A. C. Ernst, head of the nationally-known accounting firm of Ernst and Ernst, who arrived in Los Angeles with a party of company executives and partners yesterday.

Mr. Ernst said that although Hoover is very popular it is recognized generally he is not a politician. He would be very acceptable to business men as President. Another man in the Republican ranks who enjoys considerable popularity is Vice-President Dawes, according to Mr. Ernst. Secretary of the Treasury Mellon also is popular and is held in high regard by people in all parts of the country.

Mr. Ernst said that in the East much attention is being given to the proposed Congressional enactment touching the proposed merger of the four railroad systems into the Nickel Plate, with not only the roads themselves but also all affiliated industries rather marking time and awaiting to see what attitude Congress will take on the proposal. Some conclusive action is expected during this session of Congress. The Ernst company is representing the Van Sweringen interests in a phase of this proposition.

The Ernst party, a number of whom are accompanied by their wives, will remain in Los Angeles for about a week, having arrived on a special car on the Union Pacific's Gold Coast Limited. While here the men will interview business men and bankers, getting a line on present and future business conditions, and will report their findings to all of their offices in fifty cities of the United States.

Those in the party include: Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Blyth and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Raymond of Cleveland, H. Manning of Chicago, R. F. Marburger of Pittsburgh, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Firsby and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Gilbert of New York, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Brunck of St. Louis and W. H. Wilson of Buffalo.

ADVERTISERS BRANCH OUT

To meet the expansion programs of their clients, Logan & Stebbins, advertising agency of Los Angeles, announced the establishment of offices in San Francisco through reciprocal arrangements with D'Evelyn & Wadsworth, advertising agency of that city.

Miss Edith Clark, a one-time teacher of mathematics in San Francisco, is now one of the outstanding professional women in America.

PRISON AWAITS LaMARR MATE

One-Time Husband of Actress Found Guilty of Forgery In Local Court

Phil Ainsworth, one time husband of the late Barbara LaMarr, screen actress, yesterday was convicted of forgery in Judge Burnell's court. Under the verdict Ainsworth faces a penitentiary term of from one to fourteen years. Sentence will be passed next Wednesday.

According to prosecution testimony, Ainsworth forged the indorsement of Walter Dedrick to a check for $35.

AMORC HEAD VISITING CITY

Imperator of Rosaecrucis Order to Give Several Addresses for Members Here

Dr. H. Spencer Lewis, Imperator of the Ancient Mystical Order of Rosaecrucis in America, will arrive in Los Angeles this morning for the purpose of giving several public lectures and a series of special addresses to Southern California members of the AMORC. More than 2000 persons are expected to attend the services of the order at the Music-Art Hall at 11:15 a.m. tomorrow when Dr. Lewis will speak on "The Secret of the Oriental Method of Concentration." Free copies of the lecture will be distributed. A musical program will be given by Beatrice Bowman, Beatrice Huntley and Howard Cavanah, vocalists, and Lloyd Knapp, 'cellist, and Edith C. Downs, pianist.

Tomorrow evening Dr. Lewis will speak at Symphony Hall to members only and at the same hall, on Monday evening, to members, their relatives and friends. A picnic for members and their friends will be given at Griffith Park next Tuesday. Hoover Given U.C.L.A. Vote

Judging by sentiment at the University of California at Los Angeles, Herbert C. Hoover will be the next President of the United States. In a straw vote taken there yesterday, he received 410 ballots, while his strongest Democratic opponent, Gov. Smith of New York, trailed with 378.

Although not nominated at the student "Republican convention," conducted a few days ago, Senator Norris polled 401 votes in yesterday's balloting. Members of the faculty as well as students participated in the straw vote, which showed scattering support for several other candidates.

TRICK-BED SUIT LOSES STATUS

Action to Recover $40,000 for Being Folded Up Won By Defendant

A technicality folded up the folding-bed case in Judge Valentine's court yesterday.

The action was the one in which Bruce Carter and his wife, Bunny, were endeavoring to recover $40,000 damages as the result of being folded up in an apartment-house bed. The defendants in the case were Morris Saks and others, owner of the apartment-house. Negligence was charged.

At the close of the plaintiff's testimony the defendants asked for a nonsuit on the grounds that a landlord is responsible only for the defects of his property that he knows about. Saks, it was proven, did not know of the defective bed. Judge Valentine granted the motion.

DEATH LAUGHS AT PHILOSOPHY

Aged Couple, Casting Life's Balance, See Time for Exit; After Last Fling of Pleasure, Pair Enter Shade to Find Grim Reaper Mocks Command

They are an aged couple, the husband somewhat older than the wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beach by name.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach were wed a long time ago in the East, making their home for the better part of their lives at Detroit, Mich., where Mr. Beach was well and favorably known as a writer of feature news and stories.

Three months ago the aged couple came to Los Angeles to spend their declining days amidst flowers and sunshine, enjoying all of the delights of Southern California.

Then because things did not progress with the aged husband as he thought they should he began to be gripped with the haunting fear that he had outlived his usefulness.

END OF THE TRAIL

Mr. Beach and his wife are refined and educated people. They have always looked at life in a philosophical way. The aged wife shared in the fear of her husband that the end of their trail was at hand.

Death had no terrors for this pair. They talked the thing over and reasoned that if their usefulness had passed its zenith, the grave would be better than that they should become a burden to each other or to relatives.

So they decided to die—to die together and meet, they hoped, in a happier beyond. They wanted their exit to be serene and peaceful; that they should fall into a deep sleep and never awaken on this earth.

The husband visited the corner drug store, where he purchased twenty tablets of a sedative. He returned to his apartment where his wife calmly waited.

They were happy. They joked with each other. There was no terror in either.

Yet life still was dear to this aged couple. They wanted just one more happy time together. They left their room and bought tickets for a motion-picture comedy. They laughed, they joked and returned to their home.

Sitting at the table across from each other they divided the twenty tablets—ten to each.

The husband swallowed the first; then the wife took one. Then the husband's turn, and so on until the last tablet had been consumed, enough poison to stifle the life out of any human.

This was the pitiful story told by the husband yesterday before Judge Thomas O. Clould, presiding over the lunacy commission in the psychopathic ward at the General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach had been found and hurried to the hospital, where they had been given medical aid in time to cheat death.

When the couple met for the first time, after being taken to the hospital they rushed into each other's arms and wept.

"I have been a chump," the former writer declared. "Life still holds something for us."

WOMAN DRIVER SENT TO SANTA ANA JAIL

SANTA ANA, April 20.—Mrs. Betty Carl, 22 years of age, who gave her address as 2020 East Fourteenth street, Long Beach, was sentenced to fifteen days in the County Jail by Justice of the Peace Kenneth Morrison today, following her plea of guilty to reckless driving.

Mrs. Carl was arrested near Seal Beach by Motorcycle Officer F. O. Yoder of the State traffic squad. She was said to have been receiving a driving lesson at the time.

NEW LIGHT SHED ON MYSTERY OF MAGNETISM BY SCIENTIST

Much of the ignorance surrounding magnetism and its properties, which has been declared by one scientist to be the disgrace of modern science, has been dispelled by research conducted during the past few years by Prof. Samuel J. Barnett of the physics department of the University of California at Los Angeles. In a lecture yesterday at the university he revealed for the first time some of the discoveries he has made concerning magnetism and its phenomena. His lecture was the fourth annual research lecture of a series conducted by the university and will be published as part of the group.

Prof. Barnett's discourse yesterday dealt with two gyromagnetic phenomena. He discovered in 1914 that a body becomes magnetized by its mere rotation and since that time has devoted a vast amount of study to this phenomenon.

Although the effects of relative in the experiments were very minute, nevertheless, Prof. Barnett devised methods of measuring the effect with precision, which in itself is regarded as of incalculable value and importance in the atomic theory of magnetism.

"The investigation established for the first time the actual existence of the hypothetical molecular electrical currents invented by Ampere more than 100 years ago to account for magnetism," said Prof. Barnett, "and proved that the electricity in motion in these currents is negative. My study also demonstrated that the electricity in motion in these currents has mass, or inertia, so that each molecular current, or whirl, behaves mechanically like a spinning top.

"It also determined for every magnetic properties the so-called gyromagnetic ratio, a quantity relating the mechanical and magnetic properties of the whirl.

"The polarity of the magnetism produced in a body by rotating it is found to bear the same relation to the direction of the rotation as does that of the earth or any

Lloyd C. Douglas, Minister

11:00—Dr. Douglas preaches. Theme: "Is Prayer a Dynamic or a Superstition"—an excursion into the practical contaminations of human attempts to contact with the Divine. For whom, when, where and how, is prayer available? Does it work? Does it work infinitely? Does it work only for a pious few? Can man's supplications alter God's attitude toward him?

MISSING GIRL RETURNS HOME

Film Actor Released When Mystery Clears

Flight from Hotel to Dodge Mother Related

Boy's Quick Wit Routs Sister's Kidnapers

Virginia Kelley, 17 years of age, who suddenly disappeared Thursday night from a Hollywood hotel, returned to her home and mother at 1922 Taft avenue, Hollywood, last night and related how she escaped from the rear of the hotel after she heard her mother was in the lobby searching for her.

With the girl's return Hollywood police released Robert Barry, 26, a bit player in the films, who was held in connection with her disappearance, having been her escort to a hotel dinner party from which she suddenly disappeared.

Miss Kelley told Detective Lieutenant Cowart, according to his report, that she heard her mother was looking for her. She said she ran down from the fourth floor of the hotel to a window on the first floor from which she dropped to the ground, injuring herself in the fall.

She said she ran across the street to a garage and called a family friend who came after her and at whose home she has been staying while her family and police squads searched for her.

Her mother, Mrs. B. C. Gray, was frantic with grief over her child's disappearance, and her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Conroy, was under the care of physicians when Virginia returned home.

Young Barry, who lives at 5640 Santa Monica Boulevard, was detained by the police, but after the girl reappared he was released and no charge placed against his name. The case is closed.

BOY'S SCREAMS ROUT SISTER'S KIDNAPERS

What is believed to have been an attempt to kidnap Madaline Kennedy, 9 years of age, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kennedy, 1458 North Kings Road, was frustrated yesterday afternoon when the little girl's brother, Donald, 6, screamed and caused the would-be kidnaper to flee.

According to the children's story, they were on their way home from the Gardner-avenue school. At Laurel avenue and Sunset Boulevard, a well-dressed man about 35 years of age, stopped them and asked them to step behind a billboard.

The man immediately began questioning the boy about the girl, asking for her name and address. Donald became frightened, broke away from the man and ran out into the street with his sister.

The suspect then ran to his automobile and drove rapidly away. The children immediately went to their home where they reported the affair to their mother, who notified the Hollywood police station.

A squad of officers was sent immediately to the neighborhood in search for the man.

POLICEMAN CLEARED ON RUM CHARGE

Knowles, Acting Captain, Expected to be Restored to Duty at Once

Charges of violation of the National Prohibition Act against Charles M. Knowles, acting captain of police at Hollywood station, were dismissed yesterday by United States Commissioner Head. Three others facing similar charges were held to answer to the Federal grand jury.

Those held to answer are W. E. Forbes, Chet Ryan and Clarence Thompson, who were taken in a Federal raid on a house at 1526 North St. Andrews Place on the 7th inst. Bail was fixed at $2000 each.

Knowles was arrested with Forbes, but showed that he was acting in an official capacity, searching for a missing person, when the Federal officers began the raid. He was suspended, but with the case dismissed and his statements uncontradicted Capt. Knowles is expected to be restored to duty at once.

Russia to Copy Local Studio

Announcement that Moscow, Russia, is to have a motion picture studio similar in construction to the Paramount-Famous-Lasky plant in Hollywood was made last night by Dr. Johan Ohsol, vice-president and treasurer of the Amtorg Trading Corporation of New York, just before his return to the eastern city last evening.

He made this announcement after a survey of a week in Hollywood during which he inspected the Paramount and De Mille studios and was entertained by Charles Chaplin, Georgia Hale and other screen personages.

Dr. Ohsol came here to make a survey of Los Angeles industries with the intention of purchasing supplies for Russia and Siberia. He declared the film plant will be built in Moscow by a syndicate backed by the sovie. government. Milton Hoffman, who constructed the Paramount studio, will supervise plans for the Russian plant.

While in Los Angeles Dr. Ohsol was a guest of Preston Hurlbut of Barter, Inc., exporters and importers.

FILMS FIGHT BISHOP FOR NEW BEAUTY

Mormon Girl Finds Hope of Cinema Career Foiled by Churchman Father

She has red hair, a dimpled chin and a flashing smile. She is the daughter of a Mormon bishop and herself is a staunch Mormon. She has always dreamed of a film career and it has been her secret ambition to become an actress.

She is Winnie Jones, 18 years of age, belle of the village of Rockville, near Zion National Park, Utah. Winnie has realized part of her ambition. She has at least appeared before a motion-picture camera. But it is probable her dream will never come true for her father is opposed to her going to Hollywood.

The story of Winnie's ambition was brought back to the film world by Jack Holt, Paramount star. He met her while his company was in Utah recently filming exterior scenes for a Zane Grey story.

Winnie was an extra. The Holt unit made its headquarters in Rockville and recruited extras from the natives. Winnie's beauty attracted the attention of Holt and his director and it was to them that Winnie revealed her ambitions.

The girl is more than ever anxious to carry out her ambition, now that she has sensed something of the thrills of films. She is a high school graduate and has studied dramatic art.

Angeleno Pairs Sunder Marital Chains in Reno

Charging in her divorce plea that he threatened to kill her with poison gas and declaring he would make her take the "love pills" he had invented, Mrs. Ruth Hubbard Lee has been granted a divorce from O. Ivan Lee, said to be a Los Angeles chemist, according to information from Reno, Nev. She declared Lee neglected her for his collection of stamps and minerals but demanded constant attention from her. She was awarded custody of their small son.

Lee could not be located in the city yesterday.

William C. Jackson, Los Angeles musician, was also granted a divorce in Reno. He declared he found he had wed a tyrant when Katie Jackson struck him on their wedding night, told him she intended to be the boss and ordered him around like a servant. The suit was not defended.

Mrs. Jackson could not be located here.

Ex-Pugilist and Girl Deny Guilt in Kidnaping

Robert Corbett, former pugilist, and Peggy Larkin, charged with the kidnaping recently of George Olhausen, yesterday entered pleas of not guilty in Judge Craig's court to charges of kidnaping, assault with a deadly weapon and robbery. The trial was set for May 8, next.

Edward Morris, said to have been the leader of the gang that is accused of kidnaping and holding Olhausen for $10,000 ransom, previously pleaded guilty and will be sentenced Monday. Olhausen escaped from a San Fernando shack after being held prisoner for thirty-six hours.

Pioneer Woman Physician Dead

Dr. Anna M. Reynolds, 82 years of age, pioneer woman physician and former dean of the Woman's Medical College of Philadelphia, died yesterday at her home, 1802 South Kingsley Drive. Dr. Reynolds has been a resident of Los Angeles since she retired from practice about twenty years ago.

She leaves three sons, Henry W. Reynolds, president of the Eureka Casualty Company of this city; J. M. Reynolds of Honolulu, and Alfred B. Reynolds of Philadelphia, and one daughter, May Reynolds, president of the Rebekah general assembly of California.

Funeral services will be conducted from Hollywood chapel at 1:30 p.m. Monday, with interment in Hollywood Cemetery.

AIRPORT ACTION NOW HELD WISE

Bar Chief Says City Should Build for Future

Flying Still in Its Infancy, Declares Morrow

Bond Issue for Three Sites Given Approval

While sites are easily available this city should make preparations to meet future requirements for the successful handling of air traffic, according to Hubert T. Morrow, president of the Los Angeles Bar Association. The following letter from Mr. Morrow has been received by John R. Quinn, vice-president of the Seaboard National Bank and chairman of the citizens committee sponsoring the campaign for the adoption of the $6,000,000 bond issue to be voted on May 1 to provide three municipal airports for this city:

"I am pleased to express my individual opinion regarding airports for Los Angeles.

"Undoubtedly this city, because of its favorable location, its ideal air conditions and its size will become one of the great airplane centers of the world. We should, while sites are easily available, make preparations for future requirements as well as present needs.

"Flying, while now a demonstrated success, is but in its infancy and Los Angeles in its airport program should be foremost in providing adequate facilities."

With the co-operation of the Chamber of Commerce, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other organizations supporting the bond issue plans are being completed by Chairman Quinn for the final days of the campaign next week.

INSTRUCTIONS GIVEN FOR AIRPORT ELECTION

In the interest of efficiency in the handling of the election returns at the city special election on May 1, at which the $6,000,000 municipal airport bond issue will be voted on, City Clerk Dominguez has prepared for distribution to all precinct election officers printed instructions setting forth that all registered voters in Los Angeles are entitled to vote on the airport bond issue. The polling places and the precinct officers will be the same as those used the same day for the Presidential primary election.

The City Clerk pointed out that the procedure for the city special election is the same as for all municipal elections and is in strict accordance with the State election laws. The bond election ballots will be counted by the precinct officers and tallied, and the returns then will be brought to the City Clerk's office at Room 195, City Hall, where the returns as shown in the tally books will be totalled by the City Clerk.

AIR GROUPS TO WORK FOR BOND-ISSUE VICTORY

Following a talk by Councilman Hall in which he warned that the $6,000,000 airport bond issue may fail at the May 1 election on account of lack of time and funds for a campaign for it, and called on the aircraft industry for assistance, fifty members of the California Air Race Association, meeting last night at the Ambassador, pledged 500 volunteer workers for election-day duty for the measure. Co-operation also was pledged by allied organizations. D. E. McDaneld, president of the Southern California chapter of the National Aeronautical Association, announced a meeting of his organization next Friday to organize for the bond election and W. D. Waterman of the Professional Pilots' Association also announced a meeting next week for the same purpose.

In addition to the bond election, the meeting discussed plans for the national air races and international aeronautical exposition to be held here September 8 to 16.

NEW MILES STORY MAY FREE TRIO

Prosecutors Go to Bay City, Where Convict Will be Quizzed on Murder

Armed with information that a prisoner in the San Francisco County Jail can shed some light on the identity of those responsible for the fatal shooting of A. R. Miles, druggist, for which three men are serving life sentences in San Quentin penitentiary, Dep. Dist.-Attys. Menzies and Crail entrained last night for the northern city.

With the two deputies is Attorney William Kendrick, Jr., representing Phil Rohan, Mike Garvey and Harvey Lesher, now serving sentences in San Quentin, following conviction two months ago on charges of murdering the Jefferson-street druggist in an asserted holdup.

The local officials and Kendrick will stop at San Francisco to interview Harry Rosenfeld, an inmate of the San Francisco County Jail. Rosenfeld, however, said last night, according to dispatches, that he has nothing to say that will aid the deputies or counsel for the accused men.

"I was in the County Jail on the night of that murder," Rosenfeld is quoted as saying, "and I heard a lot of talk among the prisoners. But I don't know anything about it.

"They questioned me at that time and the attorney for these men is merely trying to get some excuse to free his clients. They are trying to make me the goat."

Rosenfeld was arrested in San Francisco two years ago on a robbery charge. He jumped bail of $10,000 and last October was arrested in Los Angeles on another robbery charge. He was acquitted of that accusation but three weeks ago was arrested again and taken to San Francisco to face the old charge of robbery.

The defendants' counsel has appealed the murder verdict to the Court of Appeal and it is understood that Atty.-Gen. Webb has refused to file the necessary briefs in opposition to the appeal.

NEW RUMOR ON SHIPYARD DEAL

Los Angeles Company to Sell or Reorganize

Eastern Concerns Reported as Negotiating

Official Denial Entered by High Official

Despite denials, reports continue that the sale or reorganization of the Los Angeles Shipbuilding and Drydock Corporation is imminent. It is known that high officials of at least one shipbuilding firm with plants on both coasts have been seen frequently in the last few days at the Los Angeles plant, while the Sun Shipbuilding Company of Chester, Pa., also has been mentioned as a possible interested party.

Frank P. Flint, former United States Senator and president of the company, returned from the East a week ago to deny all reports and then returned east again, only to have the rumors linked up with his trip.

The yards are doing well financially, and have for years, although they have had to carry the burden of several affiliated companies. They occupy one of the most favored leases on city land in the harbor district, which has many years yet to run, and they possess a wealth of valuable equipment. During the present month the yard will start work on new craft or complete repair jobs totaling more than $350,000. In war time the plant turned out many dozen steel freighters, many of which have been chosen for Dieselization because of their superior construction.

SUMMER CRUISES TO ENSENADA RESUMED

The Admiral liner Emma Alexander sailed for Ensenada at 10 p.m. yesterday entirely sold out with 300 passengers aboard on the first of its summer cruises to the Mexican resort. More than 200 were American Legionnaires of various posts in Southern California and their families. Also aboard were H. P. Alexander, president of the Pacific Steamship Company which operates the Admiral Line; E. Grant McMicken, passenger traffic manager, and R. B. Schuften, assistant general passenger agent; Assistant Chief of Police Spellman and Judges Wilson and Stafford. The liner will return to its Wilmington dock early the 23rd inst. and sail at 11 a.m. for the North Pacific. President Alexander announced that the Admiral Line flagship, H. F. Alexander, will arrive May 11 to open its seasonal run between here, San Francisco and Seattle. As in past seasons the liner will arrive Friday mornings and sail north that night.

"K" line's steamer Tyne Maru, due Wednesday, will initiate her new trans-Pacific service by picking up the greatest oil cargo ever taken by a general cargo out of here. It comprises 12,000 drums of lubricating oil, 60,000 cases of refined oil and just to fill in the cracks and give her a capacity load out of Los Angeles, she will take 500 tons of general merchandise. She will sail for the Orient four days later.

Another ship on her first trip here for General Steamship Corporation is the Italian steamer Recca of the Libera Line, due from the Mediterranean today with 1500 tons of pipe, marble and miscellaneous merchandise and nine passengers. General also had in the Swedish motor liner Tisnaren from the north yesterday to embark passengers and load 3000 tons of cargo, sailing for Australia tomorrow.

The Lasco flagship City of Los Angeles, out this noon for Hawaii, will carry 225 passengers, more than 100 of whom comprise families of naval officers, now en route to Honolulu for summer maneuvers. Fifty-three other travelers are booked on an all-inclusive tour for a trip through the islands. Stanley Sinclair of the Lasco's city passenger office, will have charge of the de luxe cruise party, the first this spring. William Wray and four radio entertainers of station KFWB will augment the ship's orchestra.

Passengers include Richard and Isabelle Ingalese, authors and chemists; Edward A. Wootton, Hawaiian banker; John W. Schenck, Los Angeles banker; John George, Jr., Michigan publisher, and Harry Webb, retired mining engineer of Santa Barbara. The honeymoon cabin is for Hugh J. Twohig, Iowa merchant, and bride, the former Mrs. Mary Ellen Sheehy of Los Angeles. Twohig flew from Sioux City for the wedding Thursday.

The steamer Diamond Head of the same line is due from the islands Monday on her second trip in the service, bringing freight and six passengers in the new cabins with which the ship has just been fitted.

The Mexican steel tanker Argyle, which suffered $8000 damage to her port side when struck by the wooden lumber schooner Svea here two days ago, sailed for Santa Rosalia yesterday and on her return will go to a local shipyard for repairs.

Her engines broken down, the tuna tender Prospector was towed in from Magdalena Bay yesterday by the motor tender John Heston, for repairs. She was picked up adrift at sea March 31 by the steamer Chatanooga City and escorted to Magdalena Bay.

Bucking a heavy sea whipped up by strong winds a day off port, the Panama Mail motor liner, City of Panama put in from Central America late yesterday afternoon with fifty-two passengers and several hundred tons of coffee and tomatoes. She departed north last night.

Dr. W. L. MacBeth's race by auto to San Diego and thence to sea by the Coast Guard patrol boat No. 260, probably has saved the life of A. M. Van Elder, first assistant engineer on the tanker Mojave. He became critically ill several hundred miles south, when a radio from the ship asked medical aid. Dr. MacBeth reached the tanker 250 miles south Thursday and so relieved the patient, an operation was delayed until the ship reached here today.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

NEGROES BUY COUNTRY CLUB

All Races, Creeds, Colors Invited as Members

Hope to Create Heaven for Clean Sportsmanship

Rocky Career of Exclusive Resort Takes New Turn

RIVERSIDE, April 20.—The troubled affairs of palatial Park Ridge Country Club entered upon a new era today when a negro syndicate took possession of the valuable property.

Coincident with assuming possession of the luxurious clubhouse and the extensive golf links which for several months were a gathering place for social leaders of Riverside and Corona, J. W. White, the colored syndicate's attorney, issued a lengthy written statement. In it he extended an invitation to "all persons, regardless of race, color, creed or denomination," to join the formerly exclusive social organization.

"No one shall ever be rejected from the club," the attorney's statement read, "as long as his deportment is fairly decent, although we do not hope to find saints among men.

"In the field of sport and recreation in America, as well as abroad, in all our travels we have found and still find that races of people have gotten along fairly well, so why not at Park Ridge? Let's try to make a heaven of clean sports and clean recreation instead of a monument to hell."

The Park Ridge club was organized by Dan Gilkey of Long Beach. After hundreds of memberships had been sold the financial tangle in the club's affairs necessitated its closing and charges of attempt to defraud were filed in the Riverside Superior Court against Gilkey. He later was acquitted. Attorney T. T. Fortous in the meantime had been appointed receiver. Several weeks ago he resigned, declaring it was hopeless to attempt to make the club a going concern. The artistic clubhouse stands on a sightly knoll just north of Corona.

More Funds to Kill Squirrels

VENTURA, April 20.—An additional $3000 was granted A. H. Call, county horticultural commissioner, by the Board of Supervisors this morning, to be spent in completing the squirrel-poisoning program.

The poison used is a thallium compound, a rare chemical produced largely in Germany. Only 700 pounds are produced in the United States annually. The chemical is mixed with barley grain in a ratio of 1-100, and the grain thus mixed is distributed in little cones on top of the ground in badly infested districts. Death has been found to result painlessly in twelve to seventy-two hours.

Mr. Call told the board that the process has been found to be 95 per cent successful. The grain is distributed under an agreement with the individual ranchers, who agree to pay for the work within sixty days of its completion, so that the county simply carries the rancher for that period.

In some instances coyotes and a few dogs have been found to have been killed by eating the poisoned squirrels, but this is infrequent, Mr. Call said.

MAN DEMANDS THAT WIFE SUPPORT HIM

LONG BEACH, April 20.—H. T. Wallace, Long Beach man, today filed a plea in the Long Beach branch of the Superior Court that his wife, Freda B. Wallace, be made to maintain and support him.

"Defendant is an able-bodied woman and has entire control of the community property herein before mentioned and is capable of making some provision for the support and maintenance of the plaintiff," the complaint declares.

Wallace, who asserts in the complaint that he is in poor health and cannot work, sets forth that there are funds on deposit in a Long Beach bank in the name of Freda Wallace which are community property. The Wallaces were married at Santa Ana in 1906. Attorney Fred C. Allen represents the plaintiff.

GOOD FISHING AT BEACH NEAR BALBOA

BALBOA, April 20.—The first good run of fish this season has brought out scores of anglers with their old tackle boxes and fishing lines.

Large catches of corbina game fish are being hooked from the pier and spot fin croaker from the waters of the bay, it is reported by fishing supply stores.

One of the best catches was that taken by Henry B. Wright of this city, in hooking seven corbina from the pier. The croaker being pulled in at the bay average about four pounds, it was said.

NEW FISH HATCHERY SITE SELECTED

Foothill Angling Devotees Recommend Sycamore Flats

AZUSA, April 20.—Cycamore Flats, located about a quarter of a mile below Coldbrook Camp in San Gabriel Canyon, is the location selected for a proposed fish hatchery, S. E. Ekidmore, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, announced today. The site takes in about five acres of rolling land and was chosen yesterday by executives of San Gabriel River Chapter, Izaak Walton League, and a committee from the Chamber of Commerce.

George Clarkson, representative of Southern California on the State Fish and Game Commission, notified the local chamber last week that the commission had decided on two fish hatcheries for the Southland which would be installed at sites found suitable by the State board, Skidmore said. Yesterday the group of Walton League and Chamber of Commerce members made a survey of possible locations for the hatchery in the canyon and chose Sycamore Flats.

The next move will be Clarkson's approval of the site which will then be recommended to the State Commission for its final decision. The hatchery unit as planned, will produce 500,000 fish a year, which will abundantly stock the San Gabriel stream, it was said.

Glendora's interest in the hatchery being located in the San Gabrial Canyon, is evidenced by its co-operation with the local chamber. C. L. Nickle, president of the Walton League of Glendora, was a member of the surveying party and others of the league who made the trip were A. R. Powell, vice-president, and Leo Burner, secretary. Members of the Chamber of Commerce hatchery committee assisting the league in survey were Rodger Dalton, Mayor C. H. Howard, Dr. W. G. Wheatley and Mr. Skidmore. Other sportsmen from Glendora and Azusa who assisted in selecting the site were Cornelius Smith, Jack Calvert, E. L. Duff, Everitt La Petra, H. Reeve Dayling, Steeve Saunders, George Martin, N. E. Newman, Charles Wright and Frank Lyons.

MRS. BALDWIN ELECTED

Parent-Teacher Body Selects New Officers and Urges Ban on Sensationalism in Crime News

PASADENA, April 20.—Mrs. H. C. Baldwin of Alhambra was elected district president at the Parent-Teacher Association convention here this afternoon as spirited contests marked the balloting for new officials.

Mrs. Mary C. Bort of Long Beach; Mrs. D. L. Adams of Huntington Park, and Mrs. Charles Clifton of Centinela, were chosen as vice-presidents; Mrs. Wesley C. Cunningham of South Pasadena, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Franklin of Glendale, parliamentarian, and Mrs. M. S. Pottenger of Monrovia, historian.

Resolutions were passed asking the press of the nation to eliminate headlines tending to incite violence, and reduce to a minimum details of crime, particularly those involving the mutilation of the human body.

Music authorities contend that no intensive effort should be made to develop a child musically before the age of 10, according to Dr. Gertrude Laws, assistant State director of parental education, who spoke today.

Dr. Laws declared that no one can ascertain when the beginning of art achievement in the individual begins, but that it is clear that a varied experience is essential to a full development of art powers.

The speaker discussed the problem of leading the child's natural cravings into proper channels of endeavor and she stressed the importance of allowing full scope to a child's craving to "scribble" or "daub."

Art Patron of East on Visit

PASADENA, April 20.—Characterized as "one who knows art and who has presented paintings valued at $2,000,000 to the Metropolitan Museum of New York," V. Everit Macy, New York city capitalist, is inspecting art treasures in the Huntington Library and Art Gallery. He is a guest at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo, where he plans to remain for several days.

Mr. Macy, like the late Henry E. Huntington, is said to be devoting a large fortune to the encouragement of arts and to the collection of famous works.

He is a member of the board of trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The New York art patron is also interested in social welfare, and at the present time he is treasurer of the national child labor committee.

LETTUCE CROP READY

OWENSMOUTH, April 20.—Sawdey & Hunt, Los Angeles, are making preparations here to handle the early lettuce crop of the west end of San Fernando Valley, and now have a force at work making 25,000 crates. More than forty cars of lettuce will be shipped from here within the next thirty days, it is announced. Because of a large demand for lemons in the east, the Canoga Citrus Packing plant has a large force of hand pickers in the fields.

Journalists of Future in Annual Meet

WHITTIER, April 20.—Delegates and interested observers from more than 150 high schools of the Coast assembled here today for the annual Southern California high school press convention, the local high school being host. Miss Lorna McLean, editor-in-chief of the Whittier High School paper, the Cardinal and White, presided.

The convention with its many conferences lasted throughout the day. Among the speakers were J. R. Gabbert, editor of the Riverside Enterprise, who chose for his subject "A Constructive Criticism of School Publications;" Prof. Roy L. French of the University of Southern California, who gave a practical lesson in copy reading and head writing; W. M. Newman of the Los Angeles Polytechnic High School, who spoke in "The Organization of Journalism Classes;" J. P. Van Gruenigen of the Pasadena High School, telling how to "Check up on Reporters and Editors," and Miss Jessie A. Stromberger of the Fairfax High School, Los Angeles spoke on "High School Publicity by Journalism Students." The Journalism Teachers' Association of Southern California held an interesting conference.

Auto Thrills Prove Costly

UPLAND, April 20.—What price thrills? Thirty-five dollars, according to Judge George R. Crane today, who backed up his assertion by imposing such a fine on Sydney Samuels of Los Angeles, arrested by County Traffic Officer F. J. Freeman on a reckless-driving charge east of Upland on Foothill Boulevard. Samuels told the judge he was giving a boy and two girl friends a few "thrills" by his driving on the boulevard.

Traffic Officer Freeman charged Samuels with driving his roadster forty and fifty miles per hour across dangerous intersections and weaving his car in and out of heavy traffic.

MAN HURLED THROUGH WINDSHIELD OF AUTO

GLENDALE, April 20. — Hurled through the windshield of the car in which he was riding when it collided with a trolley pole on North Brand Boulevard at 4 o'clock this morning, Kneeland Parker, 339 1-2 North Brand Boulevard, had to have twenty-four stitches taken in his head and face when he was taken to the Glendale medical group by Patrolman J. H. Carter. George W. Mollahan, 306 North Central avenue, said to be the driver of the car, was also slightly injured and was arrested by Carter on charges of driving while intoxicated. Bail was fixed at $1000 after Dr. E. M. Miller, city health officer, had examined Mollahan and pronounced him intoxicated. The roadster in which they were riding was wrecked.

KIWANIS CLUB IS FORMED AT PALMDALE

PALMDALE, April 20.—A new Kiwanis Club has been organized here, starting with forty-five charter members. Friday will be the regular meeting and luncheon day. The new club is the thirteenth in Division Three and the one hundred and eighteenth in the California-Nevada district. At the organization meeting, Kiwanians from Lancaster, Tujunga, Glendale, San Fernando, Owenamouth and Van Nuys were present and made short talks.

WATER RIGHT CASES SET IN KERN COUNTY

BAKERSFIELD, April 20.—Scene of battle between the City of Los Angeles and ranchers and landholders of the Owens Valley over water rights shifted to Kern county today when after verbal clashes between attorneys, Judge R. B. Lambert set three water right cases trial in the Superior Court here.

One of these cases, according to Attorney F. M. Bortiorff, representing the City of Los Angeles, may take three or four months for trial, and will necessitate the attendance of many of Los Angeles city officials and engineers in the city during the hearing. The other trials will be shorter.

The cases of N. M. Dodge and Mary Dodge and L. H. Dearborn and Mary R. Dearborn against Los Angeles, which have been consolidated, have been set for trial here on May 15. The case of Christianna G. G. Edwards against the City of Los Angeles, which case is expected to require from three to four months for trial, has not been set for hearing, but it will be heard in a Kern county court, according to the ruling of Judge Lambert today.

FRIENDSHIP OF MEXICO CITED

Prof. Douglass Lectures to Guadalajara Teachers

CLAREMONT, April 20.—Additional proof of the desire for friendly relations between the United States and Mexico was brought back yesterday when Prof. Aubrey A. Douglass, chairman of the department of education at Pomona College, returned from a ten-days' stay at Guadalajara, Jallsco, Mex.

Dr. Douglass delivered a series of lectures on educational subjects before school teachers and educators in the city of Guadalajara. During the course of his stay he was feted extensively by the authorities of the city and was an official guest of the State of Jallsco.

Called upon to speak before groups of Mexicans Dr. Douglass declares that he found such groups as the Rotary Club, the American Club, and in fact every group of educated Mexicans to be extremely anxious that cordial relations be set up between this country and Mexico. They all want Americans to know and to understand the problems of Mexico, he said.

Dr. Douglass took time during his visit to study the public school system of the State. He reports that there are several excellent private schools in the city as well as the public-school system, which he declares to be of high quality. Manuel Martinez Valadez, director of elementary education for the State of Jalisco, assisted Dr. Douglass in this work. Douglass found that State officials are vitally interested in the major problem confronting Mexico at the present time, that of educating the so-called peon classes. Valadez is reported as having declared that great strides are being taken with the establishment of rural schools. Nearly 400 have been established in the agricultural districts in the last four years. Most of these have been created by private donation.

"Every once," Valadez was quoted as saying, "has any land owner, or manager of an industrial concern, refused a request for money to create a district school and the majority of the donor have given generously."

Endeavorers in Session

LONG BEACH, April 20.—More than 3000 delegates to the annual convention of the Los Angeles county Christian Endeavor Society were here today for the opening sessions of the conclave, which will come to a close Sunday night. The delegates were welcomed by Mayor Hauge and Ralph Rambo of this city, president of the county organization. Sessions are being held at the First Christian Church, Fifth street and Locust avenue.

Dr. A. V. Kimmell, pastor of the Second Church of the Brethern, Los Angeles, was the principal speaker at tonight's session. Tomorrow's program will include group meetings in various rooms in the church with business sessions in the church auditorium, where prominent religious leaders of the county will be the speakers.

PLAN FLOOD SURVEY FOR HAINES CANYON

TUJUNGA, April 20.—Following a conference between Tujunga City Councilman W. T. Hamilton and Chief Engineer Eaton of the County Flood Control Department a personal inspection of Haines Canyon was made, preliminary to ordering a survey to determine the best means of controlling storm waters from the canyon.

Eaton said the survey would start within ten days. There is about $100 000 in the county flood-control fund for the work, some of which already has been used. The next step in the work will be to build a settling basin at the mouth of the canyon to catch sand and gravel that is brought down by heavy storms. This will leave clear water to be handled through the storm drain or whatever other device is to be employed to carry the water away.

BANKER PROMOTED

VAN NUYS, April 20.—E. J. Zeman, escrow officer of the Van Nuys branch of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, has been promoted to take charge of the Long Beach branch of the bank. He will leave here on May 1, next.

GARDEN EXHIBIT WINS PRIZE

Sawtelle Orchids Given Sweepstakes

Prize-Winning Entry at Pasadena Flower Show

PASADENA, April 20.—First prize in the garden-club class in the annual spring flower show which is being held here in a tent pitched on the municipal auditorium site was awarded today to the Diggers Garden Club of Pasadena. The Diggers club entered a miniature English cottage, thatched with straw and surrounded by old-fashioned garden blooms.

The grand sweepstake prize, a gold medal, was awarded to Armacost and Royston of Sawtelle for a display of orchids said to be valued at $25,000.

Other first prizes in the various classes were won by: Mrs. W. L. Stewart, potted plant collection; Mrs. Anita M. Baldwin, cut flowers; Mrs. W. W. Oates, German iris; Mrs. J. J. Mansar, roses, twelve varieties; Mrs. W. P. Herbert, roses, six varieties; Mrs. Edward P. McMurtry, basket of thirty-six roses, and George Dulin, iris collection. The exhibition will close at 10 p.m. tomorrow.

CITY IS OFFERED MISSION PROPERTY

SANTA BARBARA, April 20.—Santa Barbara has been offered the seven-acre vacant plot of ground in front of the old mission for $37,500 with five or six years to pay for it without interest on deferred payments.

The mission fathers some time ago agreed to turn over this site to the community for a park, provided the debt of $75,000 still remaining on the old structure for the reconstruction is lifted. Since that time private subscribers have agreed to donate $37,500 on condition that the other $37,500 be raised.

The mission fathers passed the matter on to the City Council yesterday by officially offering to give title to the city to the entire piece of property if the city will agree to pay the last $37,500.

John Edwards has agreed to erect and donate two tennis courts on the site if the city takes it over. The City Council postponed action on the proposal until some future date, members of the Council voicing the wish that the public give expression upon the matter.

WIFE BLOCKS MAN'S SUICIDE ATTEMPT

BURBANK, April 20.—The asserted third attempt of Elmer Ellsworth Juckett, 24 years of age, to commit suicide by inhaling gas was foiled today when his wife returned from a visit to a neighbor's home and detected the odor of gas from the bathroom at their home, 416 North Cedar street.

Summoning help she forced the door open and found her husband lying in the bathtub unconscious, his head resting on a pillow and his Bible clasped in his hands. The inhalator squad of the Burbank Fire Department, assisted by Dr. David Thompson, worked for half an hour before Juckett regained consciousness.

His action was attributed to despondency caused by lack of employment. Besides his wife, the family included two small children. Juckett was later transferred to the General Hospital for treatment.

THIEVES ACTIVE IN ONTARIO DISTRICT

ONTARIO, April 20.—Continuing a series of robberies that has kept local police busy it was discovered today that late last night or early this morning bandits had ransacked the Delta garage at 216 East A street.

The Ontario Planing and Manufacturing Company, Main street and Sultana avenue, was broken into the night before. Entrance to the Delta garage was made through the skylight. A window was smashed in the planing mill as means of entry. The planing mill of which N. A. Godsave is owner, has been entered on several occasions within recent months. At one time a large number of the company's blank checks were stolen and a futile effort made to pass them.

BOOSTER GROUP TO GATHER AT PERRIS

PERRIS, April 20.—The April session of the Riverside Chamber of Commerce will be held here at the Belvedere Hotel on Tuesday, the 24th inst. The Chamber of Commerce here will be host for the day and Frank L. Miller, president of the county chamber, will be chairman.

The entertainment program during the luncheon will be in charge of Charles Foss, president of the local chamber, after which Mr. Miller will preside at a short business meeting. The concluding feature will be a short program by the history and landmarks committee under direction of J. O. Percival of Hemet.

NEW FOREST NURSERY IS DESIGNATED

Reforestation Will be Pushed in Sierra Range, Supervisor Announces

GLENDORA, April 20.—In a reforestation movement in the Angeles National Forest under the supervision of Spence Turner of the county forestry department, 100 acres in Tan Bark flats, San Dimas Canyon, has been given over to the county by the government for an experiment station, according to Arthur Shay, district ranger here.

Four miles of road extending from the west fork of San Dimas Canyon to the flats, will be constructed at an approximate cost of $15,000, it was said. Work will start on the road immediately and a crew of twenty men is now preparing the nursery site, according to Shay. The road will not be open to the public, as it is being constructed only for the use of rangers in charge of the nursery, officials say.

Heretofore the young trees have been transplanted from nurseries in Altadena and elsewhere, and the change of climate stunts their growth to a certain extent for the first few years, it was said. Turner's objective in installing mountain nurseries is to promote healthier trees and speedier growth, by transplanting them in the same soil from which they were grown.

McGroarty and Mrs. Dorsey to Give Addresses

GLENDALE, April 20.—The names of John Steven McGroarty, poet of the Verdugo Hills, and of Mrs. Susan B. Dorsey, superintendent of Los Angeles city schools, were added today to the list of speakers who will take part in the unveiling ceremonies of the American Green Cross monument.

The monument will be unveiled by R. B. Von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California, after an address of welcome by Councilman C. E. Kimlin, president of the local chapter. George H. Barnes of Los Angeles, national president of the Green Cross, will outline the aims and objects of the organization. The part of the churches in the reforestation movement will be told by Rev. W. R. Edmonds, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church.

A feature of the ceremonies will be a parade of Glendale school children, 7500 in number, who will deposit various kinds of branches at the foot of the monument, to signify their enlistment in the campaign to preserve the nation's forests.

CUCAMONGA, April 20.—The will of the late Richard T. Milliken, pioneer in building up this community, filed in San Bernardino county Superior Court, leaves the major portion of the $75,000 estate to Ashie May Milliken, his sister.

La Mancha ranch of Cucamonga comprises the bulk of the estate. The estate was turned over to Miss Milliken this week through Superior Court order. Richard Milliken had never married. Included in the Milliken estate are valuable real-estate holdings of city property in Oakland and Emeryville, Cal.

CEREMONIES AT AIRPORT

Variety of Flying Craft Will be Exhibited at Fullerton Field Today

FULLERTON, April 20.—Formal dedication of the Fullerton municipal airport will be an outstanding feature of the big field day program planned for tomorrow. Howard A. Krause is chairman of the aeronautical committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the event.

Mayor Bert Annin, assisted by "Miss Fullerton," Miss Ada Williams, will officiate at the dedication, which will include the raising of a flag with appropriate ceremonies.

Many planes representing a wide variety of models will be at the field for exhibition and passenger-carrying purposes. Included in the group are the tri-motored Ford-Maddux plane, the tri-motored Fokker of the Western Air Express, the Zenith Albatross from Midway City near Santa Ana, Ryan brougham from the Ryan Aircraft Corporation at San Diego and many other late model ships.

The Fullerton airport contains eighty acres and has a 2900-foot runway in the direction of the prevailing winds. It has been leased by the city to the Chamber of Commerce, which organization will take charge of all activities there.

PAGEANT OPENS AT HEMET

Sixth Annual Presentation of Historic "Ramona" Romance Starts; Six Performances Scheduled

HEMET, April 20.—Motor pilgrims from all parts of California arrived here today for the opening presentation of the sixth annual Ramona pageant, scheduled for 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Ramona bowl near this city.

Advance reservations, heaviest in the history of the pageant, point to a record opening-day crowd for the most pretentious of historical and romantic dramas staged in the open air in California.

Garnet Holme, director of the play since its inception, has carefully timed the episodes in the performance so that its tragic climax, the passing from glory of the red-man, will occur just at sunset, a novel feature of the play that has contributed greatly to its fame as a scenic spectacle.

One of the most striking features will be the singing of the Zuni Indian sunrise song, "Invocation to the Sun," by James H. Childs, in the role of an Indian chief, from a towering rock high up the canyon wall in the outdoor amphitheater. Childs is widely known for appearances in opera and musical comedy.

Dorise Schukow, in the title role of Ramona, and Victor Jory, as her ill-fated Indian lover, Alessandro, who have scored great success in the leading romantic roles in past years, will be on hand for the opening performance. The drama will be repeated Sunday and on the afternoons of the 26th and 29th inst., and May 5 and 6, each performance starting at 3 p.m.

MERMAID MYTHS OF SUPERSTITIOUS FOLK

Many are the tales and yarns told and written about mermaids, mythical beings supposed to exist in the sea, having the form of a woman above the waist and that of a fish below. The mermaids, mythology tells us, have great personal charms with which they are fond of seducing amorous men to their destruction in the deep.

Of course, there are no real mermaids. The myth is a survival of medieval fancy which no doubt grew out of the fear of the ocean. Possibly the tales originally had a slight physical basis. There are certain marine animals which resemble human beings when seen at a distance in certain attitudes.

In some of the northern regions seals have a way of lifting their heads from the water with a human, intelligent look in their faces. Frequently the females are seen hugging their babies to their breasts much like a human mother. Walruses seem dimly at a distance give a similar effect.

The dugongs or seacows of East Africa also resemble persons when viewed at a distance. In the same class may be included the manatees which have many of the characteristics of the dugongs. These animals stand up in weedy shallows along the coast and nurse their young at the breast. The fertile imagination of seafaring people probably invented many of the mermaid stories to amuse their children. Among the natives these human-like inhabitants of the sea are held in awe. They may be regarded as the nearest approach to a real mermaid in nature.—[Pathfinder.
